II. RESOLUTIONS AND DECISIONS ADOPTED BY THE SUB-COMMISSION AT ITS FIFTY-THIRD SESSION

A. Resolutions

2001/1. Recognition of responsibility and reparation for massive and flagrant violations of human rights which constitute crimes against humanity and which took place during the period of slavery, of colonialism and wars of conquest

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Referring to its decision 2000/114, and drawing the attention of the international community to the cases of massive and flagrant violations of human rights which should be considered as crimes against humanity and which have, to date, benefited from impunity, in spite of the tragic suffering which slavery, colonialism and wars of conquest have inflicted on numerous peoples in the world,

Considering that it is not possible to combat racism and racial discrimination, struggle against impunity or denounce the human rights violations which persist in the world without taking account of the deep wounds of the past,

Considering also that, in the framework of the World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance, it is necessary that the international community should consider the causes and consequences of those ills which, historically, have been brought about largely by slavery, colonialism and wars of conquest,

Considering further that the historic responsibility of the relevant Powers towards the peoples whom they colonized or reduced to slavery should be the subject of solemn and formal recognition and reparation,

Recalling that this responsibility is all the more well-founded since the periods of slavery and colonialism have brought about a state of economic collapse in the countries concerned, serious consequences in the social fabric and other tragedies which continue even today to affect entire peoples throughout the world,

Considering that the solemn and formal recognition of this historic responsibility towards the peoples concerned should include a concrete and material aspect such as rehabilitation of the dignity of the peoples affected, active cooperation in development not limited to existing measures of development assistance, debt cancellation, implementation of the "Tobin tax", technology transfers for the benefit of the peoples concerned and progressive restoration of cultural objects accompanied by the means to ensure their effective protection,

Considering that it is essential that the implementation of reparation should effectively benefit peoples, notably their most disadvantaged groups, with special attention being paid to the realization of their economic, social and cultural rights,

Convinced that such recognition and reparation will constitute the beginning of a process that will foster the institution of an indispensable dialogue between peoples whom history has put in conflict for the achievement of a world of understanding, tolerance and peace,

1. Requests all the countries concerned to take initiatives which would assist, notably through debate on the basis of accurate information, in the raising of public awareness of the disastrous consequences of periods of slavery and colonialism;
2. Requests that a process of reflection should be initiated, in a concerted fashion, on appropriate procedures for guaranteeing the implementation of the present resolution;
3. Decides to continue its consideration of the question at its fifty-fourth session.

*9th meeting
6 August 2001*

[Adopted unanimously. See chap. IV.]

2001/2. Promotion of the realization of the right to drinking water and sanitation

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Reaffirming the indivisibility, interdependence and interrelated nature of economic, social and cultural rights and civil and political rights,

Mindful that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights and a wide range of other texts provide unequivocally that all persons are entitled to the full realization of economic, social and cultural rights,

Taking note of the Declaration on the Right to Development (General Assembly resolution 41/128 of 4 December 1986, annex),

Recalling that in part I, paragraph 10, of the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action (A/CONF.157/23), the World Conference on Human Rights reaffirmed the right to development as a universal and inalienable right and an integral part of human rights, and urged States and the international community to promote effective international cooperation for the realization of the right to development and the elimination of obstacles to development,

Taking account of the results of the World Summit for Social Development, held in Copenhagen from 6 to 12 March 1995, especially the recommendations in its Programme of Action (A/CONF.166/9, resolution 1, annex II) concerning the United Nations system to strengthen United Nations operational activities for development in order to ensure the implementation of the World Summit outcome, as well as the United Nations system's capacity for gathering and analysing information and development indicators of social development, taking into account the work carried out by different countries, in particular by developing countries (para. 99 (e)),

Recalling resolutions I (Assessment of water resources), II (Community water supply), III (Agricultural water use), IV (Research and development of industrial technologies), VIII (Institutional arrangements for international cooperation in the water sector) and IX (Financing arrangements for international cooperation in the water sector) adopted at the United Nations Water Conference held in Mar del Plata, Argentina, from 14 to 25 March 1977,

Taking particular account of the International Drinking Water Supply and Sanitation Decade (1981-1990) and the celebration, on 22 March of each year, of the World Day for Water, proclaimed by the General Assembly in its resolutions 35/18 of 10 November 1980 and 47/193 of 22 December 1992, respectively,

Bearing in mind the objectives of a “20:20”-type compact concerning in particular the access of all to drinking water supply and sanitation services, as stated in the Human Development Report 1994,

Recalling its resolution 1997/18 of 27 August 1997, in which it decided to entrust to Mr. El Hadji Guissé the task of drafting, without financial implications, a working paper on the question of the promotion of the realization of the right of access of everyone to drinking water supply and sanitation services,

Reaffirming the fundamental principles of equality, human dignity and social justice, and the right to drinking water supply and sanitation for every woman, man and child,

Convinced of the urgent and persistent need for increased attention and commitment by all decision makers to the right of everyone to drinking water supply and sanitation,

Bearing in mind the Protocol on Water and Health to the 1992 Convention on the Use of Transboundary Watercourses and International Lakes, adopted in London in 1999 under the auspices of the Economic Commission for Europe, which refers to the principle of equitable access to water, which should be provided for all members of the population (art. 5 (l)),

Bearing in mind also the principles of the Madeira Declaration on the sustainable management of water resources, adopted by the European Council on Environment Law on 17 April 1999, and the resolution on drinking water adopted by the Council on 28 April 2000,

Taking into consideration the working paper on the promotion of the realization of the right of everyone to access to drinking water supply and sanitation services prepared by Mr. El Hadji Guissé (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1998/7),

Also taking into consideration Commission on Human Rights resolution 2001/25 of 20 April 2001 on the right to food,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights decisions 1999/108 of 27 April 1999 and 2001/104 of 23 April 2001 on the right to drinking water supply and sanitation services,

Deeply concerned that more than one billion people in the world are still deprived of access to drinking water supply and that almost four billion are not living in decent conditions of sanitation,

1. Welcomes Mr. El Hadji Guissé's verbal update of his working paper on the right of everyone to drinking water supply and sanitation services (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1998/7);
2. Subscribes to the remarks of the expert to the effect that various obstacles linked to the realization of the right of everyone to drinking water supply and sanitation seriously impede the realization of economic, social and cultural rights, and that equality is an essential element for effective participation in the realization of the right to development and the right to a healthy environment;
3. Recommends that the Commission on Human Rights authorize the Sub-Commission to appoint Mr. El Hadji Guissé as Special Rapporteur to conduct a detailed study on the relationship between the enjoyment of economic, social and cultural rights and the promotion of the realization of the right to drinking water supply and sanitation, at the national and international levels, taking also into account questions related to the realization of the right to development, in order to determine the most effective means of reinforcing activities in this field;
4. Requests the Special Rapporteur to define as accurately and as fully as possible the content of the right to water in relation to other human rights;
5. Also requests the Special Rapporteur to submit to the Sub-Commission a preliminary report at its fifty-fourth session, a progress report at its fifty-fifth session and a final report at its fifty-sixth session;
6. Requests the Secretary-General to invite Governments, United Nations bodies, the specialized agencies and interested non-governmental organizations to provide the Special Rapporteur with information relevant to the preparation of his report;
7. Also requests the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteur with any assistance necessary to enable him to fulfil his mandate;
8. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

[For the text, see chap. I, draft decision 1]

17th meeting
10 August 2001
[Adopted without a vote. See chap. VI.]

2001/3. The effects of the working methods and activities of transnational corporations on the enjoyment of human rights

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling that, under the Charter of the United Nations, one of the purposes of the United Nations is to achieve international cooperation in solving international problems of an economic, social, cultural or humanitarian character, and in promoting and encouraging respect for human rights for all,

Reaffirming the Declaration on Social Progress and Development proclaimed by the General Assembly in its resolution 2542 (XXIV) of 11 December 1969, the Declaration and Programme of Action on the Establishment of a New International Economic Order proclaimed by the General Assembly in its resolutions 3201 (S-VI) and 3202 (S-VI) of 1 May 1974, the Charter of Economic Rights and Duties of States adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 3281 (XXIX) of 12 December 1974, the Declaration of the Principles of International Cultural Cooperation proclaimed by the General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization in 1966, General Assembly resolution 1803 (XVII) of 14 December 1962, entitled "Permanent sovereignty over natural resources", and General Assembly resolution 2625 (XXV) of 24 October 1970, entitled "Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Cooperation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations",

Mindful that, in the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action, the World Conference on Human Rights reaffirmed the right to development as a universal and inalienable right and an integral part of all fundamental human rights, reaffirmed that the human person was the central subject of development and underlined the need for a concerted effort to ensure recognition of economic, social and cultural rights at the national, regional and international levels,

Noting that lasting progress towards the implementation of the right to development requires effective development policies at the national level, as well as equitable economic relations and a favourable economic environment at the international level,

Deeply concerned at the preponderance of the transnational corporations in all spheres of life and at the impact of their activities and working methods on human rights,

Bearing in mind the Tripartite Declaration of Principles concerning Multinational Enterprises and Social Policy adopted by the Governing Body of the International Labour Organization in November 1977,

Recognizing that the activities of the various organizations in the United Nations system should be closely interrelated and that it is necessary to draw on all the efforts made in the various disciplines relating to the human person in order to promote all human rights effectively,

Recalling in particular its resolution 1998/8 of 20 August 1998,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights resolutions 1989/15 of 2 March 1989, 1990/17 and 1990/18 of 23 February 1990, 1991/13 of 22 February 1991, 1992/9 of 21 February 1992, 1993/12 of 26 February 1993, 1994/11 of 25 February 1994, 1995/13 of 25 February 1995, 1996/15 of 11 April 1996, 1997/9 of 3 April 1997, 1998/24 of 17 April 1998, 1998/72 of 22 April 1998, 1999/22 of 23 April 1999, 1999/79 of 28 April 1999, 2000/5 of 13 April 2000, 2000/82 of 26 April 2000, 2001/25 and 2001/27 of 20 April 2001, and 2001/32, 2001/33 and 2001/35 of 23 April 2001 concerning the right to development and economic, social and cultural rights,

Taking into account the background document (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1995/11), the report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1996/12 and Corr.1) submitted by the Secretary-General in accordance with its resolution 1995/31 of 24 August 1995, and the background document (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1998/6) prepared by Mr. El Hadji Guissé in accordance with its resolution 1997/11 concerning transnational corporations,

