Q3: How do I cover the school fees?

Education in Lebanon is compulsory. Parent’s association fees should be paid, if you cannot afford the cost of stationary and Parent Committee fee, you should ask a partner organisation(see Annex A) to cover these expenses for you. If you decide to enrol your children in private schools, you will have to cover all expenses.

Q4: My child is 3-18 years old and is not in school. What are the available options for education in Lebanon?

Both the Lebanese Government and various organisations are providing education options for refugees in Lebanon. Based on their eligibility, children between 6 and 14 years old can enrol in public schools.

For students who have already passed grade 6 they can also resume their academic education or enrol in secondary or technical schools.

Other options include Community Based Education, Accelerated Learning Programmes and catch up programmes. Please contact local education organisations for more information.

Humanitarian Assistance Card (also called UN Electronic Card or Blue Card)

Q1: Who is the World Food Programme (WFP)?

World Food Programme (WFP) is an organisation of the United Nations specialized in fighting hunger all over the world and it is the largest humanitarian relief organisation. In 2012, WFP launched its response in Lebanon to support displaced people from Syria with the aim of improving the food security of the most affected families by this crisis. WFP will continue to provide food assistance through a system of the “UN Electronic Card”. It is a card dedicated to offer humanitarian assistance to the people displaced from Syria who meet the standards set by the United Nations organisations and registered on the list of people who are benefiting. This method will give the people who are benefiting the freedom to choose the food items which meets their daily expectations and in times that suits them.

Q2: What is the objective of UN Electronic Card?

Currently, the UN Electronic Card helps to support the Syrian families most in need living in Lebanon to be able to afford basic food items which meet their basic necessities. This card contributes to improve the nutritional status of these families. In the future we might be able to use the same card to cover their other needs.

The Electronic Card is an effective modality in terms of cost and efficiency in delivering the assistance as well as supporting the local economy. Above all, this card will allow families to buy and cook food by themselves based on their food preferences and according to their desires.

Q8: Where can I use the card?

The UN electronic card is not accepted in all shops. You can only use the card in shops contracted with WFP. You can contact WFP staff or its partners for the list of the nearby shops.

Those shops were selected by WFP because it covers the minimum requirements, such as the quantity, availability and prices of food commodities. This programme will allow us to monitor the shops and to make sure that they are abiding the rules.

Q9: What are the required documents to bring when you use the card?

The cardholder has to show his UN electronic card along with the UNHCR certificate that belongs to him and his family. The UNHCR case number printed on the card should be matching with UNHCR certificate. After using the card a receipt will be printed stating the value of your purchases and the person who is benefiting has to sign the merchant copy receipt.

Q10: Can anyone in the family use the card?

Yes. In case if the name of the head of family is registered on the certificate, any family member who is at least 18 years old and registered on the UNHCR certificate can go to the shop and use the card. They should show the original certificate to match its case number with the number on the UN electronic card. The person who is benefiting will not be able to use the card without showing the original certificate.

Q11: What are the commodities that you are allowed to buy using the UN Electronic card?

The loaded balance on the card is restricted for the purchase of food commodities. You can use card balance to buy any food item. Noting that for the time being you are not allowed to use this card to buy non-food items such as cleaning supplies, kitchen tools or plastic stuff. It is totally forbidden to use the card for buying alcohol and cigarettes.

On regular basis we will be monitoring shops, purchases and families in order to keep certain standards.

Warning

- It is the benefiting person’s responsibility to check and confirm the expiry date of any food item and to make sure that it is in a good condition.
- In case the value of the purchases is greater than the available balance on the card, you can add some money from your pocket but you are not allowed to cash out the card in case your purchases had a value less than the card balance.
- Pay attention to your card expiry date and to the magnetic strip to avoid any damages.
- Do not forget to bring your card and UNHCR certificate whenever you go to the shop.
- At any given time you can approach any selected retailer by WFP to make a balance inquiry free of charge.

During the implementation of the project, WFP staff and its partners will be available at the shops to assist you. They will also be doing house visits of people who are benefiting to ensure the efficiency of the electronic card’s use and its impact on the nutritional status of families and to monitor and evaluate the number of people who are benefiting from this assistance. Please deal with them politely and answer their questions honestly and transparently so that we can continue to serve you in the best way.

Safety Net Assistance

Q14: Why is only my wife and/or children, father, mother, etc. included and not the whole family?

Some individuals are considered more nutritionally in need than others and humanitarian actors such as WFP & its partners aim to ensure that these individuals have sufficient access to food.

