

Venezuela Situation

As of January 2020

Over 4.8 million refugees and migrants from Venezuela are living abroad, more than 3.9 million of whom have left Venezuela to other countries in Latin America and the Caribbean.

Since 2014, some 768,146 asylum claims have been lodged by Venezuelans. In addition, over 2.1 million regular stay permits and residencies have been granted to Venezuelans worldwide.

With the support of receiving States and host communities, UNHCR continues to improve reception conditions, advocate for legal stay, identify protection risks and ensure access to basic services.

POPULATION OF CONCERN

Host Countries

* Source: Regional Inter-agency Coordination Platform, March 2019

 Caribbean sub-region includes data from: Aruba, Curaçao, the Dominican Republic, Guyana, Trinidad and Tobago; Southern Cone: Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Paraguay; Central America and Mexico: Costa Rica, Mexico, Panama.

FUNDING (AS OF 17 JANUARY 2020)

US$ 258.1 M

requested for the Venezuela situation

Overview

Growing numbers of people continue to leave Venezuela for different reasons, including insecurity and violence, persecution and threats, food and medicine shortages, lack of access to social services, as well as loss of income.

Most governments in the region have shown commendable solidarity towards refugees and migrants from Venezuela, giving them access to territory, protection and assistance. However, host communities have become increasingly strained.

The Quito Declaration and Plan of Action mark a significant step forward harmonizing policies and practices, scaling up and coordinating the humanitarian response and improving access and enjoyment of rights to refugees and migrants.

While some Venezuelans have obtained documentation which allows them to stay legally, many have no regular status, and are therefore more vulnerable to exploitation, abuse, violence, trafficking and discrimination.

Cúcuta, border of Colombia with Venezuela. A family waits along the road before starting to walk to their next destination after fleeing Venezuela. ©UNHCR/Vincent Tremeau

UNHCR Response and Strategy

UNHCR has joined efforts with over 137 partners to establish a Regional Response Plan for Refugees and Migrants (RMRP), which serves as a strategic and operational blueprint, a coordination template, and a funding mechanism. The ultimate goal is the provision of protection and assistance to Venezuelans in need, irrespective of status.

Main Activities

In close collaboration with host governments, partner organizations, civil society, faith-based organizations and UN Agencies (in particular IOM), UNHCR undertakes the following activities:

Safe and dignified reception conditions and advocacy for legal stay

UNHCR has stepped up its presence in border areas across the region to improve reception conditions and respond to the basic needs of refugees and migrants from Venezuela, provide legal aid and counselling on access to refugee status and alternative forms of stay; and give technical assistance to relevant authorities to develop an effective coordination and prepare local response plans. New offices have opened in Peru and the Caribbean to respond to the increasing flow of Venezuelans.

Support government registration, profiling and protection monitoring

The total number of refugees and migrants from Venezuela registered by UNHCR in ProGres is 122,000, the vast majority in Brazil where UNHCR supports the Government screening centres at the border by carrying out biometric registration. UNHCR is also supporting the Governments of Trinidad and Tobago, Curacao, Aruba, Ecuador, Guyana and Peru in developing registration. In parallel, UNHCR is implementing protection monitoring exercises to better understand the needs and risks faced by Venezuelans and to provide a more tailored response.

Providing emergency/temporary shelter

In Brazil, UNHCR is supporting the Brazilian Government with site planning and provision of safe shelter to Venezuelans arriving in border cities. So far, 13 temporary shelters have been opened hosting over 6,000 Venezuelans. Tents, relief items and drinking fountains have been provided. In Maicao, Colombia, a reception centre opened in March 2019, set up at the request of national and local authorities. The centre provides temporary access to shelter, food, water and basic medical care to vulnerable Venezuelans. Emergency shelters exist also in Bolivia, Argentina, Chile, Costa Rica, Peru and Ecuador.

Direct humanitarian assistance to meet basic needs

UNHCR has distributed drinking water, hygiene and dignity kits, blankets and snacks to refugees and migrants at the main border points, as well as cash-based assistance to vulnerable Venezuelans in Mexico, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru, Chile and Colombia. In terms of health, UNHCR has established referral pathways with hospitals in Lima, Peru and built a primary health centre in Cucuta, Colombia. As a strategy for socioeconomic integration, UNHCR has supported the voluntary relocation of Venezuelans from border areas in Brazil to other cities with wider employment opportunities and services while also running programmes to support labour insertion and entrepreneurship in Colombia, Ecuador and Peru.

Protection interventions in main hosting areas

Sexual and Gender-Based Violence (SGBV) and trafficking are on the increase and are one of the top protection concerns for Venezuelans fleeing their country. UNHCR is establishing a Regional Safe Spaces Network inside Venezuela as well as in transit and destination countries, which offers short-term shelter, safety, specialized services and humanitarian assistance. UNHCR has also installed child-friendly spaces and spaces for lactating mothers at border crossing points and is advocating with host Governments to facilitate access to education for Venezuelan children. UNHCR has established networks of outreach volunteers to improve linkage with the communities and ensure two-way communication and accountability, while working with different population groups, including women, children, elderly, youth, persons with disabilities, indigenous and LGBTI groups. In addition, UNHCR has coordinated with partners the establishment of a regional Support Spaces initiative to ensure refugees and migrants receive updated and reliable information and a minimum package of services in key locations across the region.

Campaigns against xenophobia

In an effort to curb growing xenophobia against Venezuelans and promote solidarity with the host community, UNHCR together with several partners has launched a number of solidarity campaigns across the region. Panama launched the “Somos lo Mismo” campaign, Peru launched “Tu Causa Es Mi Causa”, Brazil started the “Historias en Movimiento” initiative, Costa Rica launched the “Países Hermanos” campaign, UNHCR Colombia runs the “Somos Panas Colombia” campaign and Ecuador launched the “Abrazos que unen” campaign in 2019. A regional campaign and national initiative will also be launched in Argentina, Chile and Uruguay this year.

Working with partners

The Regional Inter-Agency Coordination Platform and the national coordination platforms, co-led by UNHCR and IOM at regional and national levels, work very closely with the UN Sustainable Development Group for Latin America and the Caribbean (UNSDG LAC), the Resident Coordinators and the UN Country Teams. Currently, the Regional Platform has participants from UN agencies, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), donor countries and international financial institutions, as well as the Red Cross Movement.

For more information: Olga Sarrado Mur, Communication Officer, sarrado@unhcr.org, Cell +507 6640 0185

For more information visit: Venezuela Data Portal