1. Thanks the Chairman of the sessional working group on the working methods and activities of transnational corporations, Mr. El Hadji Guissé, for his report on the third session of the working group (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/9);

2. Also thanks Mr. Asbjørn Eide and Mr. David Weissbrodt for the important work they have done and requests them to continue their research and submit their research documents to the working group and the Sub-Commission, taking into account the comments and contributions from experts and any other sources, particularly the specialized agencies of the United Nations system, including the International Labour Organization, the World Health Organization and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, so that a binding instrument can be drafted;

3. Supports the Declaration on the Right to Development and underlines the multidimensional, integrated and dynamic character of this right which favours a partnership for development and constitutes a relevant framework for international cooperation and national action aiming at universal and effective respect for all human rights in their universality, indivisibility and interdependence;

4. Decides to extend, for a three-year period, the mandate of the sessional working group of the Sub-Commission established to examine the working methods and activities of transnational corporations, so that it can fulfil its mandate, in particular:

(a) Examine, receive and gather information on the effects of the working methods and activities of transnational corporations on the enjoyment of economic, social and cultural rights and the right to development, as well as of civil and political rights;

(b) Compile a list of the various relevant instruments and norms concerning human rights and international cooperation that are applicable to transnational corporations;

(c) Contribute to the drafting of relevant norms concerning human rights and transnational corporations and other economic units whose activities have an impact on human rights;

(d) Analyse the possibility of establishing a monitoring mechanism in order to apply sanctions and obtain compensation for infringements committed and damage caused by transnational corporations, and contribute to the drafting of binding norms for that purpose;

(g) Request the secretariat to prepare each year a list of countries and transnational corporations, indicating, in United States dollars, their gross national product and financial turnover, respectively;

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Emphasizing the responsibility of Governments to ensure the realization of all human rights, including those to which the provision of such basic services is relevant,

Recognizing the potential human rights implications of liberalization of trade in services, including under the framework of the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS),

Acknowledging and emphasizing the entitlement of Governments to regulate to achieve legitimate policy objectives such as to ensure the availability, accessibility, acceptability and quality of basic services such as medical services, education services and other necessary social services,

Noting that in its General Comment 14 the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights defined the accessibility of a service as having four dimensions: non-discrimination, physical accessibility, economic accessibility and information accessibility,

1. Calls upon Governments and international economic policy forums actively to ensure that, in the formulation, interpretation and implementation of policies in relation to the liberalization of trade in services, the liberalization of trade in services does not negatively impact on the enjoyment of human rights by all persons, without discrimination;
2. Requests the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to submit a report on the human rights implications of liberalization of trade in services, particularly in the framework of the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS), to the Sub-Commission at its fifty-fourth session;

2001/5. Globalization and its impact on the full enjoyment of all human rights

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Guided by the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations and expressing in particular the need to achieve international cooperation in promoting and encouraging respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction,

Realizing that globalization is not merely an economic process but also has social, political, environmental, cultural and legal dimensions which have an impact on the full enjoyment of all human rights,

Reaffirming that, as declared in article 28 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in the Universal Declaration can be fully realized and that, as declared in article 25, paragraph 1, everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the full realization of economic, social and cultural rights,

Stressing that the progressive realization of the rights enshrined in the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights is a binding obligation upon States parties,

Emphasizing the undertaking contained in article 2, paragraph 1, of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights requiring each State party to cooperate internationally with a view to achieving progressively the full realization of the rights recognized in the Covenant,

Recalling that the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action confirmed that the promotion and protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms is the first responsibility of Governments and that the human person is the central subject of development,

Considering that attention to the human rights obligations of Governments participating in international economic policy formulation will help to ensure socially just outcomes in the formulation, interpretation and implementation of those policies,

Welcoming the participation of the World Trade Organization, the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank in its discussions and hoping for their continued participation in such dialogue,

Noting with appreciation the ongoing work of the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the Special Rapporteur on adequate housing as a component of the right to an adequate standard of living, the Special Rapporteur on the right to food, the Special Rapporteur on the effects of structural adjustment and foreign debt on the full enjoyment of human rights, particularly economic, social and cultural rights, the independent expert on the right to development and other special procedures of the Commission on Human Rights in addressing the human rights implications of globalization,

Also noting with appreciation the ongoing work of the International Labour Office Governing Body Working Party on the Social Dimension of Globalization,

Concerned about the impact of liberalization of trade in agricultural products upon the promotion and protection of the right to food for members of vulnerable communities,

Wishing to highlight the relevance and importance of addressing human rights obligations in the formulation and periodic review of national Poverty Reduction Strategy Papers,

1. Welcomes the progress report submitted by Mr. J. Oloka-Onyango and Ms. Deepika Udagama on globalization and its impact on the full enjoyment of human rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/10);
2. Reaffirms the importance and relevance of human rights obligations in all areas of governance and development, including international and regional trade, investment and financial policies and practices, while confirming that this in no way implies the imposition of conditionalities upon aid to development;
3. Urges all Governments and international economic policy forums to take international human rights obligations and principles fully into account in international economic policy formulation, including during the forthcoming Fourth Ministerial Conference of the World Trade Organization (Doha, 9-13 November 2001);
4. Encourages the Special Rapporteurs on globalization and its impact on the full enjoyment of human rights to examine further the relationship between international human rights law and international economic law, particularly in relation to the functioning of multilateral and plurilateral economic institutions; to focus on guidelines and mechanisms necessary to deal effectively with the phenomenon of globalization and its varied impacts on the full enjoyment of human rights; and to propose further measures necessary to ensure that the United Nations human rights regime is strengthened to address the challenges presented;

5. Recommends that Governments engaged in the preparation of Poverty Reduction Strategy Papers include in them reference to applicable human rights obligations and ensure that the realization of such obligations is incorporated in the objectives defined in their Poverty Reduction Strategy Papers;

6. Encourages the Special Rapporteur on the right to food to explore, within his mandate, the implications for the realization of the right to food of liberalization of the international trade in agricultural products, particularly in the framework of the Agreement on Agriculture of the World Trade Organization;

7. Encourages the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights and other bodies monitoring the implementation of human rights treaty obligations in the area of economic, social and cultural rights to explore, in the course of reviewing States parties' reports, the implications for the realization of the right to food of liberalization of the international trade in agricultural products, particularly in the framework of the Agreement on Agriculture of the World Trade Organization;

8. Recommends that the Commission on Human Rights consider requesting that an expert consultation be convened on economic globalization and human rights, involving special rapporteurs and other special mechanisms of the Commission having relevant mandates, members of the Sub-Commission, United Nations agencies with relevant competencies, the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, other international economic institutions, including the World Trade Organization and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, academics and relevant civil society representatives.

2001/6. Optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Guided by the principles relating to economic, social and cultural rights enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights,

Reaffirming the need to reinforce the realization of economic, social and cultural rights through the provision of adequate mechanisms and remedies when they are violated,

Recalling its call for the elaboration of an optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights to consider communications from individuals made in its resolution 1996/13 of 23 August 1996,

Recalling also its resolution 2000/9 of 17 August 2000 in which it suggested that the Commission on Human Rights should establish an open-ended working group entrusted with the further study of a draft optional protocol and decided to monitor progress towards the further elaboration and the adoption of a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights,

Noting the comments made in 2000 by States and intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations on the report of the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights on a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (E/CN.4/1997/105, annex) and on the options relating to the proposal for a draft optional protocol contained in the report of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (E/CN.4/2000/49),

Welcoming the report of the High Commissioner for Human Rights on the workshop on the justiciability of economic, social and cultural rights, with particular reference to the draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, held on 5 and 6 February 2001 (E/CN.4/2001/62/Add.2),

Welcoming also the decision of the Commission on Human Rights in resolution 2001/30 of 20 April 2001 to appoint an independent expert to examine the question of a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights,

Considering, however, that an inter-sessional open-ended working group of the Commission on Human Rights is the appropriate mechanism to examine the question of a legally binding instrument such as a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights,

1. Urges the Commission on Human Rights to give high priority to the consideration of a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights to consider communications from individuals;
2. Reiterates its suggestion that the Commission on Human Rights establish at its fifty-eighth session an inter-sessional open-ended working group entrusted with the further study of a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;
3. Decides to continue to follow progress towards the further elaboration and the adoption of a draft optional protocol to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights at its fifty-fourth session under the same agenda item.

2001/7. The right to food, and the World Food Summit: five years later

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Noting that the world's leaders will meet in Rome in November 2001 to review progress and follow-up to the Rome Declaration on Food Security and the Plan of Action adopted by the World Food Summit in November 1996,

Recalling its resolution 1996/25 of 29 August 1996, in which it appealed to the world's leaders who were to assemble in Rome for the World Food Summit in 1996 to reaffirm the fundamental right of every man, woman and child to be free from hunger, and to propose ways in which the right to food could be further clarified and implemented,

Noting with satisfaction that the World Food Summit responded positively to that appeal, both through the Rome Declaration on World Food Security and the Plan of Action adopted by the Summit, in particular its objective 7.4 which invited the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, in cooperation with Governments, other international organizations and civil society, to clarify the right to adequate food and the steps needed to implement it,

Acknowledging the vigorous process that has taken place to follow up this mandate during the five years that have passed since the World Food Summit, implying contributions by various United Nations human rights and development institutions and inter-agency arrangements, non-governmental organizations and civil society,

Noting in particular General Comment No. 12 on the right to adequate food adopted by the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights in 1999, which clarified the content of the right to food and to be free from hunger and recommended steps for its progressive implementation by States and the international community,

Noting with satisfaction the appointment by the Commission on Human Rights of a Special Rapporteur on the right to food,

Taking into account the three consultations held by the High Commissioner for Human Rights, in Geneva in 1997, in Rome in 1998, hosted by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, and in Bonn in March 2001, hosted by the Government of Germany, the latter with special emphasis on issues of country-level implementation,

1. Appeals to the world's leaders, through the Commission on Human Rights, when they assemble in Rome in November 2001 for the World Food Summit: five years later:

(a) To reaffirm the right of everyone to adequate food and to be free from hunger, as firmly established in international human rights law and further clarified by the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights in its General Comment No. 12 on the right to adequate food;

(b) To call on States to develop, consistent with their resources and capacities, a national strategy to implement progressively the right of all to adequate food and to be free from hunger, in order to achieve their individual goals in implementing the recommendations contained in the Rome Declaration and Plan of Action of the World Food Summit;

(c) To promote the explicit incorporation of the right to adequate food and to be free from hunger in poverty reduction strategies;

(d) To manifest their solidarity with all peoples and to encourage further clarification of States' international responsibilities in implementing the right to adequate food and to be free from hunger, considering both international human rights legal provisions and other international instruments relevant to the right to food and the relationships between them;

(e) To mobilize and optimize the allocation and utilization of technical, human and financial resources from all sources in order to reinforce national actions to implement sustainable food security policies.