Q17: My family has put in an appeal to be re-included – what happens if they are successful?

If a given family appeals and is re-included in distributions, then the individual safety net ration will cease and be replaced by the re-inclusion of the full family ration entitlement under the Humanitarian Assistance Card (Electronic or blue card) programme. There is currently no system in place for you to appeal, as there is an internal referral of those found to be most in need. However, UNHCR and WFP are working on a “request for review” system that will give you access to request the review of your case.

Q18: I have members in my family that fit these conditions, what should I do?

You have to call the WFP partner hotline in your area to request inclusion of individuals in your family that fit the condition for this assistance. For those over 60, and children under 2: bring your UNHCR registration certificate to confirm. For pregnant and lactating women you should have a doctor certificate (plus a copy) to confirm the pregnancy. The certificate should mention the name, date of the visit, expected date of delivery, months of pregnancy, date of birth and the doctor’s stamp and signature. An Echo photo, a prescription letter, and laboratory test with no pregnancy certificate will not be accepted.

Also any request for pregnant women, who have not been pregnant for at least 3 months, is ignored.

For non-autonomous people you have to provide the details and our staff will come and visit you at your accommodation. You will need a medical certificate that states that the person who is benefiting is permanently non-autonomous (who needs assistance with basic needs). If the individual is temporarily non-autonomous, a date of the end of the disability should be stated on the medical certificate.

Q19: If I get these documents, when will the person that fits the condition be included?

Once you have the status confirmed, the individual will be included in the next electronic card distribution cycle.

Q20: What if the pregnant woman carries twins?

She (you if the woman is asking) will get 30$ per month on the electronic card as long as she/you is/are pregnant and when she/you deliver(s), the babies will get each 30$ per month on the electronic card as long as they are registered with UNHCR, until they reach 2 years of age.

Q21: What if the woman gets pregnant again within two years?

The woman must bring a medical certificate from the doctor with the expected date of delivery of the new pregnancy and she/you will continue to be included for an individual ration (30$ on electronic card). The request will be valid if the pregnancy is at least three months old (see question above on documents needed).

Q22: What if the woman is pregnant and lactating? Would she/I receive twice the ration?

No. However, you will receive the assistance for the longest case of vulnerability. Under no circumstance can a person receive more than one individual assistance value. A pregnant woman would receive assistance until one month after the delivery date; a lactating woman receives assistance until her child is 2 years old; in case the two vulnerabilities are combined, the pregnant and lactating woman will receive whichever of these two types of assistance lasts the longest.

Annex C - How to use food vouchers in order to ensure a balanced diet and good health

Ensuring a balanced and nutritious diet can be done through:

- Consuming bread or starches such as rice, pasta, potatoes or burgul on for each meal
- Eating fruits and vegetables on an average of 5 servings a day
- Eating meat, fish, eggs or beans (chickpeas, lentils, broadbeans, kidney beans ...) once or twice a day
- Eating milk and dairy products such as yogurt, labneh, and cheese twice or three times per day
- Avoiding large amounts of sugar, salt, fats and oil.

Smart Shopping:

- Think about the out of stock food items that you want to prepare, and make a list of the food items you will need before going to the shop.
- Use food vouchers for items you need, and avoid food spoilage in case of lack of storage materials.
- Avoid buying large quantities of one food type, be sure to purchase a variety of foods for a balanced diet.
- Buy foods that you can use and at a low price.
- Compare the types of food and the names/brands and buy the cheaper ones in order to have the possibility of buying other products.
- Plan before you shop in order to save money and time.
- Do not shop food listed under "prohibited": Alcohol, tobacco, and non-food articles.

Hygiene for food safety:

- Wash fruits and vegetables with safe water before eating
- Store milk products, meat and fish in the fridge and in case of non-availability of a fridge buy a small amount of food only
- Do not put cooked food on the table for more than two hours
- Store leftovers in covered containers and put them in the fridge if available

The good practice of food safety is very important to avoid diseases caused by spoiled food!

Q1: Why am I not receiving the food electronic card?

WFP and UNHCR decided, based on a combination of factors including age, family composition and other circumstances impacting your ability to support yourself and your family, to determine who should receive food and essential hygiene and baby items. I have not made this decision. I do not know anything about your particular case.

Q2: I heard that Syrian families received assistance until November 2013, what changed?

WFP and UNHCR will give food assistance only to those registered Syrian refugees who are found to be most in need and not to all registered refugees as before.

