2. In the event of a change in the law applicable to a given case prior to a final decision, the law most favorable to the perpetrator shall apply.

4. A law, which was expressly in force only for a determined time, shall be applicable to criminal offenses committed while it was in force, even if it is no longer in force, unless the law itself expressly provides otherwise.

Article 8
Manner of commission of criminal offenses

1. A criminal offense may be committed by an act or omission.
2. A criminal offense is committed by omission only when the perpetrator was obliged to undertake an act but fails to do so.

2. A criminal offense is prepared or attempted at the location where the perpetrator acted, as well as at the location where the perpetrator intended the consequence to occur.

Article 11
Act of minor significance

An act shall not constitute a criminal offense even though it has the characteristics of a criminal offense as defined by law if it is an act of minor significance. The act shall be deemed to be of minor significance when the danger involved is insignificant due to the nature or gravity of the act; the absence or insignificance of intended consequences; the circumstances in which the act was committed; the low degree of criminal liability of the perpetrator; or, the personal circumstances of the perpetrator.

Article 12

3. An act that is disproportionate to the degree of danger posed by an attack exceeds the limits of the necessary defense.
4. When the perpetrator exceeds the limits of necessary defense, the punishment may be reduced. When the perpetrator exceeds the limits by reason of strong trauma or fear caused by the attack, the punishment may be waived.

Article 13
Extreme necessity

1. An act committed in extreme necessity is not a criminal offense.
2. An act is committed in extreme necessity when a person commits the act to avert an imminent and unprovoked danger from himself, herself or another person which could not have otherwise been averted, provided that the harm created to avert the danger does not exceed the harm threatened.

3. When the perpetrator caused the danger through negligence, or exceeds the limits of extreme necessity, the punishment may be reduced. When the perpetrator exceeds the limits in exceptionally mitigating circumstances, the punishment may be waived.

4. There is no extreme necessity if the perpetrator was obliged by law to expose himself or herself to the danger.

Article 14 Violence or threat

1. An act committed under the influence of unbearable violence or unbearable threat is not a criminal offense. An act will only be considered to have been committed under influence of unbearable violence or unbearable threat if, when the danger ceases to exist, the person immediately reports the influence of unbearable violence or unbearable threat and the unlawful act to the competent authority.

An act will only be considered to have been committed under coercion if, when the danger ceases to exist, the person immediately reports the coercion and the unlawful act to the competent authority.

3. An act is not committed under coercion if, and to the extent that, the perpetrator could be expected under the circumstances to accept the danger, in particular because he or she caused the danger or because he or she was under a legal obligation to face such imminent force or threat of violence. In such circumstances the punishment may be reduced.

Article 16 Superior order

1. When a criminal offense has been committed by a person pursuant to an order of a government or of a superior, whether military or civilian, the perpetrator shall not be exempt from criminal liability unless:

2. A person who commits a criminal offense is considered to have diminished mental capacity if, at the time of the commission of a criminal offense, his or her ability to understand the nature and importance or consequences of his or her actions or omissions was substantially diminished because of the conditions in paragraph 1. of this Article. Such person is criminally liable but the court shall take these conditions into consideration when deciding the duration and the type of sanction or measure of mandatory treatment it imposes.

Article 19
Committing criminal offenses in a state of intoxication

A person is criminally liable if he or she, by use of alcohol, narcotics, or by another method, renders himself or herself in such a state that he or she cannot understand the significance of his or her own actions or omissions or control his or her own behavior, if prior to bringing himself or herself to such a state, such actions or omissions were intended or if he or she is negligent in relation to the criminal offense and the law provides for criminal liability for the negligent commission of this offense.

Article 20
Causal link

A person is not criminally liable if there is no causal connection between the action or omission and the consequences.

Article 21
Intent

1. A criminal offense may be committed with direct or eventual intent.

2. A person acts with direct intent when he or she is aware of his or her act and desires its commission.

3. A person acts with eventual intent when he or she is aware that a prohibited consequence can occur as a result of his or her act or omission and he or she accedes to its occurrence.

Article 22
Knowledge, intention, negligence or purpose

Article 23
Negligence

1. A criminal offense may be committed by conscious or unconscious negligence.

3. A person acts with unconscious negligence when he or she is unaware that a prohibited consequence can occur as a result of his or her act or omission, although under the circumstances and according to his or her personal characteristics he or she should or could have been aware of such a possibility.

Article 24
Liability for graver consequences

When the commission of a criminal offense causes consequences which exceed the intent of the perpetrator and the law has provided for a more severe punishment, the more severe punishment may be imposed if the consequence is attributable to the perpetrator's negligence.

