Committee against Torture

List of issues prior to submission of the fourth periodic report of Armenia, due in 2016*

The Committee against Torture, at its thirty-eighth session (A/62/44, paras. 23 and 24), established an optional procedure which consists in the preparation and adoption of a list of issues to be transmitted to the State party concerned prior to the submission of its periodic report. The replies of the State party to this list of issues will constitute its report under article 19 of the Convention.

Specific Information on the implementation of articles 1 to 16 of the Convention, including with regard to the Committee's previous recommendations

Articles 1 and 4

1. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 10),¹ please provide updated information on:

(a) Any progress made in amending the Criminal Code with a view to bringing the definition of torture in full conformity with article 1 of the Convention² and whether any related legislative reforms have been included in the National Human Rights Action Plan (NHRAP);

(b) Whether acts amounting to torture under the Criminal Code are subject to the statute of limitations.

* Adopted by the Committee at its fifty-third session (3–28 November 2014).

² A/HRC/15/9, para. 93.5.

Article 2³

2. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (paras. 8 and 11) and in the light of the information received from the State party on follow-up to the concluding observations, please provide updated information on the status of the amendment and supplements to the Criminal Code, which were submitted to the National Assembly in September 2012, and on the status of the amendments to the Criminal Procedure Code, which was submitted to the National Assembly in November 2012.⁴

3. Please provide information on:

(a) Why the Prosecutor's Office refers cases involving marks of bodily harm upon arrival in penitentiary institutions to the police, given that most such cases allegedly occur in police custody;

(b) Reports that detained persons who have sustained bodily injuries in a police detention facility are pressured by the police to make a written statement that they were injured before detention as a result of falling from a "house roof, a tree or a staircase";

(c) Why preliminary inquiries into allegations of torture are conducted in a preliminary, pre-investigation, ex officio manner, and why most complaints concerning torture or ill-treatment are allegedly dismissed by the Special Investigation Service (SIS) without an official criminal investigation;

(d) Why a detainee only has one week to appeal a decision of dismissal of a case in the preliminary, pre-investigation, ex officio inquiry, after which all further complaints of torture or ill-treatment will be dismissed;

(e) Whether detainees who have one week to appeal a decision of dismissal of a case in the preliminary, pre-investigation, ex officio inquiry benefit from legal assistance, including from public defenders.

4. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 9), please provide information on the number of non-combat deaths in the armed forces, as well as on hazing and other mistreatment of conscripts by officers and fellow soldiers, during the period under review. Please also provide information on the outcome of any investigations conducted in that regard and on compensation and rehabilitation provided to victims and their families.

5. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 11), please provide updated information on:

(a) Any amendments to the Criminal Procedure Code to ensure all fundamental legal safeguards for all detainees from the very outset of the deprivation of their liberty, such as being informed of and understanding their rights, prompt access to a lawyer and, if necessary, to legal aid; notifying a member of their family or another appropriate person of their own choice; having access to a medical examination by an independent doctor free of charge and, if possible, by a doctor of their choice; and being brought promptly before a judge;⁵

³ The issues raised under article 2 could also imply different articles of the Convention, including but not limited to article 16. As indicated in the Committee's general comment No. 2 (2008) on the implementation of article 2 by States parties, "The obligation to prevent torture in article 2 is wide-ranging. The obligations to prevent torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment (hereinafter 'ill-treatment') under article 16, paragraph 1, are indivisible, interdependent and interrelated. The obligation to prevent ill-treatment in practice overlaps with and is largely congruent with the obligation to prevent torture ... In practice, the definitional threshold between ill-treatment and torture is often not clear" (para. 3). See also chapter V of the same general comment.

(b) The keeping of police records of all periods of deprivation of liberty and on the introduction of electronic protocols of detention; whether persons for whom a protocol of detention has not been drawn up enjoy the fundamental legal safeguards outlined above; and if those records are available to the lawyers and relatives of detained persons;

(c) Whether the three-day time limit for transferring persons deprived of their liberty from a police station to a detention facility is respected; and whether the detainees are promptly brought before a judge;

(d) The introduction, during the period under review, of audio or video recording equipment in interrogation rooms of police stations and detention facilities;

(e) Any increase in funding provided to the Chamber of Advocates Public Defender's Office in order to ensure effective legal aid;⁶

(f) The reported practice of police officers discouraging detainees from requesting legal assistance, indicating that it may affect them negatively during the investigation, in the light of the follow-up information provided by the State party;⁷

(g) The status of the Action Plan accompanying the National Strategy for the Protection of Human Rights, in the light of the follow-up information provided by the State party.⁸

6. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 17), please provide information on measures taken by the State party to ensure the full independence and impartiality of the judiciary⁹ in the appointment, promotion and dismissal procedures as well as in the performance of its functions, with a view to bring it in line with relevant international standards, including amending legislation which provides for criminal liability against judges for adopting an unjust judgement or other judicial act.

7. Please provide information on the measures taken to combat reported widespread corruption of public officials, especially in the judicial and penitentiary system.

8. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 18), please provide information on:

(a) Any amendments to the Criminal Code in order to make domestic violence a separate crime;¹⁰

(b) Efforts to create adequate conditions for women victims of violence, including domestic violence and trafficking, to make complaints;

(c) Measures taken to thoroughly investigate all allegations of domestic violence and trafficking, and to prosecute and punish all perpetrators; to establish a database on the number of cases of trafficking;¹¹ and on the implementation of the 2008 National Referral Mechanism for Trafficked Persons, during the period under review;
