

SYRIAN REFUGEES

INTER-AGENCY REGIONAL UPDATE

19 March 2015

HIGHLIGHTS

Conflict in Syria enters fifth year

As the Syrian conflict enters its fifth year, millions of refugees in neighboring countries and those displaced inside Syria are caught in deteriorating conditions, facing an even bleaker future without more international support. A statement from UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon on 12 March stressed that a political solution to the conflict is necessary and called upon the international community to unite and lend its full support to UN efforts to forge an inclusive, Syrian-led political transition based on the Geneva Communiqué and which meets the aspirations of the Syrian people for freedom, dignity and justice.

On 13 March, senior officials of the UN's humanitarian system issued a joint statement expressing their horror, outrage and frustration as the crisis in Syria enters its fifth year. They restated their commitment as humanitarian leaders and urged world leaders to put aside their differences and use their influence to bring about meaningful change in Syria. The officials warned that the credibility of the international community is at stake.

Meanwhile, some 21 humanitarian and human rights organizations released a report which accuses the UN Security Council of failing to implement the three resolutions passed last year which sought to boost humanitarian assistance to Syrian civilians. The organizations delivered a 'failing grade' for world powers and the broader international community. The report can be accessed here: http://www.oxfam.de/sites/www.oxfam.de/files/syria_report-oxfam-sperrfrist-120315.pdf

OPERATIONAL CONTEXT

The conflict in Syria has now entered its fifth year representing an increasingly complex global challenge with unprecedented displacement in the region and increased needs and vulnerabilities of refugees and persons of concern.

Over 3.9 million Syrian refugees had sought refuge in neighboring countries and North Africa. In addition, more than 130,000 Syrians have sought asylum in Europe.