Article 25
Mistake of fact

1. A person is not criminally liable if, at the time of committing a criminal offense, he or she is unaware of a characteristic of that act or he or she mistakenly believed that circumstances existed which, had they in fact existed, would have rendered the act permissible.

2. If a person's mistake is due to negligence, he or she is criminally liable for a criminal offense which has been negligently committed if the law specifically provides for criminal liability for the negligent commission of that offense.

Article 26
Mistake of law

1. A person who, for justifiable reasons, did not know or could not have known that an act was prohibited is not criminally liable.

2. If the mistake was avoidable, the person is criminally liable but the punishment may be reduced.

3. A mistake of law is avoidable if any person could have easily known that the act was unlawful or if the perpetrator, by reason of his or her profession, occupation or service was obliged to know the act was unlawful.

Article 27
Preparation of a criminal offense

1. Whoever intentionally prepares a criminal offense shall be punished only if expressly provided for by law.

2. If the law prescribes the punishment for the preparation of a certain criminal offense, the preparation of the criminal offense includes supplying with means or making available the means to commit a criminal offense; removing the impediments to the commission of a criminal offense; agreeing, planning or organizing with another person the commission of a criminal offense; as well as, other activities that create conditions for the direct commission of a criminal offense, but which do not constitute the act itself.

Article 28
Attempt

1. Whoever intentionally takes action toward the commission of an offense but the action is not completed or the elements of the intended offense are not fulfilled, is considered that he or she has attempted to commit a criminal offense.

2. An attempt to commit a criminal offense for which a punishment of three or more years may be imposed shall be punishable. An attempt to commit any other criminal offense shall be punishable only if expressly provided for by law.

3. A person who attempts to commit a criminal offense shall be punished as if he or she committed the criminal offense, however, the punishment may be reduced.

Article 29
Inappropriate attempt

The court may waive the punishment of a person who attempts to commit a criminal offense with inappropriate means or against an inappropriate object.

Article 30
Voluntary abandonment of attempt

1. The court may waive the punishment of a person for a punishable attempt of a criminal offense if such person voluntarily abandons the commission of a criminal offense which he or she has commenced, even though he or she is aware that according to all the circumstances he or she could continue the act or, if after the completion of such an act, he or she prevents the occurrence of the consequences.

2. The perpetrator shall be punished for those acts described in paragraph 1. of this Article which constitute another separate criminal offense.

COLLABORATION IN CRIMINAL OFFENSES

Article 31
Co-perpetration

When two or more persons jointly commit a criminal offense by participating in the commission of a criminal offense or by substantially contributing to its commission in any other way, each of them shall be liable and punished as prescribed for the criminal offense.

Article 32 Incitement

1. Whoever intentionally incites another person to commit a criminal offense shall be punished as if he or she committed the criminal offense if the criminal offense is committed.
2. Whoever intentionally incites another person to commit a criminal offense shall be punished as if he or she committed the criminal offense if the criminal offense is attempted but not committed.
3. Whoever intentionally incites another person to commit a criminal offense punishable by imprisonment of at least five (5) years and the offense is not even attempted, the inciter shall be punished for attempt.

Article 33 Assistance

1. Whoever intentionally assists another person in the commission of a criminal offense shall be punished more leniently than the perpetrator of the offense.
2. Assistance in committing a criminal offense includes, but is not limited to: giving advice or instruction on how to commit a criminal offense; making available the means to commit a criminal offense; creating conditions or removing the impediments to the commission of a criminal offense; or, promising in advance to conceal evidence of the commission of a criminal offense, the perpetrator or identity of the perpetrator, the means used for the commission of a criminal offense, or the profits or gains which result from the commission of a criminal offense.

Article 34 Criminal association

1. Whoever agrees, explicitly or implicitly, with one or more persons to commit or to incite the commission of a criminal offense that is punishable by imprisonment of at least five (5) years, and undertakes preparatory acts for the fulfillment of such agreement, shall be punished as provided for the criminal offense.
2. The court may reduce or waive the punishment of a person who is criminally liable as provided for in paragraph 1. of this Article if such person:
  - 2.1. voluntarily renounces the agreement;
  - 2.2. voluntarily undertakes actions to prevent the continuous existence of the criminal association or the commission of a criminal offense consistent with its goals; or
  - 2.3. voluntarily discloses knowledge of the agreement to the police while the planned criminal offense may still be prevented.

