

OVERVIEW

The Refugee Relief and Repatriation Commissioner (RRRC) launched on 4 October 2017 a family counting exercise, with the support of UNHCR. A joint team of over 100 staff is collecting information on newly arrived refugee families and issuing them a card delivered by Bangladeshi authorities with a unique identifier number. The family counting helps to identify vulnerabilities and specific needs among the refugee population and to harmonize assistance. It will also be a useful baseline data for site planning, for instance on density per locations. The RRRC and UNHCR are planning to count an estimated 145,000 new arrival families.

KEY FIGURES

Areas covered (as of 4 November)

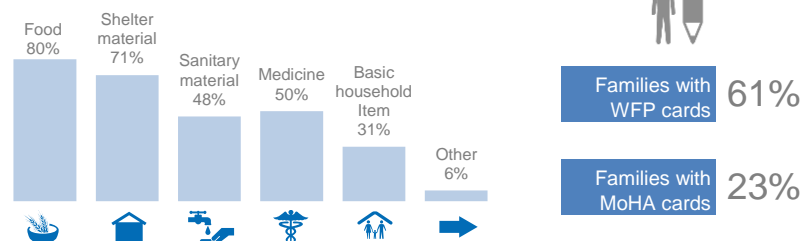

Total number of enumerators: 117
Average number of families interviewed daily per enumerator: 46

Breakdown of identified vulnerabilities*

*Figures are the percentage of total families with at least one person in the family with the specific need. More than one specific need may be present within one family

Assistance received

Figures are as self-reported by refugees and may not reflect actual assistance distributed