

SITUATION OVERVIEW

The start of the traditional spring fighting season has caused significant population movements in the Northern and Western regions, specifically in Badakhshan, Bagdhis and Kunduz provinces. Smaller scale conflict displacement has however also been recorded in Baghlan, Farah, Faryab, Ghor, Herat, Jawzjan and Sar-e-pul.

BADGHIS and FARYAB

KUNDUZ and BAGHLAN

18,355 family petitions* received from 6 districts in Kunduz Province. Around 800 families reportedly remain displaced in Baghlan Province.

Around 100 families reportedly remain displaced in Dahana-e-Ghori district. Assessments are pending due to access constraints.

9,990 families have been assessed in Kunduz city, out of which 3,844 were identified as genuine IDPs and needing assistance. 3,128 families in inaccessible areas were referred to ICRC/ARCS for assessment.

Response is ongoing in Kunduz city and 3,000 families have been assisted. Assistance is provided by WFP (food), UNHCR (NFI), UNICEF (Hygiene kits). IDPs in Baghlan have been referred to ARCS and ICRC.

BADAKHSHAN

Around 1,200 families reportedly displaced in Jorm. 56 IDP families from Kunduz district are reportedly in Fayzabad.

About 1,200 families signaled by the Government as displaced within Jorm. Figures to be confirmed and believed to be much lower by the assessment teams. Humanitarian access to several areas of Jorm district currently hindered by security situation.

Assessments are ongoing in Fayzabad and Jorm. Earlier inter-agency assessments verified 256 families in Baharak and 218 families in Jorm displaced from Baharak Zorm and Warduj districts.