Q3: Why will the assistance be given to some and not to all as before?

Using the limited financial resources in a cost-effective manner is an obligation for all humanitarian organisations. WFP and UNHCR are giving priority to ensure the limited resources available reach those who need support. Assistance should reach those who cannot manage their own needs and will be given temporarily, until they can sustain themselves.

Q4: What is the point of registration now?

It is important that you register with UNHCR and that you renew your registration certificate before it expires, so you can have access to other services that UNHCR and partner organisations offer inside Lebanon.

Depending on the availability and the services available in each location and region, registered refugees will continue to receive health care at reduced costs, free vaccinations for your children, free legal counseling, free psycho-social activities and free access to community development centres activities

(computer, language and other courses) in addition to information on education opportunities. Clean water supplies, sanitation and shelter support (material and rehabilitation works) are also provided for some families based on needs and on available financial resources.

Q6: Who is receiving assistance and who is not?

Only registered refugees who are found to be most in need are receiving temporary assistance depending on financial resources availability. UNHCR, WFP and partner organisations have carried out a careful review of vulnerabilities and special needs among refugees in order to determine who will and who will not continue benefiting from the same levels of assistance. WFP and UNHCR have decided, based on a combination of factors including age, family composition and other circumstances impacting your ability to support yourself and your family, to determine who should receive food.

Q7: I have heard that if I am pregnant I will still get food vouchers, is that true?

Yes. Even if your family no longer receives assistance, you can still request individual assistance for children under two, pregnant and breast-feeding women, people over 60 years of age and people who need physical assistance or support with daily basic activities, such as access to sanitation and hygiene assistance. Call the hotlines mentioned in Annex 1 in order to apply (look for organisations supporting ‘safety net’).

Q8: If you don't have enough resources, why don't you just assist everyone with at least a minimum?

Not all refugee families have equal capacities and equal resources; some families are able to meet their basic survival needs, and some are not. To assist everyone equally would do harm to families that have no way to meet their own needs, while families who have the capacity to meet their needs would receive assistance that they can do without.

Q9: If I pay someone money, will this help me get included?

No. Do not believe anyone who tells you they can help you get included if you pay. Money will not speed up your appeal process and it will not guarantee that you will receive assistance. UNHCR and WFP services are always free of charge.

Q10: How can I find out if I will receive a foodelectronic card?

UNHCR and WFP have launched an SMS system where every refugee family will be able to know if they will receive food. All families found to be eligible have been informed by SMS. If you have not received an SMS, please ensure that your number is updated with UNHCR. See Annex B for details on how to do this.

Q11: How is the food being provided?

Food assistance is provided by WFP through electronic food cards (also called Humanitarian Assistance Cards or Blue Cards) that some registered refugees can use in specific markets stores and shops in order to buy food. WFP will maintain the current level of $30 per person per month as long as resources are available. You can buy any kind of food with the exception of alcohol and cigarettes. Please do not put pressure on the shop staff to provide you with these items or to give you cash in return as this is an illegal operation.

Q12: I was informed that I am not included and my family cannot support itself. I would like my situation to be reviewed?

WFP and UNHCR are working to ensure that refugees who may have urgent needs and who are currently not eligible to receive food (through the Blue Card) can be visited at their homes to verify their situation. WFP and UNHCR or their partners will contact you directly if this happens.

Annex A – Humanitarian organisations..... 82

Q1: I just arrived in Lebanon. What assistance will I be able to receive and how?

Newly arrived refugees can receive assistance from humanitarian organisations (mainly blankets, mattresses, a kitchen set and hygiene items) as a one-off assistance before they register. In order to receive this assistance, you need to contact the humanitarian organisation operating in your area of residence (See Annex A).

Q2: Do I have to be registered with UNHCR in order to receive any household items?

A one-off assistance is provided by humanitarian organisations to assist newcomers regardless of whether they are registered or not.

However, if you are registered with UNHCR you may become eligible for other types of assistance depending on the need and the available financial resources.

Q3: What do I need to do to receive these items?

Go to the humanitarian organisation providing assistance in the area where you are staying. The municipality will give you their contact details and the humanitarian organisation will then come and assess your needs. If they believe that you are found to be in need, they should try to assist you appropriately. All assistance is provided free of charge. You may also want to ask your neighbours in your community.

Q4: Can I receive clothes?

