1. What is the app?

Children have said that one of the things they lack the most while looking for protection is access to information that they trust. There is a large group of children displaced in Europe who are forced outside of the protection system and are unable to access services, support and information to remain safe.

Often what they do have, however, is a smart phone. Missing Children Europe wants to use this crucial bit of technology to give children access to child friendly, up to date and accessible information on their rights, and

Min... ila

"Min" translates to "from" in Arabic while "ila" means "to". "From...to" sounded like a familiar term in the given context, plus it's easily pronounceable in a variety of languages. We hope you like it too!

the available support wherever they are in Europe, including the support that your organisation provides. The app will empower children to take their decisions into their own hands in an informed manner and to reach protection, rather than be forced to trust those who profit from their vulnerability while in Europe.

The app is specifically tailored to the needs of these children, with a focus on facilitating access to understandable information about dedicated services such as shelter, food, and health services in the area they are in. We have involved children throughout the development process to make sure that the app is as relevant as possible. "If it can help make some other kid's journey a bit better than mine, the app will already be a success", said Tarek*, a young boy who helped us design the app.

The services are available on a map for the area that children are in, and services are categorised as: "help", "food", "shelter", "toilet/shower", "family", "health", "education", "clothes", "wifi", "money", "helpline", "faith", "fun", "asylum" and "guardians", and additional subcategories. All services included in the app are from trusted NGOs and international organisations.

The app is available in several languages: English, French, Arabic, Farsi and Tigrinya. The Miniila will soon be available in at least 8 countries: Belgium, Sweden, the UK, France, Bulgaria, Italy, Germany and Greece.

This project is supported and advised by experts from the UNHCR, ICMPD, the Global Partnership to End Violence Against Children, OSCE, and Europol.

2. Want to be a part of it? Get in touch!

Your services can be displayed in the app and therefore accessible to all children on the move that are in your area and in your country. This is available to your organisation for free, however, we require you to make sure that all information that you upload corresponds to reality and is regularly updated. That is because we don't want to disappoint our users, children that need advice and help!

It's very easy to be a part of Miniila, you only need to contact the focal point in your country with the contact details of the person who will manage your information in the app:

- 1. Name of the person
- 2. Email of the person (attention, NOT a general email address e.g. info@ngo.org)
- 3. Name of your organisation
- 4. Address of your organisation

4. The app uses geolocalisation, so how do we ensure privacy of users?

The privacy policy of the app makes sure that children's information is safe. Information in the app and location tracking will never be handed out and/or used for migration management purpose. We are currently revising the privacy policy. An updated version will be made available before the launch of the app.

Here are some highlights from the policy, available on the website in a child-friendly language and in the different languages of the app:

- "Personal data" refers to information that would (either alone or in combination with other personal data) allow someone to identify the user
- To register as a member of the app, users are required to provide their date of birth and give access to geolocalisation. This information won't be shared with anyone and doesn't allow to know where the user is.
- The app uses personal data for the purpose of operating the Platform and providing the information and services required in connection with the Platform.

- The app further uses information about the user's device for the purpose of improving the Platform and services, for example by ensuring content on the Platform is displayed in the most effective manner for users and their device.
- Personal data is not available to NGOs and charities that have partnered with the Platform.
- Information in the app and location tracking will never be handed out and / or used for migration management purposes!
- Disclosure of personal data is described further in the privacy policy.

5. How do we reach children?

The app can only reach its full potential if the children we are all committed to support are aware of its existence and able to download it. We are therefore engaged in making the promotion of this tool a priority.

The whole community of organisations engaged in the app will have at its disposal several tools already developed to reach out to children.

- > flyers can be distributed directly to children in places that these children find themselves in such as health centres or reception centres;
- > stickers can be distributed or stuck on donation kits or packages;
- > posters can be placed in strategic places where children find themselves
- > direct engaging promotion through social media and YouTube,
- > outreach work by young people who share the same background; and
- > word of mouth by professionals or peers who have come across the app.

What can you do?

- > Would you like to promote the app in your networks and to the children you are working with? You can start through word of mouth, sharing information on social media and ask for flyers or posters to your national focal point mentioned above!
- > Do you know any channels or young influencers that could promote the app? Get in touch with your national focal point below!
