

Chile

The Government of Chile has a nationwide network of programs to assist children in the worst forms of child labor and has incorporated the goal of reducing child labor into some social protection programs. A gap in the legal framework remains, however. Chilean law outlaws the production and trafficking of drugs, but does not provide for specific additional penalties for adults who involve children in these illicit activities. In addition, children are still found in the worst forms of child labor, most commonly in urban informal work and commercial sexual exploitation.

Prevalence and Sectoral Distribution of the Worst Forms of Child Labor

While rates of child labor are relatively low in Chile,¹⁰⁵⁹ some children may be exploited in the worst forms of child labor, particularly in the urban informal sector and commercial sexual exploitation.¹⁰⁶⁰

In urban areas of Chile, boys carry loads in agricultural loading docks and assist in construction activities, while girls can be found selling goods on the street. These activities may carry the risk of injury and accidents as they require high physical exertion and, in the case of work on the streets, exposure to densely-transited areas with the risk of vehicle accidents.¹⁰⁶¹ Girls also work as domestic servants where they may be vulnerable to physical and sexual abuse.¹⁰⁶² The commercial sexual exploitation of children (CSEC)—girls and boys—is a problem in Chile. Cities where CSEC takes place include Santiago and Valparaiso where children are exploited in both open areas, such as parks, as well as in hidden venues, including bars and dance clubs.¹⁰⁶³

Children in rural areas, including those of indigenous descent, are involved in caring for farm animals, as well as harvesting, collecting, and selling crops, such as wheat, potatoes, oats, pine nuts, and quinoa (a plant native to South America). Agricultural work may involve handling pesticides and exposure to extreme weather conditions.¹⁰⁶⁴

Children in Chile are exploited in other types of activities constituting the worst forms of child labor. For example, in the border area with Peru and Bolivia, children are used to transport drugs.¹⁰⁶⁵ Children are trafficked internally for the purpose of commercial sexual exploitation.¹⁰⁶⁶

Laws and Regulations on the Worst Forms of Child Labor

In 2007, the Government revised the Labor Code, raising the minimum age for work to 18 and to 15 for light work. In 2009, Chile updated a list of 27 types of work that are dangerous and prohibited to children under the age of 18 due to their nature and conditions, such as work underground or underwater, work with toxic chemicals and handling heavy machinery.¹⁰⁶⁷

Chilean laws prohibit slavery and forced labor.¹⁰⁶⁸ The Penal Code prohibits child trafficking across national boundaries for the purpose of sexual exploitation. Other legislation is used to prosecute internal trafficking of children for both forced labor and commercial sexual exploitation.¹⁰⁶⁹ The Penal Code prohibits all activities related to the prostitution of children and all activities related to child pornography, including its production, distribution, and possession.¹⁰⁷⁰ The minimum age for compulsory military service in Chile is 18 years.¹⁰⁷¹

Chilean law outlaws the production and trafficking of drugs, but does not provide for specific additional penalties for adults who involve children in these illicit activities.¹⁰⁷²

the Servicio Nacional de Menores (National Service for Children or SENAME), which is charged with implementing a national plan against child labor. The participating ministries include the Ministry of Labor, the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Justice, the Ministry of Agriculture, the National Statistics Institute, among others.¹⁰⁷³ SENAME monitors the incidence of the worst forms of child labor through a national registry, which receives information on cases identified by the Ministry of Labor, the Policia de Investigaciones (national investigations police), the Carabineros (national uniformed police), and by SENAME’s social programming. The registry serves as a means to track the incidence of the worst forms of child labor throughout the country.¹⁰⁷⁴ In 2009, the registry received reports of 289 cases of children and adolescents involved in the worst forms of child labor. In addition, all of the provinces in the country have Regional Committees for the Prevention and Eradication of Child Labor, and are led by the regional Ministries of Labor.¹⁰⁷⁵

Institutional Mechanisms for Coordination and Enforcement

The Government of Chile operates a National Advisory Committee to Eradicate Child Labor, headed by

The Government also operates an Interagency Working Group on Trafficking in Persons, which has the responsibility of coordinating the Government’s anti-trafficking efforts and is headed by the Ministry of the Interior. Members include law enforcement agencies, the Public Ministry, the Ministry of Foreign Relations, the Ministry of Justice, and the National Service for Minors, among others.¹⁰⁷⁶

The Ministry of Labor is charged with enforcing child labor laws and employs approximately 360 labor inspectors who inspect all types of labor violations, including child labor. From January to October 2009, the Ministry of Labor imposed sanctions in 47 cases of child labor.¹⁰⁷⁷

While the Ministry of Labor is responsible for enforcing labor laws, a number of agencies, including SENAME, the Ministry of Health, and the police have roles to play in enforcing laws related to the worst forms of child labor and in identifying children exploited in such situations.¹⁰⁷⁸ For example, Chile’s National Police has a Department of Minors’ Police with 103 officers dedicated to minors’ issues, who identify children in the worst forms of child labor and refer them to the SENAME.¹⁰⁷⁹