Article 35 Agreement to commit criminal offense

1. Whoever agrees with one or more other persons to commit a criminal offense and one or more of such persons does any substantial act towards the commission of the criminal offense, shall be punished as provided for the criminal offense.
2. For the purposes of this Article, the term "substantial act towards the commission of a crime", need not be a criminal act, but shall be a substantial preparatory step towards the commission of the crime which the persons have agreed to commit.

Article 36*Limits on criminal liability and punishment for collaboration

1. A co-perpetrator is criminally liable within the limits of his or her intent or negligence.
2. A person who incites or assists in the commission of a criminal offense shall be held criminally liable within the limits of his or her intent.
3. Personal circumstances including relations and capacities which may result in exemption from criminal responsibility, waiver of punishment, the existence of graver or lighter forms of the criminal offense or which have an effect on the determination of the punishment shall only be taken into account with respect to the person to whom they relate. However, if the personal circumstances which relate to the offender have an impact on a more severe or a more lenient punishment, and these circumstances constitute an element of the criminal offense, the co-perpetrator, inciter or assistant is liable for the punishment foreseen for the criminal offense when he or she knew about this circumstance, even if it did not relate to him or her.

Article 37*Criminal liability of legal persons

1. A legal person is liable for the criminal offense committed by the responsible person, who committed the offense by acting on behalf of the legal person and for its benefit or interest or to cause damage with that criminal offense.
2. The liability of a legal person under the paragraph 1. of this Article exists if the criminal offense of the responsible person is a result of:
  - 2.1. a power to represent the legal person, an authority to take decisions on behalf of the legal person or an authority to exercise control within the legal person; or
  - 2.2. lack of supervision or control by the person defined in sub-paragraph 2.1. of this paragraph that has made possible the commission of the criminal offence for the benefit of the legal person by a responsible person under its authority.
3. Pursuant to the conditions set out in paragraphs 1. and 2. of this Article, the legal person shall also be liable for criminal offenses in cases of the responsible person, who has committed the criminal offense but who was not sentenced for that criminal offense.
4. The criminal liability of the legal person does not exclude a responsible person from the criminal liability, who has committed, organized, incited or assisted in committing the same criminal offense.

CHAPTER III
PUNISHMENTS*Article 38*Purpose of punishments

1. The purposes of punishment are:
  - 1.1. to prevent the perpetrator from committing criminal offenses in the future and to rehabilitate the perpetrator;
  - 1.2. to prevent other persons from committing criminal offenses;

1.3. to provide compensation to victims or the community for losses or damages caused by the criminal conduct; and

1.4. to express the judgment of society for criminal offenses, increase morality and strengthen the obligation to respect the law.

Article 39 Types of punishments

1. The types of punishment are:

1.1. principal punishments;

1.2. alternative punishments; and

1.3. accessory punishments.

PRINCIPAL PUNISHMENTS

Article 40 Principal punishments

1. The principal punishments are:

1.1. punishment of life long imprisonment;

1.2. punishment of imprisonment;

1.3. punishment of a fine.

Article 41 Punishment of life long imprisonment

1. The law may provide for the punishment of life long imprisonment for the most serious criminal offenses committed under especially aggravating circumstances or criminal offenses that have caused severe consequences.

2. The law shall not prescribe the punishment of life long imprisonment as the only principal punishment for a particular criminal offense.

3. Life long imprisonment cannot be imposed on a person who at the time of committing the criminal offense was under twenty one (21) years of age or on a person who at the time of committing the offense had substantially diminished mental capacity.

Article 42 Punishment of imprisonment

1. The punishment of imprisonment may not be imposed for a term shorter than thirty (30) days or more than twenty five (25) years.

2. For criminal offenses for which the law foresees the punishment of life long imprisonment, the court can impose a punishment of imprisonment up to thirty five (35) years.

3. The punishment of imprisonment is imposed in full years and months and in cases where the term is up to six (6) months, in full days.

Article 43

Punishment of fine

1. The punishment of a fine may not be less than one hundred (100) European Euros (hereinafter "EUR"). The punishment of a fine may not exceed twenty five thousand (25,000) EUR, while in the case of criminal offenses related to terrorism, trafficking in persons, organized crime or criminal offenses committed to obtain a material benefit, it may not exceed five hundred thousand (500,000) Euro.

2. The judgment shall determine the deadline for the payment of a fine. The deadline may not be less than fifteen (15) days or more than three (3) months, but in justifiable circumstances, the court may allow the fine to be paid in installments over a period not exceeding two (2) years. The judgment shall also determine when the installments are to be paid and state that the privilege of paying by installments will be revoked if the convicted person fails to pay an installment on time.