2001/8. Implementation of existing human rights norms and standards in the context of the fight against extreme poverty

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling that, in accordance with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenants on Human Rights recognize that the ideal of free human beings enjoying freedom from fear and want can be achieved only if conditions are created whereby everyone may enjoy his or her economic, social and cultural rights, as well as his or her civil and political rights,

Recalling in particular that article 25 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights stipulates that everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of him/herself and of his/her family, including food, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary social services, and the right to security in the event of unemployment, sickness, disability, widowhood, old age or other lack of livelihood in circumstances beyond his/her control,

Reaffirming the Copenhagen Declaration on Social Development and the Programme of Action of the World Summit for Social Development, reaffirmed during the twenty-fourth special session of the General Assembly on the follow-up to the World Summit, held in Geneva in June 2000, which provide the substantive framework for eradicating poverty by setting specific targets, drawing up plans and implementing programmes,

Recalling also Commission resolution 2001/31 of 13 April 2001 on human rights and extreme poverty, in which the Commission expressed its deep concern that 53 years after the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, extreme poverty continued to spread in all countries of the world, regardless of their economic, social and cultural situation, and that its extent and manifestations, such as hunger, disease, lack of adequate shelter, illiteracy and hopelessness were particularly severe in developing countries, while acknowledging the achievements made in many parts of the world,

Mindful that in its resolution 2001/31 the Commission also requested the Sub-Commission to consider the need to develop, on the basis of the various relevant international texts, the ongoing work in other forums, the conclusions and recommendations of the Expert Seminar on Human Rights and Extreme Poverty organized in accordance with Commission resolution 2000/12 of 17 April 2000 and any other relevant inputs, in particular those received from Governments, guiding principles on the implementation of existing human rights norms and standards in the context of the fight against extreme poverty and to report to the Commission at its fifty-ninth session,

Recalling its own resolutions 1999/15 of 25 August 1999 on women and the right to development and 1996/23 of 29 August 1996 on human rights and extreme poverty, as well as resolution 1996/22 of 29 August 1996 and decision 1998/105 of 20 August 1998 on the right to development, and the follow-up thereto contained in resolution 1999/9 of 25 August 1999,

Expressing its appreciation once more for the final report and the addendum on the relationship between the enjoyment of human rights, in particular economic, social and cultural rights, and income distribution (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1997/9 and E/CN.4/Sub.2/1998/8) prepared by Mr. José Bengoa,

Taking note of the report of the Expert Seminar on Human Rights and Extreme Poverty (E/CN.4/2001/54/Add.1 and Corr.1), organized by the High Commissioner for Human Rights in accordance with Commission on Human Rights resolution 2000/12, and its conclusions,

Recalling the report of the Secretary-General (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2000/14 and Add.1) on promoting the right to development in the context of the United Nations Decade for the Elimination of Poverty (1997-2006), submitted in accordance with Sub-Commission resolution 1999/9,

Noting that a global study on poverty must consider regional specificities and approach the issues from a juridical, legal, institutional and socio-economic perspective, and using a human rights framework,

Taking into account the importance of international programmes against poverty, the “new poverty agenda” indicated by the International Monetary Fund and other international agencies, the projects and policies of the World Bank and other international financial bodies, and other relevant declarations and international programmes,

Taking into account also that the fight against poverty is one of the agreed international development goals and the importance of placing this issue at the centre of discussions in the forthcoming new Sub-Commission body, the Social Forum,

Aware of the need to explore possibilities for the implementation of existing human rights norms and standards in the context of the fight against extreme poverty,

Welcoming the request of the Commission expressed in its resolution 2001/31 in this regard,

1. Reaffirms that the existence of widespread extreme poverty inhibits the full and effective enjoyment of human rights and might, in some situations, constitute a threat to the right to life, and that its immediate alleviation and eventual eradication must remain a high priority for the international community;

2. Re-emphasizes that extreme poverty is a major issue to be addressed by Governments, civil society organizations and the organs and agencies of the United Nations system, including international trade and financial institutions, and in this context reaffirms that political commitment is a prerequisite for the eradication of poverty;

3. Requests Mr. Paulo Sérgio Pinheiro, Mr. Yozo Yokota, Mr. El Hadji Guissé and Mr. José Bengoa to prepare a joint working paper, without financial implications, on the need to develop, on the basis of the various relevant international instruments, the ongoing work in other forums, the conclusions and recommendations of the Expert Seminar on Human Rights and Extreme Poverty and any other relevant inputs, in particular those received from Governments, guiding principles on the implementation of existing human rights norms and standards in the context of the fight against extreme poverty, to be submitted to the Sub-Commission at its fifty-fourth session so that it may be considered and thereafter forwarded to the Commission for consideration at its fifty-ninth session;

4. Also requests that the authors specifically consider the situations of poverty in Asia, Africa and Latin America in the light of international jurisprudence, treaties, covenants and other relevant instruments, in order to alleviate the situation of poverty, and that the authors also consider the policies of the World Bank, the World Trade Organization, the International Monetary Fund and other international bodies in order to fight poverty;

5. Further requests that the authors present conclusions and recommendations in order to contribute to work on a draft declaration on extreme poverty and human rights and other international and regional initiatives;

6. Invites the Secretariat to assist in the preparation of the study;

7. Asks Governments to provide data, including statistical information and information pertaining to the legal, economic or other measures they have taken to address the issue of poverty;

8. Requests regional specialized bodies in Asia, Africa and Latin America and international agencies such as the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, the United Nations Development Programme, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and others to collaborate and provide information for the study.

Reiterating the need for States, minorities and majorities to search for peaceful and constructive solutions to problems affecting minorities,

7. Recommends that the High Commissioner for Human Rights, when inviting, inter alia, Governments to submit their views on how best to protect the rights of persons belonging to minorities, also request them: to provide their views on the possible drafting of a convention on the rights of minorities, including regional standard setting, as well as on the possibility of establishing regional institutions for conflict prevention and resolution, such as that of the High Commissioner for National Minorities of the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe, to consider providing the names of experts with a view to facilitating their participation in regional and international meetings and in advisory services, and to consider providing information about recent cases relating to minority rights considered in the highest courts of the country;

2001/11. World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Bearing in mind the principles, standards and norms embodied in international instruments relating to the promotion and protection of human rights, including in particular the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, as well as relevant conventions and declarations of the International Labour Organization and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization,

Reaffirming the objectives set forth in the Charter of the United Nations on achieving international cooperation in solving problems of an economic, social, cultural or humanitarian character and in promoting and encouraging respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without discrimination or distinction as to race, colour, sex, social class, descent, national or ethnic origin, language or religion,

Reaffirming also its conviction that racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance fundamentally undermine the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the firm determination and commitment of the United Nations to eradicate, totally and unconditionally, racial discrimination in all its forms,

Bearing in mind the broad definition of racial discrimination provided in article 1 of the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination,

Noting that in its resolution 52/111 of 12 December 1997, in which it decided to convene the World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance, the General Assembly set as one of the main objectives of the Conference the review of the political, historical, social, cultural and other factors leading to racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance,

Concerned at the phenomenon of globalization, accompanied by a concentration of wealth, on the one hand, and marginalization and exclusion, on the other, and its effects on the right to development and on living standards, as well as on the increase in the phenomena of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance,

Sharing the grave concern of the Commission on Human Rights, expressed in resolution 2001/5 of 18 April 2001, that despite the efforts undertaken by the international community at various levels, racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related forms of intolerance, ethnic antagonism and racist acts of violence are on the increase,

Aware that the World Conference should carefully consider the relationship between discrimination based on race and discrimination based, inter alia, on gender and religion, as well as economic marginalization and social exclusion,

Concerned at the increase in contemporary forms of slavery,

Noting that the preparatory process for the World Conference included the second session of the Preparatory Committee, held from 21 May to 1 June 2001, and the third session, which met from 30 July to 10 August 2001,

Noting also its resolution 2001/1 of 6 August 2001, in which the Sub-Commission emphasizes the historic responsibility for slavery and colonialism and requests all countries concerned to take initiatives, notably through debate on the basis of accurate information, in the raising of public awareness of the disastrous consequences of periods of slavery and colonialism,

Encouraging all measures necessary, including facilitation of speedy accreditation, for the effective participation of non-governmental organizations from all parts of the world and diverse and representative sections of civil society, as accepted by the Preparatory Committee for the World Conference,

Noting that in resolution 1998/26 of 17 April 1998 the Commission on Human Rights invited the Sub-Commission to carry out studies without delay, within the framework of the objectives laid down in General Assembly resolution 52/111, and to transmit its recommendations to the Commission and, through the Commission, to the Preparatory Committee,

Welcoming the work of its members thus far in preparation for the World Conference, including:

(a) The working paper on the concept and practice of affirmative action (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1998/5) submitted by Mr. Marc Bossuyt and his preliminary (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2000/11 and Corr.1) and progress (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/15) reports on the same topic;

(f) The working paper on proposals for the work of the World Conference relating to discrimination against indigenous peoples submitted by Ms. Erica-Irene Daes (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/2);

1. Declares that all forms of racism and racial discrimination, whether in their institutionalized form or resulting from doctrines and practices of racial superiority or separation, whether committed against citizens or non-citizens present in the territory of a State, are among the most serious violations of human rights in the contemporary world and must be combated;

2. Also declares that human rights principles relating to racism and racial discrimination are at the core and foundation of all human rights, and that racism and racial discrimination must therefore be eliminated with respect to the full spectrum of human rights, be they social, cultural, economic, civil, or political;