A number of Government agencies are likewise charged with enforcement of CSEC and TIP laws, including the national Investigations Police, the Public Ministry, and the National Uniformed Police.¹⁰⁸⁰ Chile's Investigations Police oversees regional sex crimes offices, which investigate the commercial sexual exploitation of children.¹⁰⁸¹ Chile's Public Ministry investigated 333 cases of commercial sexual exploitation of children and criminal courts handed down 72 convictions. Of the 333 cases and 72 convictions, 108 cases and 16 convictions involved trafficking in persons. In 2009, 450 officials from Chile's police forces were trained in handling cases of commercial sexual exploitation of children, and resources dedicated to detecting child prostitution were increased.¹⁰⁸²

The Government along with IOM conducted eight training sessions for over 600 law enforcement officials, prosecutors, and prison officials on detecting and prosecuting cases of trafficking in persons.¹⁰⁸³

Government Policies on the Worst Forms of Child Labor

As part of its National Policy on Childhood (2001-2010), the Government of Chile updated its national child labor action plan in 2007 to include goals focusing on protecting child and adolescent workers.¹⁰⁸⁴ In September 2009, the Government signed an agreement with ILO to integrate the issue of child labor into the country's social protection system. The policy calls for both preventive actions and measures to remove children from the worst forms of child labor.¹⁰⁸⁵ In June 2009, the Ministry of Labor signed an agreement with the Confederation of Production and Commerce (CPC), one of the country's largest business associations, to collaborate in the fight against child labor. The CPC committed to distributing guides to employers on eliminating child labor.¹⁰⁸⁶ The Government of Chile adopted the 2006-2010 United Nations Development Assistance Framework, which among other goals aims to build government capacity to combat child labor through effective policies and programs.¹⁰⁸⁷

On the regional level, Chile has signed agreements with other regional governments to address issues of the commercial sexual exploitation of children and child trafficking. For example, the Government and other associates and member governments of MERCOSUR are carrying out the "Niño Sur" ("Southern Child") initiative to protect the rights of children and adolescents in the region.¹⁰⁸⁸ Chile's National Tourism Service is part of the Joint Group for the Elimination of Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children in Tourism, which conducts prevention and awareness-raising campaigns to combat the commercial exploitation of children in Latin America.¹⁰⁸⁹ In 2009, Chile's National Tourism Service (SERNATUR), SENAME, and ILO signed an agreement to combat child sex tourism. The Government of Chile has a bilateral agreement with Bolivia to combat the worst forms of child labor, with a special emphasis on child trafficking.¹⁰⁹⁰

Social Programs to Eliminate or Prevent the Worst Forms of Child Labor

The Government of Chile operates a number of programs to prevent and remove children from the worst forms of child labor.¹⁰⁹¹ SENAME assists disadvantaged youth and children at-risk of or engaged in the worst forms of child labor through its 47 specialized integral intervention programs throughout the country.¹⁰⁹² In addition, SENAME operates an additional 14 specialized programs, which include psychosocial and education services to assist child victims of commercial sexual exploitation including 1,062 children. During the reporting period, SENAME carried out trainings for officials from SERNATUR on child sex tourism.¹⁰⁹³ The funding for all SENAME intervention programs was $8 million during the reporting period.¹⁰⁹⁴ SENAME's programs to address the issue were funded, sustainable, and reached their goals, although additional interventions may be needed, given the scope and magnitude of commercial sexual exploitation of children in Chile.

The Ministry of Education operates educational reinsertion programs for vulnerable children, including child laborers, in 13 regions, and served 1,100 children during 2009. In addition, the Ministry of Education oversees a bilingual education program that aims to increase the quality of education available to indigenous children and increase communities' involvement in the educational process.¹⁰⁹⁵ The Government's Ministry of Planning runs the Programa

Puente (Bridge Program), which assists families living in extreme poverty by facilitating families' access to Government social services, including health, education, and cash transfers. One of the objectives of the program is to combat child labor.¹⁰⁹⁶ In addition, the Government participates in a 4-year $3 million regional project to eradicate child labor in Latin America, funded by the Government of Spain.¹⁰⁹⁷

The Government of Chile has a range of sustainable services and programs to assist the most vulnerable children. The programs have nationwide coverage and the capacity to reach children in many of the worst forms of child labor, particularly those at-risk or victims of commercial sexual exploitation.

Based on the reporting above, the following actions would advance the reduction of the worst forms of child labor in Chile:

IN THE AREA OF LAWS AND REGULATIONS:

- Strengthen legal protections for children from the worst forms of child labor by specifically forbidding the procurement of children for illicit activities, such as drug production or trafficking.

IN THE AREA OF PROGRAMS:

- Implement awareness raising efforts in border areas to prevent the recruitment of children into drug transport.

¹⁰⁵⁹ Data provided in the chart at the beginning of this country report are based on UCW analysis of ILO SIMPOC, UNICEF MICS, and World Bank surveys, Child Economic Activity, School Attendance, and Combined Working and Studying Rates, 2005-2010. All data provided are from 2003. Reliable data on the worst forms of child labor are especially difficult to collect given the often hidden or illegal nature of the worst forms. As a result, statistics and information on children's work in general are reported in this section, which may or may not include the worst forms of child labor.