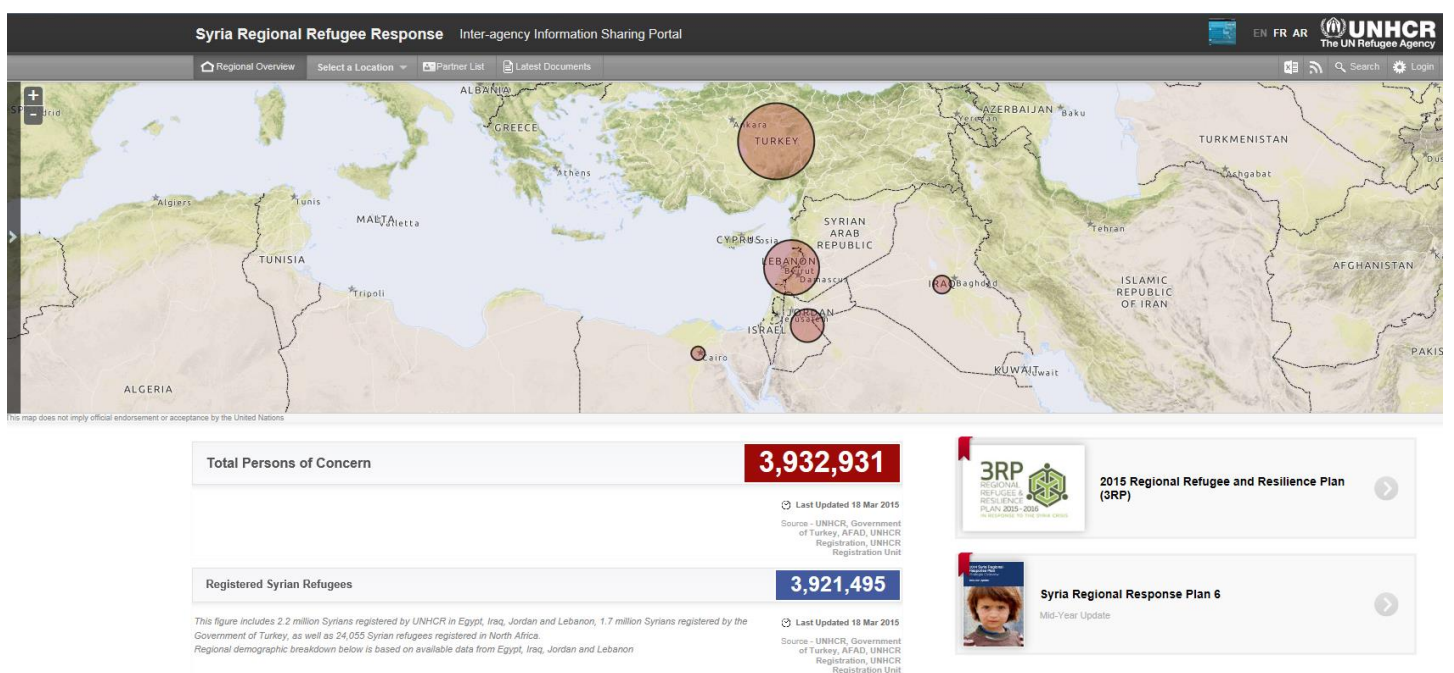

Neighboring countries have been generously hosting Syrian refugees, however there have been severe economic and social impacts on their markets, infrastructures, and communities. Refugees are becoming more vulnerable as their displacement is prolonged.

More than 1.18 million Syrian refugees are in Lebanon, which now ranks first in the world in refugees per capita. Well over half are living in insecure dwellings, whilst 75 per cent of refugee families are struggling to meet their food needs. Turkey's Disaster and Emergency Management Presidency (AFAD) estimates that the number of Syrians in the country has exceeded 1.7 million, of whom some 225,000 are currently living in 24 camps across the south of Turkey.

In Jordan, there are now more than 626,000 Syrian refugees, of which approximately 84 per cent live outside refugee camps, in urban and rural areas across the country. Two-thirds of these refugees are now living below the poverty line and one in six refugee household's live on less than USD$40 per person per month. From September 2014, almost 31,000 Syrians fled to Iraq from the Kurdish town of Kobane, bringing the total number of Syrian refugees in Iraq to 244,731 people. There are currently more than 133,000 Syrians living in urban neighborhoods and shared accommodation in Egypt.

Over 200 agencies and aid groups, together with the governments of neighboring countries, are working together to protect Syrian refugees and assist them with meeting their basic needs, improve access to education and medical care, and provide basic goods such as tents, food and safe water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) facilities.

Monthly sectoral dashboards are published on the Syria Regional Response Data Portal, detailing sectoral priorities, achievements and needs by country and regionally.

The Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan 2015-2016

The Strategic Response Plan (SRP) for Syria and the Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan (3RP) in response to the Syria crisis were jointly launched in Berlin on 18 December 2014.

The 3RP is a country-driven, regionally coherent plan to address refugee protection and humanitarian needs whilst building the resilience of vulnerable people and impacted communities and strengthening the capacity of national delivery systems in the five most affected countries neighbouring Syria.

The 3RP integrates and is aligned with existing and emerging national plans, including the Jordan Response Plan 2015 to the Syria Crisis, the Lebanon Crisis Response Plan, the Iraq SRP, and country responses in Turkey and Egypt.

Requiring US$5.5 billion in funding to directly support almost six million people, the 3RP is based on planning projections of up to 4.27 million refugees in countries neighbouring Syria by the end of 2015 and help to over a million vulnerable people in host communities. Beyond those receiving direct support, an additional 20.6 million people in impacted local communities will benefit from upgrades to local infrastructure and services in areas such as health, education, water and sewage, training and capacity building of service providers, and policy and administrative support to local and national authorities.

UPDATE ON ACHIEVEMENTS

Protection

IRAQ

- Between 16 and 28 February, a total of 1,303 Syrians from Kobani were admitted to Kurdistan Region of Iraq (KR-I), the majority through Ibrahim Khalil border. This brings the total number of new arrivals to KR-I since 25 September 2014 to 33,127 and reflects a reduction in arrivals from the previous two weeks (2,172 Syrian arrivals). The new arrivals were transported to Gawilan camp in Dohuk Governorate, where they were registered by UNHCR. Most of the refugees then opted to leave the camp to join family members living in other governorates.
- For the same period, a total of 1,861 cases (3,741 individuals) were processed at registration centers in all four Syrian refugee camps in the Erbil Governorate, involving the issuance and/or renewal of UNHCR documentation and Kurdistan Regional Government (KRG) residency cards. In non-camp areas, a total of 1,420 cases (2,808 individuals) of Syrian origin were processed by the UNHCR-Protection and Reintegration Center (PARC) in Erbil Governorate. The Residency Directorate in Erbil processed a total of 949 applications from Syrian refugees, resulting in 426 cases being issued with residency card and 140 applications granted renewal.
- In Basirma camp, Erbil Governorate, Terre des Hommes conducted awareness sessions with ten families on the importance of possessing marriage and/or birth certificates and the risks associated with the lack thereof. In the same camp, Child Protection Units continued to follow up with young people to minimize the risk of potential forced recruitment of children to return to Syria to fight.
- From 16 to 28 February, UNICEF and partners provided psychosocial and specialized services to a total of 1,173 newly registered children in refugee camps in Dohuk, Sulaymaniyah and Erbil governorates.