Humanitarian organisations providing assistance to newcomers will provide you with basic household items like blankets, mattresses and a kitchen set for your family. Only few humanitarian organisations provide actual clothing or vouchers to purchase clothes if they consider you to be in need. All assistance is provided free of charge.

Q5: What are the items included in the hygiene supplies kit?

The hygiene kit should contain toilet paper, toothbrushes, toothpaste, soap, detergent, sanitary napkins, combs, shampoo, 2 towels, 2 buckets with lids, a laundry line and garbage bags. This is the standard package provided only for newly arrived refugees and returnees entering Lebanon, also called “newcomers”.

There are also humanitarian organisations who may be distributing vouchers or cash for household items instead.

Q7: Does every baby get baby supplies? Only once or more often?

Baby supplies (diapers and detergent) are distributed to each child under the age of two. Newcomer families receive this assistance as one-off before they register with UNHCR. Once they register, some (NOT ALL) families with children under the age of two may receive baby supplies on a monthly basis. Modality of assistance may vary as well (cash or vouchers).

Q10: My family did not get any assistance (household items or food) when we arrived, and we have been in Lebanon formore than a month. Can we get this assistance now?

Newcomer assistance (basic household items like, blankets, mattresses and a kitchen set) is meant to be distributed during the first month of arrival only.

In case you have been in Lebanon for more than 30 days, humanitarian organisations will only assist you if they find that you are still in need after they have visited your home.

Q11: Is there any other assistance we could receive at any time?

If you are found to be most in need and living in difficult shelter conditions, you could be identified to receive additional ad-hoc assistance after an assessment based on your needs is conducted by humanitarian organizations.

However, please be aware that most of this additional assistance is for refugees or asylum seekers registered with UNHCR.

Registration

Q1: Why is it important to register if I do not get assistance afterwards?

Even if you are not receiving food and other assistance (e.g. hygiene, shelter items) UNHCR registration certificate allows you to access services including health care at reduced costs, free vaccinations for your children, free legal counseling, free psycho-social activities and free access to community development centres activities (computer, language and other courses) in addition to information on education opportunities. Clean water supplies, sanitation and shelter support (material and rehabilitation works) are also provided for some families based on needs and on available financial resources.

It will also allow UNHCR and partners to know you and your family and be able to reach you and send you information.

Q2: What is the purpose of the UNHCR registration document?

The UNHCR Registration Certificate (“UN Paper”) includes your family members’ pictures, dates /places of birth and a file number.

- It is not a replacement for the residency permit issued by the Lebanese authorities/General Security Office(GSO)
- It is not a formal identification document
- It is valid for two years and should be renewed at the UNHCR registration centre in the area where you live (See question 7).

Q5: I'm a Palestine refugee. Do I need to register with UNHCR?

No, UNHCR does not record Palestine Refugees as they do not fall under their mandate. You can record your details with UNRWA once you have been in Lebanon for 14 days; however, you can access UNRWA health care centres and schools as soon as you arrive. UNHCR registers Syrian refugees, so if any members of your family are Syrian, they should approach UNHCR offices for details of registration.

Q10: When do I have to renew my registration?

If you registered before July 2013, the UNHCR Registration Certificate is valid for one year; if you registered after July 2013, it is valid for two years. The date of expiry is at the centre left and right side of your registration certificate(“UN Paper”).You should get a renewal appointment one month before the registration expires. The expiry date is written on your certificate.If your Certificate is expired, you will not be able to access services and assistance.

Lebanese Returnees Registration

Q28: I am a Lebanese returnee. Do I need to register to obtain assistance?

If you are a Lebanese citizen who has lived as a resident in Syria since 2006 or earlier and returned to Lebanon after March 2011 (as a result of the crisis), you should approach a local authority (municipality or SDC) and ask them to refer your case to the High Relief Commission (HRC), the Lebanese government body tasked with providing humanitarian assistance to Lebanese returnees. Alternatively, you may approach the HRC headquarters in Beirut directly (Address: STARCO Centre, Block C, 8th Floor, Omar Al Daouk Street, Minet El-Hosn, Beirut; Tel.: 76-042080).

Lebanese Returnees Assistance

Q29: I am a Lebanese returnee, am I eligible for assistance?

As Lebanese citizens, returnees are eligible for assistance and services provided by government entities, including the Ministry of Social Affairs' Social Development Centres (SDCs), which are located across the country. At SDCs, returnees can benefit from a range of services, including healthcare, psycho-social support, daycare facilities and elementary training. At SDCs, returnees may also apply to become people who are benefiting of the government's National Poverty Targeting Programme, which provides assistance to the poorest Lebanese citizens. Some international organisations are also providing assistance to Lebanese returnees. In order to make yourself known to these organisations, please present your situation at a local municipality and ask to be referred to the High Relief Commission, the government entity responsible for coordinating assistance to Lebanese returnees.