3. Commends all States that have ratified or acceded to the international instruments with the objective, inter alia, of putting an end to racism, racial discrimination, discrimination against migrants and slavery, and invites all States that have not yet done so to ratify or accede to them as soon as possible, as well as to accept provisions for individual communications;

4. Encourages educational institutions, non-governmental organizations and the mass media to promote ideas of tolerance and understanding among peoples and between different cultures;

5. Regrets the continued lack of interest, support and financial resources for the Third Decade to Combat Racism and Racial Discrimination and the Programme of Action for the Third Decade and calls upon all Governments, United Nations bodies, specialized agencies and interested non-governmental organizations to contribute fully to the implementation of the Programme of Action;

10. Expresses its conviction that the draft declaration and programme of action to be adopted by the World Conference, will focus on action-oriented and practical steps to eradicate racism, including measures of prevention, education and protection, and the provision of effective remedies;

11. Encourages the active and effective participation in the World Conference of all organs of society from all parts of the world and non-governmental organizations representing victims of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance, including those representing indigenous peoples;

12. Suggests that the World Conference focus, inter alia, on situations of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia, related intolerance and ethnic conflict and other patterns of discrimination, such as contemporary forms of slavery, that are based on, inter alia, race, colour, social class, minority status, descent, national or ethnic origin or gender, including topics such as:

- (a) The link between contemporary forms of slavery and racial and other discrimination based on descent;

2001/12. International Decade of the World's Indigenous People

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Bearing in mind that one of the purposes of the United Nations, as set forth in the Charter, is the achievement of international cooperation in solving international problems of an economic, social, cultural or humanitarian character and in promoting and encouraging respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion,

Recalling General Assembly resolution 48/163 of 21 December 1993, in which the Assembly proclaimed the International Decade of the World's Indigenous People,

Recalling also that the goal of the Decade is the strengthening of international cooperation for the solution of problems faced by indigenous peoples in such areas as human rights, the environment, development, education and health, as well as with regard to their lands and their resources,

Recalling further General Assembly resolution 50/157 of 21 December 1995, in which the Assembly adopted the comprehensive programme of activities for the International Decade of the World's Indigenous People,

Recalling the requests by the General Assembly, in its resolutions 50/157 and 52/108 of 12 December 1997, to assess the objectives of the Decade by quantifiable outcomes that will improve the lives of indigenous peoples and to evaluate the objectives halfway through the Decade and at its end,

Bearing in mind the most recent report of the Secretary-General on the programme of activities of the International Decade (A/55/268),

Recalling its resolution 2000/15 of 17 August 2000,

Noting with particular concern the delay in the work on the elaboration of the draft United Nations declaration on the rights of indigenous people, one of the main objectives of the Decade,

Having considered the report of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations on its nineteenth session (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/17),

1. Welcomes the observance of the International Day of the World's Indigenous People on 26 July 2001;
2. Recommends that the celebration of the International Day of the World's Indigenous People be held on the fourth day of the twentieth session of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations in order to ensure as large a participation of indigenous peoples as possible;

3. Welcomes the decision by the General Assembly in its resolution 52/108 of 12 December 1997 to appoint the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights as Coordinator for the International Decade of the World's Indigenous People;
4. Recommends that the Coordinator for the Decade hold, preferably before the end of 2001, a special fund-raising meeting with the permanent missions in Geneva of interested States and the members of the Advisory Group for the Voluntary Fund for the Decade to encourage financial contributions to the Voluntary Fund for the Decade and the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Indigenous Populations, as well as the appointment of qualified staff, including indigenous persons, from within the regular budget of the United Nations, to assist with the work of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights relating to the indigenous programme, and submit to the Sub-Commission at its fifty-fourth session and its Working Group on Indigenous Populations at its twentieth session a report on the results of initiatives taken to those effects;

7. Strongly recommends that, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 50/157 of 21 December 1995, the draft United Nations declaration on the rights of indigenous people be adopted as early as possible and not later than the end of the International Decade in 2003 and, to this end, appeals to all participants in the inter-sessional working group of the Commission on Human Rights and to all others concerned to put into practice new, more dynamic ways and means of consultation and consensus-building, in order to accelerate the preparation of the draft declaration;
8. Welcomes Commission on Human Rights resolution 2000/87 of 27 April 2000 and Economic and Social Council resolution 2000/22 of 28 July 2000, in which the Commission and the Council respectively decided to establish the Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues;
9. Notes the view expressed by many indigenous participants during its fifty-third session and during the twentieth session of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations that the establishment of the Permanent Forum should not necessarily be construed as grounds for the abolition of the Working Group, which should continue to carry out the ample, flexible mandate conferred upon it by the Economic and Social Council in resolution 1982/34 of 7 May 1982;
10. Congratulates the Advisory Group for the Voluntary Fund for the Decade for the work it has accomplished, for its initiatives and for the transparency of its working methods and decisions;

16. Invites the Commission on Human Rights to recommend that the Economic and Social Council authorize the convening of an international conference on indigenous issues during the last year of the International Decade of the World's Indigenous People (2003) with a view to evaluating the Decade and considering future national and international policies and programmes which may contribute to effective action by States in order to promote better relations between the indigenous and non-indigenous segments of their population;

17. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

2001/13. Traditional practices affecting the health of women and the girl child

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling its resolution 2000/10 of 17 August 2000 and welcoming the extension of the mandate of the Special Rapporteur,

Affirming once again that female genital mutilation is a cultural practice which profoundly affects the physical and mental health of the girl child and of the women who are its victims,

Stressing that other practices equally harmful to the health of women and the girl child exist and are being perpetuated,

Recalling that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, in its article 5, and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, in its article 7, proclaim that no one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment,

Emphasizing the centrality of the Plan of Action adopted by the Sub-Commission (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1994/10/Add.1 and Corr.1) to the elimination of harmful traditional practices and the relevance of the conclusions reached at the regional seminars held in Burkina Faso (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/48) and Sri Lanka (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1994/10/Add.1 and Corr.1),

Deeply regretting that the Special Rapporteur is still encountering serious difficulties in performing her important task because of the absence of replies from numerous Governments concerned by harmful traditional practices on measures taken to implement the Plan of Action for the Elimination of Harmful Traditional Practices,

Recalling with satisfaction General Assembly resolution 54/133 of 17 December 1999 on traditional or customary practices affecting the health of women and girls,

Strongly encouraging the specialized agencies and organs of the United Nations, in particular the United Nations Children's Fund, the United Nations Population Fund and the World Health Organization, to continue to devote particular attention to the question of harmful traditional practices affecting the health of women and girls, particularly in the context of their regional and national programmes,

Expressing its satisfaction to national and international non-governmental organizations for the numerous activities they are undertaking in the field to develop the awareness of the populations concerned with a view to the eradication of harmful traditional practices such as female genital mutilation,

Considering that efforts to combat harmful traditional practices should be continued through, inter alia, further development of the awareness of Governments and all national protagonists concerned by these practices,

1. Takes note with satisfaction of the fifth report on the situation regarding the elimination of traditional practices affecting the health of women and the girl child (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/27) submitted by the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Halima Embarek Warzazi, and shares her concern about the perpetuation of certain harmful traditional practices, in particular dowry-related violence and crimes of honour;
2. Appeals to all States concerned to intensify efforts to develop awareness of, and mobilize national public opinion concerning, the harmful effects of all forms of harmful traditional practices, in particular through education, information and training, in order to achieve the total eradication of these practices;
3. Requests all non-governmental organizations dealing with women's issues to continue to devote part of their activities to the study of the various harmful traditional practices and ways and means of eradicating them, and to inform the Special Rapporteur of any situation which merits the attention of the international community;
4. Welcomes the progress made in combating harmful traditional practices, including female genital mutilation, through the impetus of non-governmental organizations, in particular the Inter-African Committee, which should be given maximum encouragement;
5. Appeals to the international community to provide material, technical and financial support to the non-governmental organizations and groups working with dedication to achieve the total elimination of these cultural practices which are harmful to girl children and women;
6. Calls upon all Governments to give their full attention to the implementation of the Plan of Action for the Elimination of Harmful Traditional Practices and requests the Secretary-General to invite them to submit information regularly to the Sub-Commission on the situation regarding harmful traditional practices in their country;
7. Considers that one of the most effective means of developing the awareness of the Governments concerned regarding the problems of harmful traditional practices and appropriate solutions would be to organize regional seminars on the question;
8. Reiterates its proposal that three seminars be held, in Africa, Asia and Europe, in order to review progress achieved since 1985, and ways and means of overcoming the obstacles encountered in the implementation of the Plan of Action for the Elimination of Harmful Traditional Practices, and appeals for funding for these activities;

9. Requests the High Commissioner for Human Rights to assist the mandate by raising funds for the organization of the seminars;
10. Requests the Special Rapporteur to submit an updated report to the Sub-Commission at its fifty-fourth session;
11. Decides to continue consideration of the question at its fifty-fourth session under the same agenda item.