3. If the convicted person remains unwilling or unable to pay the fine, the court may replace the punishment of fine with the punishment of imprisonment. When a punishment of fine is substituted for the punishment of imprisonment, twenty (20) EUR of the fine is calculated to equal one (1) day in prison. However, the punishment of imprisonment shall not exceed three (3) years.

4. If the convicted person is unwilling or unable to pay the full fine, the Court shall replace the balance of the unpaid fine with punishment of imprisonment as provided for in paragraph 3. of this Article. If the convicted person pays the balance of the fine, the execution of his sentence shall be stayed.

5. If the convicted person remains unwilling or unable to pay the fine, instead of imposing a punishment of imprisonment, the court may, with the consent of the convicted person, substitute an order for community service work for the fine. An order for community service work shall calculate eight (8) working hours of community service work for each twenty (20) EUR of the fine. The community service work shall not exceed two hundred forty (240) working hours.

6. A fine shall not be collected after the death of the convicted person.

Article 44

Replacement of imprisonment with punishment of fine

1. The court may, with the consent of the convicted person, replace the punishment of up to six (6) months imprisonment with the punishment of fine.

2. When the punishment of imprisonment is substituted for a fine, the court shall not be limited to the scale of the calculation provided for in Article 43 paragraph 3.

Article 45

Replacement of punishment with order for community service work

1. The court may, with the consent of the convicted person, replace the punishment of up to six (6) months imprisonment with an order for community service work.

2. When imposing an order for community service work, the court shall order the convicted person to perform unpaid community service work for a specified term of thirty (30) to two hundred forty (240) working hours. The probation service will determine the type of community service to be performed by the convicted person, designate the specific organization for which the convicted person will perform the community service, decide on the days of the week when the community service work will be performed and supervise the performance of the community service work.

3. The community service work shall be performed within a period specified by the court which shall not exceed one (1) year.

4. If, upon the expiry of the specified period, the convicted person has not performed the community service work or has only partially performed such community service work, the court shall order a term of imprisonment. One (1) day of imprisonment shall be ordered for every eight (8) working hours of community service that was not performed.

ALTERNATIVE PUNISHMENTS

Article 46

Alternative punishments

1. The alternative punishments are:

- 1.1. suspended sentence;
- 1.2. semi-liberty; and
- 1.3. an order for community service work.

2. When imposing a suspended sentence, the court may also impose:

- 2.1. an order for mandatory rehabilitation treatment; and
- 2.2. an order for supervision by the probation service.

Article 47

Purpose of suspended sentences

The purpose of a suspended sentence is to not impose a punishment for a criminal offense that is not severe when a reprimand with the threat of punishment is sufficient to prevent the perpetrator from committing a criminal offense.

Article 48

Suspended sentence

1. The court may impose a suspended sentence on the perpetrator in accordance with the provisions of this Code.

2. In imposing a suspended sentence, the court shall determine a punishment for the perpetrator of the criminal offense and at the same time order that this punishment shall not be executed if the convicted person does not commit another criminal offense for the verification time determined by the court. The verification period cannot be less than one (1) year or more than five (5) years.

3. Within a suspended sentence the court may order that the punishment be executed if, within a determined time, the convicted person does not return the material benefit acquired from the commission of the criminal offense, does not compensate for the damage caused by the criminal offense or does not perform another obligation provided for by provisions in this Code. The court shall determine a deadline for the performance of these conditions within the verification period.

4. When the court imposes a punishment of imprisonment or a fine, the court may impose a suspended sentence for both punishments or only for the punishment of imprisonment.

Article 49

Conditions for imposing suspended sentence

1. A suspended sentence may be imposed on a perpetrator of a criminal offense for which the punishment of imprisonment of up to five (5) years is provided for by the law.

2. A suspended sentence may be imposed on a perpetrator of a criminal offense for which the punishment of imprisonment of up to ten (10) years is provided by for the law if the provisions of mitigation of the punishment are applied.

3. A suspended sentence may be imposed on a perpetrator as foreseen in paragraph 1. and 2. of this Article when the court imposes a punishment of a fine or of imprisonment of up to two (2) years, either for a single offense or concurrent offenses.

4. When determining whether to impose a suspended sentence, the court shall consider, in particular, the purpose of a suspended sentence, the past conduct of the perpetrator, his or her behavior after the commission of the criminal offense, the degree of criminal liability and other circumstances under which the criminal offense was committed.

5. When the court imposes a punishment of imprisonment and a fine, the court may impose a suspended sentence for both punishments or for only the punishment of imprisonment.

