27th Session of the Human Rights Council, September 2014

Item 8 General Debate

Joint statement by International Lesbian and Gay Association, International Service for Human Rights, Article 19-International Centre Against Censorship, International Federation for Human Rights Leagues

Delivered by Andrés Ignacio Rivera Duarte

Thank you Mr. President.

I am honored to make this statement on behalf of the international NGO ILGA.

At the last human rights council we made a statement under this item,⁵ joined by 13 co-sponsoring NGOs and endorsed by over 500 organizations from more than 100 countries.⁶ In that statement we reminded this council of the violence and discrimination faced by persons because of their sexual orientation and gender identity. We also noted the positive developments in all regions to tackle such violations, and called on this council to also play its part.

We pointed out that these human rights violations are systemic and require systemic responses and that this council must adopt a resolution to ensure regular reporting, constructive dialogue and sustained, systematic attention to the breadth of human rights violations on these grounds.

And so we are grateful that in this council, the governments of Brazil, Chile, Colombia and Uruguay have filed a draft proposal on "Human Rights, Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity".

This Council must adopt this resolution. It calls simply for regular reporting on discriminatory laws and practices and acts of violence against individuals based on these grounds with a view to sharing good practices and ways to overcome this. This resolution provides an opportunity to have the constructive dialogue on this issue that this council so desperately needs.

As you – State representatives – deliberate, negotiate and eventually vote here in Geneva, it is easy to forget that you are talking about the real human rights of tens, if not hundreds, of millions of people around the world who face the threat of violence and discrimination on these grounds. We are from all cultures, all countries, all faiths and all classes. Many in this room are amongst their number, sitting behind a State or other nameplate.

Voting against this resolution, or seeking to defeat it by abstaining or amending it out of recognition, sends a message that the human rights of these people do not count and are not even worthy of discussion by the world's human rights body. If you vote in favour you are voting for constructive dialogue and the principle that all people are born free and equal in dignity and rights.

Joint statement by the International Lesbian and Gay Association, Association for Women's Rights in Development (AWID), Amnesty International, IPAS, Humanist Institute for Co-operation with Developing Countries, Federative van Nederlandse Verenigingen tot Integratie Van Homoseksualiteit-COC Nederland, International Federation for Human Rights Leagues, Consorcio Boliviano de Juventudes – Casa de la Juventud, United Association of the United Nations States of America, Women's Global Network for Reproductive Rights, International Service for Human Rights, Article 19-International Centre Against Censorship, Human Rights Watch, Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative¹

26th session of the Human Rights Council, June 2014

delivered by Lame Charmaine Olebile

Thank you Mr. President.

I am honored to make this statement on behalf of the international NGO ILGA² and 13 co-sponsoring NGOs. It is endorsed by over 500 organizations from more than 100 countries: from Australia to Zimbabwe, from St Lucia to Samoa, from Uruguay to Uganda.

Three years ago, this Council adopted its first resolution on sexual orientation, gender identity and human rights. Around the world however, members of our communities still face violence and discrimination because of our sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or intersex status.

For many, these issues are inextricably linked to broader issues of gender equality, autonomy over our bodies and lives, sexual and reproductive health and rights, as well as multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination on the basis of factors such as class, poverty, occupation as sex workers, religion, race, HIV status and disability.

In too many countries, we face severe human right violations - we are criminalized including under colonial-era laws, we face the death penalty, we are murdered, lesbians are subject to rape and forced marriage; intersex people face genetic de-selection, infanticide, coerced sterilization and genital mutilation; transgender persons are demeaned and beaten, subjected to pathologisation and sterilization, their identities often unrecognized by States.

We are denied health care or needed treatment; we routinely face discrimination in work, housing and education. In many countries, our work as human rights defenders is opposed, obstructed or banned. Our rights to peacefully gather are often denied, while attempts are made to silence our voices.

There are also positive developments in all regions of the world. We welcome, for example, the recent adoption by the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights of a historic resolution on the "Protection Against Violence and other Human Rights Violations Against Persons on the Basis of their Real or Imputed Sexual Orientation or Gender Identity" and the adoption by the Organization of American States just this month of its resolution on "Human Rights, Sexual Orientation, and Gender Identity and Expression".

The Human Rights Council must also play its part. These violations are systemic, and require systemic responses. The Council must adopt a resolution to ensure regular reporting, constructive dialogue and sustained, systematic attention to the breadth of human rights violations on these grounds.

As UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon stated to the Council at its March 2012 panel: "The Time has Come".

Thank you.

 $^{^{\}rm 1}$ This statement is endorsed by 500 NGO's, see list attached.