2001/14. Report of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Taking note of the report of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery on its twenty-sixth session (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/30) and in particular the recommendations contained in chapter VII,

Deeply concerned at the information it contains relating to the traffic in persons, the exploitation of the prostitution of others, the exploitation of domestic and migrant workers, slave and child labour, the sexual exploitation of children, the abusive use of the Internet for the purpose of sexual exploitation, the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography and the role of corruption in the perpetuation of slavery and related practices,

Noting that poverty, ignorance and discrimination in all its forms are the main causes of contemporary forms of slavery,

Noting also that the status of ratification of the Supplementary Convention on the Abolition of Slavery, the Slave Trade, and Institutions and Practices Similar to Slavery of 1956 and the Convention for the Suppression of the Traffic in Persons and of the Exploitation of the Prostitution of Others of 1949 is still unsatisfactory,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery for its valuable work and in particular for its continued attention to the problems submitted to it;

5. Expresses its conviction that the adoption of a resolution by the General Assembly on the elaboration of an additional protocol to the three conventions on slavery and slavery-like practices would strengthen the effectiveness of these conventions through the establishment of an efficient monitoring mechanism;
6. Recommends the creation of special observatories at the national and regional levels to gather information from non-governmental organizations and individuals with relevant expertise in order to further the goals of the Programme of Action for the Prevention of the Traffic in Persons and the Exploitation of the Prostitution of Others;
7. Urges Governments which have not yet done so to ratify the 1949 Convention for the Suppression of the Traffic in Persons and of the Exploitation of the Prostitution of Others, the International Labour Organization Convention (No. 182) concerning the Prohibition of and Immediate Action for the Elimination of the Worst Forms of Child Labour and the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women;

9. Calls upon United Nations human rights bodies to focus on situations of human rights violations related to trafficking in persons and victims of prostitution, in accordance with the 1949 Convention on the Suppression of the Traffic in Persons and of the Exploitation of the Prostitution of Others;
10. Invites the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women, the Committee on the Rights of the Child and the Human Rights Committee to elaborate general recommendations in order to clarify reporting procedures with regard to victims of trafficking, in particular for purposes of prostitution and exploitation of the prostitution of others, as provided in the 1949 Convention;

11. Recommends that the issue of trafficking in persons, prostitution and related practices of sexual exploitation be considered during the preparatory process of the World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance and at the World Conference itself, which will be held in South Africa from 31 August to 7 September 2001, and makes strong recommendations to Governments to prevent and sanction such violations, as well as to provide services, support and restitution to victims;

II. PREVENTION OF THE TRANSBORDER TRAFFIC IN CHILDREN IN ALL ITS FORMS

12. Invites States to ratify existing international human rights and labour standards, if they have not already done so, and to ratify in a timely manner the International Labour Organization Convention (No. 182) concerning the Prohibition of and Immediate Action for the Elimination of the Worst Forms of Child Labour;

13. Calls upon States to set action against trafficking within a human rights framework, so that the victims of child trafficking are fully protected and not treated as illegal immigrants;

14. Encourages cooperation among concerned States, as well as with international agencies, and international and national non-governmental organizations, in research and data collection on child trafficking and in the design and implementation of programmes of action to eliminate the practice of child trafficking;

15. Also encourages strengthened cooperation between national and international law enforcement agencies, in particular the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL), responsible for detecting and intercepting child traffickers, as well as tracing the families of the trafficked children;

III. THE ROLE OF CORRUPTION IN THE PERPETUATION OF SLAVERY AND SLAVERY-LIKE PRACTICES

19. Urges Governments to act more forcefully to eliminate traffic in persons, exploitation of the prostitution of others and sexual exploitation through the Internet, and to consider setting up a mechanism aimed at better control of the Internet when abused for those purposes;

20. Recommends that Governments and non-governmental organizations develop and implement educational programmes on the harm caused by trafficking for the purpose of prostitution and sexual exploitation to the mental and physical well-being of women and children;

21. Requests Governments to investigate and use as evidence of crimes and acts of discrimination advertising, correspondence and other communications over the Internet to promote sex trafficking, the exploitation of prostitution, sex tourism, bride trafficking and rape;

22. Calls for new levels of cooperation among Governments and national and regional law enforcement bodies in order to combat the escalating trafficking for the purpose of prostitution of women and children, the globalization of this industry and the misuse of the Internet to promote and carry out acts of trafficking for the purpose of sexual exploitation, sex tourism, sexual violence and sexual exploitation;

V. MIGRANT WORKERS AND DOMESTIC MIGRANT WORKERS

23. Urges States to ratify the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families;

24. Also urges States to take the necessary measures to prohibit and punish the confiscation of passports belonging to migrant workers, in particular, migrant domestic workers;

25. Requests the Commission on Human Rights to authorize the High Commissioner for Human Rights to organize, in cooperation with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the International Organization for Migration and other intergovernmental organizations concerned, a workshop in which all aspects of the smuggling and trafficking in persons and the protection of their human rights will be considered; this workshop should take place not later than July 2002;

26. Recommends that non-governmental organizations pay attention to the grave problems affecting migrant workers and provide the Working Group with information in this regard;

27. Decides to continue consideration of this issue at its next session;

VI. ERADICATION OF BONDED LABOUR AND ELIMINATION OF CHILD LABOUR

28. Urges States which have not yet done so to introduce comprehensive legislation to prohibit bonded labour in all its forms, as a matter of urgency, including provisions for the punishment of any future employers of bonded labourers, measures for compensation of those subjected to bonded labour and debt bondage and rehabilitation assistance, including at a minimum, and where applicable, the grant of enough land to sustain a single family throughout the year and legal provisions to protect their ownership and occupation of such land;

29. Strongly recommends that States which have adopted laws against debt bondage or bonded labour and in which cases of debt bondage continue to be reported ensure the effectiveness of the rule of law and fully apply legal and judicial procedures ensuring the prosecution and punishment of those involved in reducing men, women or children to bondage;

30. Considers it necessary that the implementation of national programmes of action to prevent the recurrence of bonded labour, including measures to end discrimination, ensure progressive land reform and enforce the national minimum wage;

31. Urges concerned Governments to carry out independent and comprehensive surveys at the local level to identify the number and location of people held in debt bondage; these surveys should provide a statistical breakdown of the number of men, women and children in bonded labour, and also of their membership of any minority group;

32. Invites the International Labour Organization, together with other competent United Nations organs and specialized agencies, to consider the possibility of holding a seminar or a workshop to determine the best practices for the eradication of debt bondage and, in particular, to assess what forms of international support are most appropriate for community mobilization and to enable bonded labourers to make use of their right to freedom of association, and what techniques have proved most effective in facilitating the rehabilitation and reintegration of victims of debt bondage;

33. Recommends that all competent United Nations organs, specialized agencies, development banks and intergovernmental agencies involved in development initiatives take action to contribute to the elimination of debt bondage, in particular by the provision of alternative sources of credit to bonded labourers;

34. Recommends once again that Governments cooperate with trade unions and employers' organizations at the national level to address the problem of bonded labour and that trade unions and employers' organizations at the local, national and international levels utilize the existing structures of the International Labour Organization dealing with violations of the relevant conventions concerning forced labour, and encourages concerned non-governmental organizations to strengthen their activities for disseminating information and advising trade unions in this regard;

35. Urges all States, while attempting ultimately to eliminate child labour, to adopt measures and regulations to protect child labourers, to ensure that they are not exploited and to prohibit their labour in hazardous occupations, in accordance with the provisions of International Labour Organization Convention No. 182, unless national legislation provides more protective standards;

36. Also urges States, while attempting ultimately to eliminate child labour and child domestic labour by, inter alia, enacting and implementing laws on compulsory and free primary education, to adopt and enforce measures and regulations to eliminate all discrimination against girls in education, skills development and training, to protect child workers, in particular child domestic workers, and to ensure that they are not exploited;

37. Invites the international community to cooperate in developing viable alternatives to child labour, in particular for young girls;

38. Requests the Secretary-General to invite all States to inform the Working Group of measures adopted to implement the Programme of Action for the Elimination of the Exploitation of Child Labour, and report thereon to the Sub-Commission and the Commission on Human Rights at their next sessions;

40. Decides, in the context of the commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the adoption of the Programme of Action, to request a non-governmental organization to prepare and submit to the Working Group at its twenty-seventh session, in 2002, an assessment of the implementation of the Programme of Action;

41. Requests the Special Rapporteur, within the framework of his mandate, to continue to pay attention to issues relating to the traffic in children, such as organ transplantation, disappearances, the purchase and sale of children, adoption for commercial purposes or exploitation, child prostitution and child pornography, and invites the Special Rapporteur to participate in the twenty-seventh session of the Working Group, in view of the importance of his contribution to its deliberations;

42. Invites States to consider the establishment of a voluntary fund aimed at assisting the Committee on the Rights of the Child in strengthening implementation of the Optional Protocol, in harmony with provisions of the Convention on the Rights of the Child;

43. Requests the Working Group to examine, as a matter of priority at its twenty-seventh session, in 2002, the issue of the exploitation of children, particularly in the context of prostitution and domestic servitude;

VIII. MISCELLANEOUS

44. Welcomes the decision of the Working Group to consider as a matter of priority at its twenty-eighth session, in 2003, the issue of contemporary forms of slavery related to and generated by discrimination, in particular gender discrimination, focusing attention on abuses against women and girls, such as forced marriages, early marriages and sale of wives;
45. Appeals to all Governments to send observers to the meetings of the Working Group;
46. Encourages youth organizations and young persons from various non-governmental organizations to participate in the meetings of the Working Group;
47. Recommends that the Human Rights Committee, the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women and the Committee on the Rights of the Child, when examining the periodic reports of States parties, give particular attention to the implementation of, respectively, articles 8 and 24 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, articles 10, 12 and 13 of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, article 6 of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women and articles 32, 34 and 36 of the Convention on the Rights of the Child, and include in their general comments and recommendations an item concerning contemporary forms of slavery;
48. Also recommends that the supervisory bodies of the International Labour Organization and the Committee on Conventions and Recommendations of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization give particular attention in their work to the implementation of provisions and standards designed to ensure protection of children and other persons exposed to contemporary forms of slavery, such as the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography, the exploitation of child labour, bonded labour and the traffic in persons;
49. Requests once again the Secretary-General to transmit to the committees mentioned above, the special rapporteurs concerned and the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances the recommendations of relevance to them and the report of the Working Group;
50. Also requests the Secretary-General to give effect to his decision to reassign to the Working Group a Professional staff member of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights, as was the case in the past, to work on a permanent basis to ensure continuity and close coordination within and outside the Office on issues relating to contemporary forms of slavery, in accordance with Commission on Human Rights resolutions 1996/61 of 26 April 1996 and 1999/46 of 27 April 1999;

51. Requests the non-governmental organizations to disseminate information about the work of the Working Group as widely as possible;

52. Recognizes the advantages of continuity in the membership of the Working Group, while acknowledging that the designation of any member to any working group of the Sub-Commission is the responsibility of the regional groups of the Sub-Commission;

53. Decides to make provision for adequate discussion of the report of the Working Group near the beginning of each session, thereby strengthening its involvement in the activities of the Working Group.