Article 50

Revocation of suspended sentence due to newly committed criminal offense

1. The court shall revoke a suspended sentence if, during the verification period, the convicted person commits one or more criminal offenses for which a punishment of imprisonment of two (2) or more years has been imposed.

2. The court may revoke a suspended sentence if, during the verification period, the convicted person commits one or more criminal offenses for which a punishment of imprisonment of less than two (2) years or a punishment of a fine has been imposed, after considering all the circumstances related to the committed criminal offenses and the convicted person, and especially the similarity of the committed criminal offenses, their importance and the motives for committing the criminal offenses.

3. When revoking a suspended sentence, the court shall impose a single punishment for the criminal offense committed previously and the new criminal offense, in accordance with Article 76 of this Code and treat the revoked suspended sentence as determined.

4. If the court does not revoke a suspended sentence, it may impose a suspended sentence or a punishment of imprisonment or a punishment of a fine for the newly committed criminal offense. If the court imposes a suspended sentence for the newly-committed criminal offense, the court shall apply the provisions of Article 76 of this Code to impose a compound suspended sentence for both the previously committed and the newly committed criminal offense and it shall also determine a compound verification period which can be no less than one (1) year and no more than five (5) years, commencing on the day the sentencing decision becomes final. If the court imposes a punishment of imprisonment for the newly committed criminal offense, the period of time spent serving such term of imprisonment shall not be deducted from the verification period established by the suspended sentence for the previously committed act.

Article 51*Revocation of suspended sentences due to previously committed criminal offense

The court shall revoke the suspended sentence if, after imposing the suspended sentence, there is a final judgment establishing that the convicted person committed another criminal offense prior to the imposition of the suspended sentence and if the court determines that the suspended sentence would have not been imposed if that criminal offense had been known. In such a case, the provisions of paragraph 3. Article 50 of this Code shall apply.

Article 52*Revocation of suspended sentences due to failure to comply with conditions

If one or more conditions are imposed with a suspended sentence as provided for in paragraph 3. Article 48 and Article 56 of this Code and the convicted person fails to comply with the condition, or conditions, within the time determined by the court, the court may, within the verification period, extend the term for compliance with the condition or it may revoke the suspended sentence and execute the punishment provided for in the suspended sentence. If the court determines that the convicted person was unable to comply with the condition for justified reasons, the court shall waive the performance of that condition or replace it with another appropriate condition provided for by law.

Article 53*Deadlines for revocation of suspended sentences

1. A suspended sentence may be revoked during the verification period. If a convicted person commits a criminal offense requiring revocation of the suspended sentence during the verification period but it is established by a final judgment only after the expiry of the verification period, the suspended sentence may be revoked no later than one (1) year after the expiry of the verification period.

2. If a convicted person fails to comply with a condition imposed by the court as provided for in paragraph 3. of Article 48 and Article 56 of this Code within the time determined by the court, the court may revoke the suspended sentence no later than one (1) year after the expiry of the performance of obligations.

Article 54*Suspended sentence with order for mandatory rehabilitation treatment

1. The court may impose a suspended sentence with an order for mandatory rehabilitation treatment, in case that the convicted person is a first time offender and a drug addict or alcoholic, if the court, after reviewing the report of the probation service, determines that the primary factor motivating the criminal offense was related to his or her drug or alcohol addiction and that the successful treatment would minimize the risk of the commission of another criminal offense. The court shall state the period during which the mandatory treatment program should commence and when it should be completed. The period of mandatory treatment shall not be less than three (3) months and shall not exceed twelve (12) months.

2. The probation service shall supervise the rehabilitation treatment program.

3. The punishment will be deemed as served upon completion of the rehabilitation treatment program as required by the Probation Service.

4. If the convicted person withdraws from the rehabilitation treatment program, does not maintain contact with the Probation Service or does not perform obligations related to the order for treatment, the court may replace the previous obligation with a different one, extend the duration of the order for treatment or revoke the suspended sentence and order the execution of the punishment provided for in the suspended sentence.

Article 55

Suspended sentence with order for supervision by the probation service

1. The court may impose a suspended sentence with an order for supervision by the probation service if the court determines that the integration of the convicted person into society or compliance with any conditions imposed by the court will be better achieved through supervision by the probation service.
2. When imposing a suspended sentence with an order for supervision by the probation service, the court shall order the convicted person to maintain contact with the probation service. The court may also impose one or more of the conditions set out in paragraph 3. of Article 48 or Article 56 of this Code.