Resettlement

Q32: How can I leave Lebanon for another country with the help of UNHCR?

Please do not approach UNHCR to arrange your travel abroad. UNHCR does not provide such services.

Some countries offer opportunities to a very small number of the most in need refugees registered with UNHCR to leave Lebanon through resettlement or Humanitarian Admission Programme (HAP). Although UNHCR participates in the selection process of these most in need refugees, the hosting countries take the final decision on who is accepted.

UNHCR offices do not accept applications. UNHCR will contact you if you are considered for any of these programmes.

Civil Documentation/ Birth

Q41 a: Why is it important to register the birth of my child?

It is very important for your children that you register their birth.

Without an official birth certificate you may not be able to prove the nationality of your child and obtain a Syrian ID. Your child may later have problems in Syria to access healthcare and education.

It is important to take immediate action. After one year birth registration is more complicated and requires a Court procedure.

Community-based activities/Community Centres and SDCs

Q54: We were used to be active back home in Syria. Now we are idle and remain in our houses all the time. What can we do?

MOSA, UNHCR, UNICEF and other organisations have set up more than 28 community development centres around Lebanon. These centres provide a range of activities everyone can benefit from. There you can acquire new skills, surf the internet, meet new people and get information about existing services. Soon several Social Development Centres will also be equipped with medical staff, including for immunization and pediatric services, and in some centres safe spaces for women and friendly spaces for children will be strengthened. Everyone should feel safe and welcome at these centres: women, children, adolescents, youth and older persons. They are open to all refugees, Lebanese returnees and the local population.

Q62: I entered Lebanon through an official border¹ but I was not able to renew my residence on time, how does theGOL decision apply to me?

Currently, you have two choices: a) Exit Lebanon through an official border without paying the fines for overstaying your residence; or b) go to the GSO near your residence to regularize your status without paying the fines for overstaying your residence.

If you exit Lebanon through an official border:

You should not pay the fines usually requested from Syrians who did not renew the residence on time (200USD per year of overstay per person above 15 years of age).

①The GOL may issue you a re-entry ban of usually 6 months. According to information received, not everybody receives a re-entry ban and bans can be shorter or longer than 6 months.

If you go to the GSO near your residence:

You should not pay the fines usually requested from Syrians who did not renew the residence on time (200USD per year of overstay per person above 15 years of age).

Your residency should be “reset” to as if you entered for the first time. This means you should receive a temporary stay of 6 months. After the 6 months period, you should be able to renew for another 6 months free of charge.

①Please be aware that the exemption from the fines is applicable only to those whose residence expired before 21 August and were not able to renew it.

Q3: Why is the PHC holding medication or giving them to me for a price when the health brochures say that medication is for free?

The clinic receives medication if they are within the essential medicine's list of the Ministry of Public Health of Lebanon (MOPH); consult with the physician to prescribe these medications. The medications are provided for free if they are provided by MOPH or any humanitarian organization.

Only acute medications are covered. Hypertension, cardiovascular, diabetes medication, etc. are not covered. If the PHC is a partner of YMCA, then they should be able to provide you with such medication.

Q4: Why did UNHCR refuse my case?

UNHCR covers 75% of hospital costs for emergency cases needing immediate hospitalization as well as deliveries at contracted hospitals. UNHCR must be informed upon admission via its partner GlobeMed Lebanon. If you need more information on hospitalization and need to know which hospitals are contracted, call 01 518111 or refer to the UNHCR Health Brochure.

Your case might not receive UNHCR approval if it is not considered as life-threatening.

Q7: Am I eligible for secondary health care assistance? And where can I be covered?

Through its implementing partner GlobeMed Lebanon, UNHCR is assisting registered Syrians refugees with the coverage of hospitalization fees for:

- Emergency/life-saving medical and obstetrical cases
- Pregnant women for deliveries and obstetrical cases
- Neonatology care for newborns

Coverage is done only at one of GlobeMed’s referral hospitals (See Annex B for list of contracted hospitals).

- In case of emergency you must go to the emergency department of the closest hospital to your home where you will be assessed and granted approval for admission if necessary
- You will be asked to pay 25% of the hospital fees
- Transfusion and prosthesis fees will not be covered by GlobeMed.