2001/15. Situation of women and girls in the territories controlled by Afghan armed groups

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling its resolution 2000/1 of 17 August 2000,

Taking note with appreciation of the report of the Secretary-General (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/28), containing substantive information and recommendations,

Recalling that the fundamental rights of women and girls in the territories controlled by Afghan armed groups must be respected in all circumstances and that deliberate policies discriminating against women and girls in that country on the grounds of sex constitute gross and flagrant violations of the international instruments relating to human rights,

Regretting that, according to the report of the Secretary-General, the situation of women and girls overall has largely remained unchanged,

1. Condemns all forms of discrimination and violation affecting women and girls in the territories controlled by Afghan armed groups, who are deprived of the enjoyment of civil and political rights and the rights to health, education, employment, freedom of movement and security;

2. Notes, in particular, with concern that the report of the Secretary-General indicates that women and girls are suffering disproportionately from the obstacles to the fulfilment and enjoyment of all their rights and that there is at present little indication that the situation might improve, at any rate in the near future;

3. Notes in this connection that this situation is totally at variance with the precepts of Islam, which imposes on Muslims the duty to acquire an education and to pursue knowledge;
4. Condemns the official policies discriminating against women;
5. Considers it essential that the international community continue to follow very closely the situation of women and girls in the territories controlled by Afghan armed groups and bring the necessary pressure to bear so that all the restrictions imposed on women, which constitute flagrant and systematic violations of all the internationally recognized economic, social, cultural, civil and political rights, are removed;
6. Congratulates the United Nations agencies and non-governmental organizations on the measures and programmes adopted with a view to lending support and assistance to women and girls in the territories controlled by Afghan armed groups and strongly encourages them to continue their efforts despite the difficulties encountered;
7. Encourages continued United Nations activities aimed at promoting the fundamental rights of women and girls in the territories controlled by Afghan armed groups, and supports their efforts to create a humanitarian framework within which humanitarian operations can be conducted in a calm environment in the utmost safety and to induce the Taliban to comply with the provisions governing the conduct of such operations;
8. Considers that it is the duty of these groups to respect the fundamental rights of the individual and particularly those of women, in conformity with international law and humanitarian law;
9. Requests the Commission on Human Rights to insist that the Afghan armed groups abide by international human rights standards in relation to women, which entails the repeal of all edicts and the end of all forms of discrimination on the grounds of sex;
10. Considers that any diplomatic recognition and any financial agreement with the Taliban regime would reinforce the discriminatory treatment which the latter is reserving for women, whereas it must be induced to end such treatment;
11. Requests the Secretary-General to continue to make available all the information that can be compiled on this question;
12. Decides to continue consideration of this question at its fifty-fourth session under the same agenda item.

2001/16. International protection for refugees

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Considering that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights proclaims that all human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights and that everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set out therein, without distinction of any kind,

Recalling the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action, adopted by the World Conference on Human Rights, and article 14 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which reaffirm that everyone, without distinction of any kind, is entitled to the right to seek and to enjoy in other countries asylum from persecution, as well as the right to return to one's own country,

Reaffirming, on the fiftieth anniversary of its adoption, the importance of the Convention relating to the Status of Refugees of 1951 and the Protocol thereto of 1967, and the critical role that they continue to play in protecting the rights of refugees throughout the world,

Noting that the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees is charged with the task of supervising international conventions providing for the protection of refugees, and recognizing that the effective coordination of measures taken to deal with this problem will depend upon the cooperation of States with the High Commissioner,

Applauding the endeavours of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in upholding the principles of humanitarian law and implementing the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees as well as its 1967 Protocol,

Recalling its resolution 2000/20 of 18 August 2000 on the right to seek and enjoy asylum,

Concerned that the plight of refugees around the world remains of serious concern, and that refugees face a well-founded fear of being persecuted for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion,

Concerned also at the plight of women and girl refugees, who face the added risk of gender-based persecution and violence during the process of fleeing their home country and during the process of resettlement, as well as in the situation they face when they are forced to return to their home country,

1. Reaffirms the importance of the fundamental principle of non-refoulement contained in the Convention relating to the Status of Refugees of 1951 and the Protocol thereto of 1967;

2. Expresses its concern over the fate of persons who have risked their lives fleeing from their homes to escape persecution and by other factors such as starvation or destitution, motivated in part by unfair international economic relations, and reaffirms that their human rights should be protected in accordance with international human rights instruments, in particular the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees and its 1967 Protocol;
3. Notes with alarm that the situation of women and girl refugees has been grossly exacerbated, to the extent that it requires the urgent attention of the international community, and urges States and both the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to intensify their efforts to provide women and girl refugees with adequate protection in accordance with international human rights instruments;
4. Urges the international community to make greater efforts to address the needs of such persons by, inter alia, allowing access to them by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in order that it may determine their status;
5. Encourages States to avail themselves of technical assistance from the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, both with regard to the criteria to be applied and to the status determination process;
6. Recommends that States disputing the refugee status of a particular affected population cooperate with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and other interested parties to facilitate verification of the status of those who assert they are refugees, through an impartial and fair process, and that a solution be pursued which is consistent with international human rights standards;
7. Decides to consider this matter at its fifty-fourth session under the same agenda item.

2001/17. Reservations to human rights treaties

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling the letter addressed by the Chairman of the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination to the Chairman of the forty-eighth session of the Sub-Commission (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1997/31, annex) containing a proposal that a study be undertaken on reservations to treaties,

Noting the concerns about reservations expressed by the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women and the report of the Secretary-General on the views of the six human rights treaty bodies on the Preliminary Conclusions of the International Law Commission (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1998/25),

Welcoming the developing cooperation between the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination, the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women and the Sub-Commission on this and other topics of mutual interest,

Recalling that in the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action, the World Conference on Human Rights emphasized the need to limit the number and scope of reservations to human rights treaties,

Recalling also its decision 1998/113 of 26 August 1998 in which it requested Ms. Françoise Hampson to prepare a working paper on the question of reservations to human rights treaties,

Recalling further the working paper submitted by Ms. Françoise Hampson (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1999/28 and Corr.1),

Recalling its resolutions 1999/27 of 26 August 1999 and 2000/26 of 18 August 2000 and Commission on Human Rights decision 2000/108 of 26 April 2000 and taking note of Commission decision 2001/113 of 25 April 2001,

1. Decides to entrust Ms. Françoise Hampson with the task of preparing an expanded working paper on reservations to human rights treaties based on her working paper, as well as the comments made and discussions that took place at the fifty-first and fifty-second sessions of the Sub-Commission, which study will not duplicate the work of the International Law Commission, which concerns the legal regime applicable to reservations and interpretative declarations in general, whereas the proposed study involves the examination of the actual reservations and interpretative declarations made to human rights treaties in the light of the legal regime applicable to reservations and interpretative declarations, as set out in the working paper, and of submitting the extended working paper to the Sub-Commission at its fifty-fourth session;

2. Decides to continue its consideration of the question of reservations to human rights treaties at its fifty-fourth session under the same agenda item.

2001/18. Terrorism and human rights

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Guided by the principles embodied in the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Cooperation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations, the International Covenants on Human Rights and other international and regional instruments, relating to human rights and international humanitarian law,

Recalling the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action adopted on 25 June 1993 by the World Conference on Human Rights, in which the Conference reaffirmed that terrorism is indeed aimed at the destruction of human rights, fundamental freedoms and democracy,

Recalling also the Declaration on the Occasion of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the United Nations and the United Nations Millennium Declaration adopted by the General Assembly at its fiftieth and fifty-fifth sessions, respectively,

Recalling further General Assembly resolution 54/164 of 17 December 1999, as well as Commission on Human Rights resolution 2001/37 of 23 April 2001 and its own resolution 1999/26 of 26 August 1999,

Regretting that the negative impact of terrorism, in all its dimensions, on human rights continues to remain alarming, despite national and international efforts to combat it,

Convinced that terrorism, in all its forms and manifestations, wherever and by whomever committed, can never be justified in any instance, including as a means to promote and protect human rights,

Bearing in mind that the most essential and basic human right is the right to life,

Bearing in mind also that terrorism creates an environment that destroys the freedom from fear of the people,

Convinced that terrorism in many cases poses a severe challenge to democracy, civil society and the rule of law,

Deploring the large number of innocent persons killed, massacred and maimed by terrorism in indiscriminate and random acts of violence and terror, which cannot be justified under any circumstances,

Emphasizing the need to intensify the fight against terrorism at the national level, to enhance effective international cooperation in combating terrorism in conformity with international law and to strengthen the role of the United Nations system in this respect,

Reiterating that all States have an obligation to promote and protect all human rights and fundamental freedoms, and that every individual should strive to secure their universal and effective recognition and observance,

Reaffirming that all measures to counter terrorism must be in strict conformity with international law, including international human rights and humanitarian law standards,

Reiterating the great importance of the study on terrorism and human rights,

Having considered the analytical and well-documented progress report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/31) prepared by the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Kalliopi Koufa, and having heard her comprehensive introductory statement,

1. Expresses its deep appreciation and thanks to the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Kalliopi Koufa, for her excellent progress report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/31) and her introductory statement;
2. Requests the Special Rapporteur to continue her work, taking into consideration the views and comments made during the discussion of the topic at the Sub-Commission, as well as the replies submitted by Governments, competent organs and bodies of the United Nations system and intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations;
3. Requests the Special Rapporteur, keeping in mind the importance and the complexity of the study, to continue her direct contacts with the competent services and bodies of the United Nations, in particular those in New York and Vienna, and also requests the Special Rapporteur to visit those Offices, as soon as possible, in order to expand her research, to update data and information for the study and to expedite her work;
4. Requests the Secretary-General to transmit the progress report of the Special Rapporteur to Governments, specialized agencies and concerned intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations with the request that they submit to the Special Rapporteur, as soon as possible, comments, information and data relating to the study on terrorism and human rights;
5. Requests the Secretary-General to continue to collect information, including a compilation of studies and publications, on the implications of terrorism for, as well as the effects of the fight against terrorism on, the enjoyment of human rights from all relevant sources, including Governments, specialized agencies, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations and academic institutions, and to make them available to the Special Rapporteur;
6. Requests the Special Rapporteur to submit a second progress report to the Sub-Commission at its fifty-fourth session;

7. Requests the Secretary-General to give the Special Rapporteur all the necessary assistance in order to hold consultations with the above-mentioned competent services and bodies of the United Nations system, in particular those located in New York and Vienna, to complement and expand her essential research and to collect all the up-to-date information and data needed for the preparation of her second progress report;

Recalling General Assembly resolution 46/122 of 17 December 1991, by which the Assembly established the United Nations Voluntary Trust Fund on Contemporary Forms of Slavery,