LEBANON

- During the first week of March, INTERSOS started a campaign to engage men against sexual and gender based violence (SGBV) in the Chouf, Mount Lebanon.

TURKEY

- Turkey has now become the biggest refugee hosting country in the world with more than 1.7 million registered with the authorities.

- According to Turkey's Disaster and Emergency Management Authority (AFAD) between 26 January and 4 March, 15,344 Syrians voluntarily returned to the Syrian town of Ayn-Al-Arab (Kobane). Reportedly, most of the returnees are men, who intend to help with cleaning up of the town, which is hazardous due to the presence of unexploded ordnances (UXOs), unstable buildings and infrastructure. For these reasons, Turkish authorities in in the border town of Suruc as well as local authorities inside Syria advise against returns of women and children until the area is cleared of hazardous objects and human remains.

Education

IRAQ

- As of 12 March, UNHCR successfully negotiated with the Department of Labor and Social Affairs to include refugee children with special needs in their education program.
- In the Darashakran refugee camp in Erbil Governorate, due to the expansion of the school infrastructure, the number of children per classroom has been reduced, providing a more conducive learning environment.

JORDAN

- UNFPA delivered training courses in self-reliance, vocational training and life skills for 1,399 women, girls, men and boys between 1 and 28 February.

TURKEY

- In 2015, the Refugee Education Trust (RET) will provide relevant and accredited Turkish language courses to Syrian adolescents and adult men in three districts of Sanliurfa Province, and to Syrian women within Women's Cultural Centres. RET will also provide life-saving support for survivors of SGBV in seven Women's Cultural Centres benefitting both refugees and members of host communities.

Food Security and Nutrition

IRAQ

- Between 16 and 28 February, in Dohuk Governorate, WFP distributed food parcels to 67,783 refugees, whilst 1,411 beneficiaries in the Akre settlement received food vouchers. In Gawilan camp, WFP has identified providers for the establishment of food shops, which will enable the shift from food parcel to a voucher system, as demanded by the refugees.
- During the same time period, in Erbil Governorate, WFP distributed food parcels to 5,862 refugees in Qushtapa camp, and Primary Health Care (PHC) Project distributed dry milk powder to 250 children in Basirma camp.

LEBANON

- A new partnership between International Orthodox Christian Charities (IOCC) and UNICEF will further enhance the capacity of the nutrition programme, with 60,000 individuals targeted for malnutrition screening and seven sentinel sites expected to be established during the year. For the period 1 January to 6 March, over 6,100 children under five years old have been screened and 131 admitted for malnutrition treatment in Lebanon.
- IOCC is supporting a community kitchen for the distribution of food portions, consisting of hot pots and bread parcels for vulnerable Lebanese and Syrian refugee families in the towns of Minyara, Halba and Tal Abbas in Akkar, North Lebanon, with the support of Diakonie Katastrophenhilfe (DKH). Between 1 and 6 March, IOCC distributed 720 hot pots for 240 households, approximately 1,200 individuals.

Health

- On 16 March, International Mercy Corps (IMC) released a new report addressing the critical mental health needs of Syrian refugees in Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon and Turkey, as well as Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs) inside Syria. The report contains evidence that as mental and psychosocial needs continue to grow among the millions of Syrians exposed to war and displacement, so too does the urgent need for skilled staff and accessible mental health services. The full report can be accessed here: <http://internationalmedicalcorps.org/document.doc?id=526>

In Basirma and Qushtapa camps, PHC started a 12-day vaccination campaign for measles (nine months to five-year-old children) and polio (new born to five years of age).
- Between 20 and 27 February, a joint WHO/UNHCR mission on Mental Health and Psychosocial Support (MHPSS) took place in KR-I, with the participation from the Ministry of Health and the Department of Health from the three governorates. The centre, to be operated by HRDF, will extend psychosocial counselling and support services to Syrian refugees and provide up-to-date information on their rights in the fields of health, education and on their other legal entitlements in Turkey. It will also contribute to strengthening the cooperation with civil society organizations (CSOs) and Turkish authorities so as to identify problems faced by groups considered at risk among Syrian refugees including women, people with disabilities, elderly and children.
- In February, UNFPA provided reproductive health and family planning services to 950 Syrian refugees and counseling and psychosocial support services to 250 women, 130 children, and ten men.