Q8: If I cannot afford to pay the 25%, or if I was refused by UNHCR, are there other associations that can assist me?

In Saida region you may have access to additional assistance at:

- Islamic relief: may assist Lebanese returnees from Syria
- Caritas Lebanon Migrant Centre (CLMC): may assist registered and unregistered Syrians in covering totally or partially the 25% and the rejected cases. You should contact CLMC and visit the centre having your identification documents and medical reports. CLMC opens you a file, and reviews the case before any approval. Q9: Why may I not be eligible for secondary health care assistance by UNHCR?

There are many cases that were identified as being highly expensive or not very urgent and are not covered by UNHCR:

- High cost treatments
- Final stage cancer – oncology cases in need of chemotherapy
- Work accidents where employer is liable to cover hospital expenses
- Long term treatments: chronic hemodialysis
- Thalassemia
- Organ transplants
- Plastic surgeries
- Infertility treatments

UNHCR emergency approval is strictly for immediate life-saving cases. All other cases are likely not eligible for coverage.

Q10: If I am not registered with UNHCR and I need health assistance, where can I go?

To be eligible for continuous medical assistance and especially in case of emergency, you are encouraged to register at the nearest UNHCR registration centre to your residency as soon as possible. But if you are unregistered and you need medical assistance:

For Primary Health care: You are eligible for assistance only once at one of the PHC supported by UNHCR partners, then for further benefits you must register.

For secondary health care: If your case is urgent, you will be covered for 48 hours by UNHCR at 75% and your registration fast tracked. Once you are registered, the same conditions will apply for you as for registered refugees.

If you don't want to register or you were not eligible for registration at the UNHCR office, you could be assisted at some PHC centres having their own programme and fund for assistance; as for hospitalization, you may refer to the UNHCR Health Brochure and look for hospitals near your residence.

Q11: How can hospital expenses be covered? Shall I pay the fees directly and will I be reimbursed? Or will UNHCR and or other organizations, who approved my coverage, manage directly with the hospital?

In case you had a pre-approval on the coverage of hospital expenses, the assisting humanitarian organizations are responsible to deal directly with hospitals for payment procedure. You will be asked to cover only the remaining amount that was not covered by any of the parties.

Q12: What are the primary health services supported by the International Medical Corps (IMC)?

IMC provides primary health care consultations at discounted rate of 3000 – 5000LL for all refugees and it includes General Practitioners (GP), pediatrics and OB/GYN. Some speciality consultations may also be covered depending on physician availability at each centre. Additionally, IMC provides support for diagnostic tests coverage for children under 5 years, pregnant women, elderly above 60 years old and disabled persons. Highly vulnerable cases may also be considered. All refugee patients are able to receive medication, health education and referral.

Q40: My baby is less than 5 years old and looks very thin. What should I do?

Go to one of the Primary Health Care Centres (PHC) supported by UNHCR and other humanitarian organisations.

Currently, the full list of the supported PHC in Lebanon can only be found in the UNHCR Health Brochure available in all UNHCR registration centres and in other locations (humanitarian organisations, community development centres, etc).

Go to the PHCs in the area where you live and ask to take your child's measurements to check for acute malnutrition. You can also call the PHC to ensure the centres are open and the doctors are available. If your child was found to be malnourished, he/she will be treated. (See Annex C to refer to PHC)

Q44: I am a pregnant woman (high-risk pregnancy/never visited the gynecologist during my pregnancy). How could you help me?

Ask for assistance in the PHC in order to be assessed by a nurse. During your pregnancy you should be monitored by a gynecologist and several services should be provided (including: consultations, echos, lab tests, micronutrients distribution, and education).

Note that several other PHCs nationwide can be approached for health care for pregnant women, often at subsidized rates.

Q46: I need formula milk for my newborn baby, and I cannot afford buying it. Can you provide us with formula milk?

Breast-milk is the optimal feeding for your newborn instead of formula milk. For this reason, we do not distribute formula milk, but we can help by referring you to a lactation specialist who can assess your breastfeeding status and help you re-lactate in order to provide the best feeding to your baby. Ask the PHC.

Q1: I have heard that some humanitarian organisations organize activities for women and girls. Where can I find them?

Humanitarian organizations have established centres and spaces where women and girls can gather and share experiences and stories, spend time with other women and girls and learn new things. In many areas, humanitarian organisations organize activities outside the centres (mobile). All women and girls, independently from their nationality can participate in the activities organized in these centres. To know where are the nearest activities please call the hotlines in your region (See annex A for Tripoli- B for Akkar-C for Bekaa-D for South).