Recalling also that the Trust Fund was established to assist representatives of non-governmental organizations to participate in the deliberations of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery by providing them with financial assistance and to extend, through established channels of assistance, humanitarian, legal and financial aid to individuals whose human rights have been severely violated as a result of contemporary forms of slavery,

Recalling further the close relationship between the mandate and the activities of the Working Group and those of the Board of Trustees of the Trust Fund, and the necessary cooperation between them,

1. Expresses its gratitude to Governments, organizations, trade unions and individuals, including young students, who have contributed to the Fund and encourages them to continue doing so;

7. Decides to continue to examine the situation and the activities of the Trust Fund at its fifty-fourth session.

2001/20. Systematic rape, sexual slavery and slavery-like practices

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling its resolution 1993/24 of 25 August 1993 and its decision 1994/109 of 19 August 1994, establishing the mandate and framework for the study on systematic rape, sexual slavery and slavery-like practices during armed conflicts, including internal armed conflict, as well as Commission on Human Rights decision 1994/103 of 4 March 1994,

Recalling also its resolutions 1999/16 of 26 August 1999 and 2000/13 of 17 August 2000,

Recalling further the report of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights on systematic rape, sexual slavery and slavery-like practices during armed conflicts (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2000/20),

Recalling also that the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court specifically recognizes that sexual violence and sexual slavery committed in the context of either an internal or an international armed conflict may constitute crimes against humanity, war crimes and genocide falling within the jurisdiction of the Court,

Taking into consideration resolutions of the Commission on Human Rights on the elimination of violence against women, including resolution 2001/49 of 24 April 2001, in which the Commission emphasized the duty of Governments to refrain from engaging in violence against women and to exercise due diligence to prevent, investigate and punish acts of violence against women and to take appropriate and effective action concerning acts of violence against women and to provide access to just and effective remedies and specialized, including medical, assistance to victims,

Also taking into consideration the report of the Special Rapporteur of the Commission on Human Rights on violence against women, its causes and consequences (E/CN.4/2001/73) submitted to the Commission, at its fifty-seventh session,

Mindful of its resolution 2001/1, of 6 August 2001, in which it emphasizes the historic responsibility for slavery and colonialism and requests all countries concerned to take initiatives which would assist, notably through debate on the basis of accurate information, in the raising of public awareness of the disastrous consequences of periods of slavery and colonialism,

1. Welcomes the work of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights on systematic rape, sexual slavery and slavery-like practices, and takes note with appreciation of her report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/29);

2. Deeply concerned that systematic rape, sexual slavery and slavery-like practices are still being used to humiliate civilians and military personnel, to destroy society and diminish prospects for a peaceful resolution of conflicts and that the resulting severe physical and psychological trauma endanger not only personal recovery but post-conflict reconstruction of the whole society, as pointed out in the above-mentioned report;

3. Recalls that the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia and the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda have acknowledged in their judgements that rape and sexual enslavement constitute crimes against humanity and the crime of genocide;

4. Once again calls upon States to provide effective criminal penalties and compensation for unremedied violations in order to end the cycle of impunity with regard to sexual violence committed during armed conflicts;

5. Encourages States to promote human rights education on the issues of systematic rape, sexual slavery and slavery-like practices during armed conflicts, ensuring the accuracy of accounts of historical events, in the educational curricula;

2001/21. Intellectual property and human rights

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Guided by the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action, in which the World Conference on Human Rights confirmed that the promotion and protection of human rights, in conformity with the Charter of the United Nations, is the first responsibility of Governments,

Reaffirming that, as declared in article 28 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in the Universal Declaration can be fully realized,

Reaffirming also that, as stated in the provisions of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the rights to self-determination, food, housing, work, health and education constitute legally binding obligations upon State parties,

Stressing that, in accordance with article 27, paragraph 2, of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and article 15, paragraph 1 (c), of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the right to protection of the moral and material interests resulting from any scientific, literary or artistic production of which one is the author is a human right, subject to limitations in the public interest,

Aware also of the need to clarify the scope and meaning of several provisions of the TRIPS Agreement, in particular of articles 7 and 8 on the objectives and principles underlying the Agreement, in order to ensure that States' obligations under the Agreement do not contradict their binding human rights obligations,

Noting with appreciation the day of general discussion held on 27 November 2000 by the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights on article 15, paragraph 1 (c), of the Covenant in order to clarify the relationship between intellectual property and human rights, and the current efforts of the Committee to draft and adopt a general comment on that subject,

Reiterating that actual or potential conflict exists between the implementation of the TRIPS Agreement and the realization of economic, social and cultural rights, in particular the rights to self-determination, food, housing, work, health and education, and in relation to transfers of technology to developing countries,

Stressing the need for adequate protection of the traditional knowledge and cultural values of indigenous peoples and, in particular, for adequate protection against "bio-piracy" and the reduction of indigenous communities' control over their own genetic and natural resources and cultural values,

Emphasizing its concern for the protection of the heritage of indigenous peoples and its appreciation of the work of its Special Rapporteur, Ms. Erica-Irene Daes, on this issue, in particular the revised draft principles and guidelines for the protection of the heritage of indigenous peoples (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2000/26, annex I),

Emphasizing also the provisions of the Convention on Biological Diversity relating to, inter alia, the safeguarding of biological diversity and indigenous knowledge relating to biological diversity, and the promotion of the transfer of environmentally sustainable technologies,

1. Welcomes the progress report submitted by Mr. J. Oloka-Onyango and Ms. Deepika Udagama on globalization and its impact on the full enjoyment of human rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/10) and, in particular, their remarks concerning globalization and the question of intellectual property rights;

2. Also welcomes the report of the High Commissioner on the impact of the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights on human rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2001/13);

3. Reminds all Governments of the primacy of human rights obligations under international law over economic policies and agreements, and requests them, in national, regional and international economic policy forums, to take international human rights obligations and principles fully into account in international economic policy formulation;

4. Calls upon Governments to integrate into their national and local legislation and policies provisions that, in accordance with international human rights obligations and principles, protect the social function of intellectual property;

5. Urges all Governments to ensure that the implementation of the TRIPS Agreement does not negatively impact on the enjoyment of human rights as provided for in international human rights instruments by which they are bound;

6. Also urges all Governments to take fully into account existing State obligations under international human rights instruments in the formulation of proposals for the ongoing review of the TRIPS Agreement, in particular in the context of the Ministerial Conference of the World Trade Organization to be held in Doha in November 2001;

7. Calls upon States parties to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights to fulfil the duty under article 2, paragraph 1, article 11, paragraph 2, and article 15, paragraph 4, to cooperate internationally in order to realize the legal obligations under the Covenant, including in the context of international intellectual property regimes;

8. Suggests that the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights and other bodies monitoring the implementation of treaty obligations in the area of economic, social and cultural rights explore, in the course of reviewing States parties' reports, the implications of the TRIPS Agreement for the realization of economic, social and cultural rights;

9. Requests the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to seek observer status with the World Trade Organization for the ongoing review of the TRIPS Agreement;

10. Also requests the High Commissioner for Human Rights to consider the need for an examination and, if necessary, to conduct such an investigation, into whether the patent, as a legal instrument, is compatible with the promotion and protection of human rights and corresponding State obligations;

11. Further requests the High Commissioner to undertake an analysis of the impact of the TRIPS Agreement on the rights of indigenous peoples;

2001/22. International cooperation in the detection, arrest, extradition and punishment of persons guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity

The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

Recalling the principles of international cooperation in the detection, arrest, extradition and punishment of persons guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity enumerated in General Assembly resolution 3074 (XXVIII) of 3 December 1973,

Recalling also its resolution 2000/24 of 18 August 2000, entitled “Role of universal or extraterritorial competence in preventive action against impunity”,

Convinced that maximum international cooperation among States is needed in order to ensure a thorough investigation of war crimes and crimes against humanity, as well as to bring to trial their perpetrators,

Guided by the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenants on Human Rights and other relevant human rights instruments, as well as the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action, especially Part II, paragraph 91 thereof, and the Statute of the International Criminal Court,

1. Affirms that within the framework of international cooperation in the search for, arrest, extradition and punishment of persons guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity, the highest priority should be given, independently of the circumstances in which these violations are committed, to legal proceedings against all individuals responsible for such crimes, including former heads of State or Government whose exile serves as a pretext for their impunity;

2. Urges all States to cooperate in order to search for, arrest, extradite, bring to trial and punish persons found guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity;

3. Reaffirms the principles of international cooperation in the detection, arrest, extradition and punishment of persons guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity recorded in General Assembly resolution 3074 (XXVIII) of 3 December 1973, in particular:

Every State has the right to try its own nationals for war crimes and crimes against humanity;

War crimes and crimes against humanity, wherever they are committed, shall be subject to investigation and the persons against whom there is prima facie evidence that they have committed such crimes shall be subject to tracing, arrest, trial and, if found guilty, to punishment;

States shall cooperate with each other on a bilateral and multilateral basis, with a view to halting and preventing war crimes and crimes against humanity;

States shall assist each other in searching for, arresting and bringing to trial persons against whom there is prima facie evidence that they have committed such crimes and, if they are found guilty, in punishing them;

Persons against whom there is prima facie evidence that they have committed war crimes and crimes against humanity shall be subject to trial before an independent impartial tribunal, in conformity with the requirements of due process, and, if found guilty, to punishment, as a general rule in the countries in which they committed those crimes. In that connection, States shall cooperate on questions of extraditing such persons. Persons charged with war crimes and crimes against humanity shall not be allowed to claim that the actions fall within the "political offence" exception to extradition, unless the requested State tries the suspect itself;

States shall not take any legislative or other measures which may be prejudicial to the international obligations they have assumed in regard to the search for, arrest, extradition and punishment of persons found guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity;

In cooperating in the search for, arrest and extradition of persons against whom there is prima facie evidence that they have committed war crimes or crimes against humanity and, if found guilty, their punishment, States shall act in conformity with the provisions of the Charter of the United Nations and of the Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Cooperation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations;

4. Affirms that States have an obligation to cooperate in the arrest, extradition, trial and punishment of persons found guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity, including former heads of State or Government, keeping in mind the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations and generally recognized norms of international law;

5. Urges all Governments to implement the relevant resolutions of the General Assembly and other United Nations bodies and to take measures in accordance with international law to put an end to and prevent war crimes and crimes against humanity and to ensure the punishment of all persons found guilty of such crimes, or their extradition to those countries where they have committed such crimes, even when there is no treaty to facilitate that task.