Q2: What services/activities can I find in these centres?

These spaces for women and girls offer a variety of services, including skills training and life skills activities, listening and counseling, group support and recreational activities. Depending on the needs expressed, personnel working in these centres can also put you in touch with other organisations providing medical and legal assistance, or other forms of more specialized assistance. All activities for women and girls are dealt with respecting the choices of each individual and with a non-discriminatory and non-judgmental attitude.

Q7: What can I do if I come across women who are survivors of violence?

The most important thing is to help survivors of violence is always to maintain confidentiality and not to share their stories with other persons – this may harm them. There are specialized organisations that can provide support to women and girls who have experienced violence. What you can do to help, is respect and not judge the person and be aware of the numbers of the specialized organisations in each area to be shared if approached by a survivor.

Annex A – Shelter Organisations’ hotlines 170

Islamic Relief Worldwide (IRW) 170

Q1: I just arrived from Syria and I need a place to stay, who can help me?

Current capacity is very limited, and only few families found to be most in need will receive “a place to stay” from organisations (see Annex A for shelter organisations’ hotlines); more families will instead receive some other type of support once they have found a place to stay on their own.

Q4: What kind of shelter support do organisations provide?

There are different kinds of support from different organisations (see Annex A for shelter organisations’hotlines). They may provide you temporary shelter or room in a building or they may relocate you to a collective shelter or assist you with different kind of shelter supplies.

Q5: Will I automatically receive the assistance upon arrival?

Not necessarily, and probably not very quickly. It depends on organisations’ conditions and procedures and the rapidity of response/assistance also depends on the capacity of the shelter partner. In general those found to be most in need are the most urgent to be assisted. If you have just arrived to Lebanon you should contact the nearest organisation for specific support: different organisations for registration, hygienic supplies, and shelter.

Q9: Is anyone going to share the shelter with me?

Possibly, it depends on your family size and composition, and on the shelter available. Humanitarian organisations try to give a family a space to themselves whenever possible, taking into consideration your family privacy and safety. Most likely you will be asked to share toilets and bathrooms, and kitchens.

Q11: What are the contents of the weatherproofing supplies? And the new arrival/full shelter supplies?

Shelter supplies consist of Timber, Plywood, Tarpaulin, clear plastic sheeting and box of tools to fix the shelter/settlement. The quantity provided is enough to support existing tents.

Shelter supplies for new arrivals in Lebanon consist of exactly the same items as weather-proofing but the quantity is enough to set up temporary shelter.

Q12: We have water and sanitation issues? What kind of assistance do you provide?

If you live in an 'informal settlement':

- Water trucking, water supply from boreholes and municipality connections
- Water treatment through supply of aquatabs, water filters and water testing

In sanitation we construct toilets, distribute hygiene supplies and Baby supplies, garbage bins and support municipality in garbage collection services.

Q2: What types of training opportunities exist to learn new skills?

UNHCR and other humanitarian organizations have set up a network of livelihood and community development centres across Lebanon (see Annex A for livelihood centres and Annex B for community development centres under protection Sector). These centres offer a wide range of skill building activities. This includes English, computer, financial literacy, hairdressing, beadwork, block printing, sewing, first aid, etc. You can also suggest that specific training be carried out at these centres. These centres can also run information sessions on the right to work and other issues of interest to you.

Livelihood centres offer advanced activities for income-generation, while community centres are limited to basic life-skills and awareness sessions.

Q9: Why is all the assistance going to refugees?

A lot of the humanitarian assistance also benefits Lebanese and host communities. 252 Community Support Projects (CSP) have been implemented since 2011 to support host communities. Host communities also benefit from assistance rehabilitating schools, water network, or shelters. In total, it is estimated that 25% of the humanitarian assistance benefits host communities. Moreover, most in need Lebanese have access to assistance provided by the government, primarily through the National Poverty Targeting Programme.

WASH

Q1: What is WASH?

Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) is the support provided to populations in distress, including water supply, sanitation facilities and hygiene promotion. WASH activities aim to reduce the spread of infectious diseases, such as diarrhea or other diseases relating to water sanitation and poor hygienic conditions or practices.

Q2: What are the characteristics of the water supply?

Water supply should be:

- Available and accessible to all
- Provide an adequate amount for you and your family
- Be located in a safe place

Local conditions affect the amount of water that can be made available and WASH agencies should provide you with information about availabilities and possibilities.

Q3: What else is part of WASH?

Other aspects of WASH include:

- The work of community hygiene promoters
- The safe disposal of rubbish
- The provision of drainage
- Operation and maintenance of water and sanitation infrastructure
- All aspects of WASH require involvement of the population in the planning, installation and long term operation and maintenance. Your views should be sought by the WASH agency when siting facilities.

Q4: What is a WASH Service Provider or Agency?

A WASH Service provider is the agency/NGO that is assisting the local community and/or refugees and Lebanese to:

- Have access to safe water, safe and dignified latrines, showers, laundry spaces and safe means of solid waste disposal.
- Ensure some hygiene support through training local volunteers on hygiene issues.
- Support the community for ongoing operation and maintenance of WASH infrastructure.

Q10: Who is responsible for my solid waste/garbage collection?

In Lebanon the local Municipality is responsible for garbage collection. If this is not happening your WASH service provider can help set up regular collections. You must ensure that your garbage is piled in a single safe location, agreed by the Municipality, for easy and quick collection.

If the Municipality is unable to help collect then your WASH service provider will be able to support your community to dispose of the solid waste safely by providing training and materials.

Q13: Can anyone be a hygiene promotion volunteer?

Volunteers should:

- Live in the Informal Settlements/ Collective Shelters and use the WASH facilities
- Have sufficient time to spend representing and mobilizing the community
- Be trusted by community
- Not plan to move on in the next couple of months
- Be representative of different groups/ WASH facility users (including women and vulnerable groups)
- Dynamic, active, motivated and able to motivate others
- Dependable and approachable
- Communicate effectively with their community and the WASH service provider,
- Have the required technical skills for the position ie. Maintenance or Hygiene Promotion depending on the specifications of the volunteer position
- Be willing to volunteer for a certain period
- Be a good role model

Q14: Is hygiene promotion only giving information to beneficiaries through structured sessions?

Hygiene Promotion is more than giving messages on healthy behaviours to beneficiaries:

Participatory methods that focus on interaction with the affected community are often the most successful in achieving changes in practice. However, there is a trade-off between outreach and effectiveness and the more participatory approaches are often time consuming and labour intensive whereas the dissemination of messages via the mass media will reach more people, more quickly, but may be less effective in achieving the desired outcomes.

Q15: What are the Key Hygiene Promotion Messages for Acute Watery Diarrhea?

Message 1: Drink safe water: before drinking water, treat it: use chlorine, boil it.

Message 2: Clean your hands – rub off dirt from both hands before you eat or put anything into your mouth.

Message 3: Replace liquid lost in diarrhea or vomit (Oral Rehydration Salts ORS)

Message 4: Seek treatment as soon as possible in medical facilities (Up to 80% of cases can be successfully treated with ORS)

Q17: What do I do if my child has diarrhea?

Ensure your child is getting plenty of fluids to remain hydrated. A child with diarrhea should receive oral rehydration salts (ORS). This can be made at home or bought at a local pharmacy.

Don't stop breastfeeding your baby if they have diarrhea. Breastfeeding is the best way to keep your baby hydrated. Contact your nearest available medical centre.

Q19: Behavioural change takes a long time, will hygiene promotion be effective in an emergency situation?

Contrary to popular belief, changes in practices or behaviour do not always take a long time to occur and even short-term changes can be important where the risks to public health are high. If change is enabled it can happen very quickly e.g. if hand washing facilities are provided to make it easier to wash hands. If people feel themselves to be at risk then they are also more likely to change their behaviour quickly.

Q20: What is the role of a community WASH volunteer?

Role and responsibilities of Community WASH Volunteers
The community should be involved in devising and agreeing the roles and responsibilities of committee members, but recommended tasks include:

- Reporting:
 - Cases of WASH/ vector related disease including diarrhoea, lice and scabies.
 - Special needs - people with disabilities (elderly, physical disability) in need of adapted WASH facilities
- Monitoring of WASH facilities and their usage by community (cleanliness, requirement for deluding, availability of water, damage of facilities,
- Feedback to WASH service provider on hygiene practices, especially those of children (Hand-washing at key times, open defecation), need for replenishment of latrine cleaning supplies/sanitation supplies
- Conducting small repairs: minor leaks, tap repair
- Supporting health and hygiene promotion teams and Collective Site Management agencies organise and carry out awareness raising activities