Stressing also the mutual benefits that would result from similar cooperation on the subject of non-discrimination, drawing upon the work and expertise of the Sub-Commission on the subject and the experience of the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights with States parties to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights through the periodic reporting procedure,

Welcoming the request of the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights concerning the preparation of a study on non-discrimination as enshrined in article 2, paragraph 2, of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, and of international law, decided, without a vote, to appeal again to the international community, and to the Security Council in particular, for the embargo provisions affecting the humanitarian situation of the population of Iraq to be lifted. The Sub-Commission also decided to urge the international community and all Governments, including that of Iraq, to alleviate the suffering of the Iraqi population, in particular by facilitating the delivery of food, medical supplies and the wherewithal to meet their basic needs.

“State cooperation with United Nations human rights mechanisms

“The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

“Observing that one of the many roles of the United Nations is to promote, protect and ensure adherence to human rights and fundamental freedoms as defined by its organs, bodies and instruments,

“Affirming the obligation of States to assist the United Nations, including its various human rights mechanisms, in carrying out its functions,

“Observing that the role of the various United Nations human rights mechanisms is to offer assistance to States in identifying and resolving their human rights problems,

“Noting the need for States to cooperate more fully with the various United Nations human rights organs and bodies, including the treaty monitoring bodies, by submitting reports in a timely fashion and, in this regard, noting the report of the Secretary-General on the effective implementation of international instruments on human rights, including reporting obligations under international instruments on human rights (E/CN.4/2000/106),

“Noting also the need for States to facilitate and assist the special rapporteurs/representatives, independent experts and working groups of the special procedures of the Commission on Human Rights and of the advisory services programme,

“Observing that the report of the inter-sessional open-ended working group on enhancing the effectiveness of the mechanisms of the Commission on Human Rights (E/CN.4/2000/112) states that a majority of Governments extend cooperation to the mechanisms in all activities necessary to the fulfilment of their mandates and that while refusal of cooperation occurs only in a minority of cases, those refusals must be a cause of serious concern,

“Recalling its decision 1998/115 of 26 August 1998 on observance of human rights by States which are not parties to United Nations human rights conventions, the working paper submitted by Mr. Vladimir Kartashkin in accordance therewith (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1999/29), its resolution 1999/28 of 26 August 1999 and Mr. Kartashkin’s additional working paper (E/CN.4/Sub.2/2000/2),

“Mindful of the need to provide incentives to States for ratification of human rights treaties and cooperation with United Nations human rights mechanisms, “Recalling Commission on Human Rights resolution 1999/68 of 28 April 1999, General Assembly resolution 54/181 of 17 December 1999 and Commission resolution 2000/70 of 26 April 2000,

“1. Encourages all States to engage in an open dialogue with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, treaty monitoring bodies and the various thematic mechanisms;

“2. Urges all States that have not yet done so to ratify international human rights treaties, notably the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;

“3. Also urges all States to assist the various international human rights mechanisms by submitting periodic reports on time;

“4. Expresses the hope that the States concerned will allow thematic mechanisms to visit when required;

“5. Decides to continue its consideration of State cooperation with United Nations human rights mechanisms under the same agenda item at its fifty-fourth session;

“6. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

“The Commission on Human Rights, taking note of resolution ... of ... August 2001 of the Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights, and recalling the report of the Secretary-General on the effective implementation of international instruments on human rights, including reporting obligations under international instruments on human rights (E/CN.4/2000/106) and the observation by its inter-sessional working group on enhancing the effectiveness of the mechanisms of the Commission contained in paragraph 25 of its report (E/CN.4/2000/112), decides to consider, under the item of its agenda that addresses country situations, any State that meets the following criteria:

(a) The State has not ratified the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights or is more than two years late in submitting its initial or periodic report to the respective monitoring body; and

(b) A request has been made to the Government for a visit by one or more of the following: the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention, the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances, the Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions, the Special Rapporteur on the question of torture, the Special Representative of the Secretary-General on human rights defenders, the Special Rapporteur on the independence of judges and lawyers, the Representative of the Secretary-General on internally displaced persons and, within two years of the request, the visit has not taken place.”

“The right to return of internally displaced persons and refugees

“The Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights,

“Recalling Sub-Commission resolutions 1994/24 of 26 August 1994 and 1998/26 of 26 August 1998, and Commission resolutions 1999/47 of 27 April 1999, 2000/53 of 25 April 2000 and 2001/54 of 24 April 2001,

“Conscious that serious human rights violations and breaches of international humanitarian law are among the reasons why people flee their homes or places of habitual residence and become refugees or internally displaced persons,

“Recognizing that the right of refugees and internally displaced persons to return freely to their original homes or places of habitual residence in safety and dignity, and their right to adequate housing and property restitution or, should this not be possible, appropriate compensation or another form of just reparation, form indispensable elements of national reintegration, reconstruction and reconciliation, and that the recognition of such rights, as well as judicial or other mechanisms to ensure the implementation of such rights, should be included in peace agreements ending armed conflicts,

“Recognizing also the right of all returnees to the free exercise of their right to freedom of movement and to choose their residence, including the right to re-establish residence in their original homes or places of habitual residence and to the issuance of relevant documentation, including identity cards where applicable, their right to privacy and respect for the home, their right to reside peacefully in the security of their own home and their right to enjoy access to all necessary social and economic services, in an environment free of any form of discrimination,

“Noting that the right to freedom of movement and the right to adequate housing and property restitution include the right of protection for returning refugees and internally displaced persons against being compelled to return to their original homes or places of habitual residence and that the right to return to their original homes or places of habitual residence must be exercised in a voluntary and dignified manner,

“Observing that, in the present resolution, “those displaced” and “displaced persons” refer to both refugees and internally displaced persons, unless otherwise indicated,

“1. Confirms that all those displaced have the right to return in safety and dignity and, where conditions are not yet in place, displaced persons cannot be obliged to return;

“2. Also confirms that all those displaced have the right to adequate housing and property restitution or, should this not be possible, appropriate compensation or another form of just reparation, and the particular importance of these rights for displaced persons wishing to return to their original homes or places of habitual residence or to settle voluntarily elsewhere;

“3. Urges all parties to peace agreements and voluntary repatriation agreements to include the right to return in safety and dignity, as well as housing and property restitution rights, consistent with the requirements of international law, in all such agreements;

“4. Reminds States of the right of all displaced persons to participate in the return and restitution process and in the development of the procedures and mechanisms put in place to protect these rights;

“5. Urges all States to guarantee the free and fair exercise of the right to return to one’s home or place of habitual residence by all displaced persons and to develop effective and expeditious legal, administrative and other procedures to ensure the free and fair exercise of this right; to restore full national protection of returning displaced persons, States are also urged to establish an enabling legal, administrative and social framework, in particular to put in place effective mechanisms designed to resolve outstanding housing and property problems, including the re-establishment of housing and property registration records where such records were existent;

“6. Reaffirms the obligation of States to repeal any laws and regulations which are inconsistent with the right to return and the right to housing and property restitution, in particular discriminatory abandonment laws; persons affected have the right to challenge and to have quashed any application of such laws;

“7. Reminds States of the need to ensure, in implementing the right to return, the effective implementation of the right of women to full equality with respect to housing and property restitution, in particular in terms of access and inheritance rights;

“8. Also reminds all States that they have an obligation to inform displaced persons, and displaced persons have the right to be informed, of their rights under national and international law, including the rights referred to in the present resolution; to that end, displaced persons shall receive the necessary guidance and counselling as to the procedures to be followed, including access to fair and effective remedies;

“9. Confirms that where displaced persons voluntarily settle elsewhere, this does not affect their right to return to their home or place of habitual residence, nor their right to property restitution or, should this not be possible, compensation or other form of just reparation;

“10. Urges Governments and other actors involved to do everything possible in order to cease all practices of forced displacement, population transfer and “ethnic cleansing” in violation of international legal standards; to prevent the homelessness of secondary occupants, States are further urged to provide adequate alternative accommodation until displaced persons can return in safety and dignity or they can voluntarily settle elsewhere; where secondary occupants have no place to return to, States are encouraged to provide affordable social housing;

“11. Confirms that displaced persons may choose voluntarily to exchange their property rights over their original homes or places of habitual residence for the same or similar rights over another property or undertake other possible transactions, on condition that such decisions are freely taken, as confirmed by an independent and impartial observer;

“12. Also confirms that the exercise of the right to return is voluntary and not conditional upon permission or approval; if documentation of any sort is necessary, the returnees are entitled to it as of right and free of cost;

“13. Further confirms that the obligation of the State to assist the right of return includes an obligation to make good any damage for which the authorities are responsible, including the obligation to restore the infrastructure, inter alia water, electricity, gas, roads and land, where it has been damaged or destroyed, without which the right to return cannot be fulfilled; in particular, States shall not charge returning displaced persons with the costs for services consumed by those who were temporarily accommodated in the displaced persons’ homes;

“14. Reminds States that the obligation to secure the protection of human rights includes the obligation to create an effective and independent mechanism to which complainants have effective access to determine in which cases destruction of and damage to their homes and property was carried out by forces for which the State is responsible and, where that is established, to provide full compensation for past and continuing resultant losses; the right to appeal such decisions shall be ensured;

“15. Also reminds States that the obligation to secure the protection of human rights includes the obligation to carry out a thorough and effective investigation into any claim of unlawful destruction of homes and property or unlawful occupation, which investigation must be capable of leading to the identification and punishment of those responsible and must include effective access for victims to the investigatory procedure;

“16. Further reminds States that they have an obligation to ensure the implementation of any decisions made by impartial and independent judicial bodies concerning restitution;

“17. Encourages States to seek through appropriate means to cooperate with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees with regard to matters concerning refugees and, where appropriate, internally displaced persons and with all other humanitarian organizations and other appropriate actors, in the exercise of their respective mandates, and to ensure rapid and unimpeded access to displaced persons to assist in their return or resettlement and reintegration;

“18. Decides to continue its consideration of the question of the right to return of displaced persons in the context of freedom of movement under the same agenda item at its fifty-fourth session;

“19. Recommends that the Commission on Human Rights adopt the text of the present resolution.”
