Committee against Torture

List of issues in relation to the third periodic report of Tunisia*, **

Articles 1 and 4

1. Please indicate what measures have been taken to correct the apparent incompatibility of article 23 of the Constitution, which defines torture as a crime that cannot be time-barred, with the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which prescribes a 15-year time-bar for crimes of torture.¹ Please say whether the State party envisages the retroactive application of article 101bis of the Criminal Code, in accordance with its Constitution, in order to provide a sound legal basis for criminalizing crimes of torture committed before 2011.²

2. With regard to paragraphs 16 and 60 of the State party's additional updated report (CAT/C/TUN/3/Add.1), on the new article 101 bis of the Criminal Code, please indicate what measures have been taken to bring the definition of torture in this article into line with the one in the Convention. More particularly, please explain why punishment is no longer listed as one of the purposes for which torture is prohibited. Please also indicate what measures have been taken to remove the solitary reference to racial discrimination from the State party's definition of torture.³ With reference to paragraphs 19 and 112 of the State party's additional report and article 101 quater of the Criminal Code, please indicate what criteria are used to decide whether a public official or a person of equivalent status is acting in good faith in reporting an act of torture and is thus exempted from punishment and whether any such cases have already occurred.

* Adopted by the Committee at its fifty-sixth session (9 November-9 December 2015).

 The third periodic report of the State party was submitted in 2009 (CAT/C/TUN/3) and an additional report was submitted in 2014 (CAT/C/TUN/3/Add.1).

Article 2⁴

3. With regard to paragraphs 67, 74 and 178 of the State party's additional report, the previous concluding observations of the Committee,⁵ article 29 of the Constitution and article 13 bis of the Code of Criminal Procedure, concerning conditions of police custody, please specify what measures have been taken to:

(a) Expedite the adoption of bill No. 2013-13, which would amend article 13 bis of the Code of Criminal Procedure so as to reduce the duration of police custody to 48 hours.⁶ In this regard, please comment on reports that such custody is frequently extended, as well as on the numerous allegations of the police resorting to violence while holding people in custody;

(b) Avoid the systematic renewal of periods of custody through "requests for judicial assistance", especially in cases of persons suspected of terrorism;⁷

(c) Ensure that a person whose custody is extended is transferred to a remand prison, not kept in detention in a police station;⁸

(d) Ensure that persons who have been arrested are able to challenge the decision to place them in police custody or a decision to extend this.⁹ Please say how many such appeals have been registered and what the outcomes have been over the past five years;

(e) Guarantee to all persons deprived of their liberty, from the moment they are placed in custody, access to a lawyer of their own choosing or to free legal aid, including during interrogation.¹⁰ Please also say whether there are any plans to amend bill No. 2013-13, which would limit meetings between the lawyer and client to 30 minutes;¹¹

(f) In order that traces of torture or ill-treatment do not disappear, ensure that persons held in custody are notified promptly that they are entitled to request a medical examination by an independent doctor or a doctor of their own choosing¹² and that medical visits are not delayed in order to allow any traces of torture or ill-treatment to disappear.¹³ Also, please say how the State party ensures that such medical visits are carried out promptly, impartially and independently, in accordance with the Manual on the Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (Istanbul Protocol), and that the outcomes of the visits are duly communicated to judges, lawyers and the detainee's family,¹⁴

⁴ The questions raised in respect of article 2 may equally be asked in respect of other articles of the Convention, in particular article 16. As stated in paragraph 3 of general comment No. 2 (2008) on the implementation of article 2 by States parties, the obligation to prevent torture in article 2 is wide-ranging. The obligations to prevent torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment under article 16, paragraph 1, are indivisible, interdependent and interrelated. The obligation to prevent ill-treatment in practice overlaps with and is largely congruent with the obligation to prevent torture. In practice, the definitional threshold between ill-treatment and torture is often not clear. Please see also part V of this general comment.

(g) Strive to put a stop to the alleged use of practices such as humiliation, severe beatings, burning with cigarettes, threats against the individual's family, sexual abuse and the use of stress positions during periods in custody.¹⁵

With regard to paragraph 35 of the State party's additional report and article 130 of the Constitution, please describe all measures taken over the past five years to combat corruption in the judicial apparatus and the police, and indicate how many investigations into corruption have been carried out by the Good Governance and Anti-Corruption Commission, what the results of these investigations have been, and whether any convictions have resulted from them.²³ With reference to paragraph 46 of the additional report and article 120 of the Constitution, please say if the State party has passed the necessary laws to make the Supreme Council of Justice and the Constitutional Court operational, and if any steps have been taken to guarantee their

Article 3

13. With regard to paragraphs 102-107 of the State party's additional report, please provide updated statistics broken down by age, sex and nationality on the number of asylum applications received by the State party since the consideration of its last periodic report. 19. Please provide details of the training courses for members of the security forces on appropriate standards for the use of force, including during demonstrations.

20. Please indicate the number and content of courses that train medical staff working with persons deprived of their liberty to detect and document the physical and psychological sequelae of torture and to determine whether torture has actually occurred. Please also indicate whether the Manual on the Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (Istanbul Protocol) is covered in these courses.

(c) The death of Mohamed Ali Snoussi on 3 October 2014, following six days in Bouchoucha jail. Please comment on the allegations that he was brutally beaten by police officers and that, following his stay in custody, the prison refused to admit him on account of his particularly critical condition. 26. The State party emphasizes in its additional report that, in accordance with article 11 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, law enforcement officials are answerable to the public prosecutor and that, as a result, interrogations are under constant review by the public prosecutor's office (CAT/C/TUN/3/Add.1, para. 202). In view of the reports that questioning takes place with no lawyer or judge present and that detainees are thus at risk of torture and threats, please state what specific measures have been taken to ensure systematic monitoring of interrogations and persons in police custody.⁵⁰

27. Please indicate whether the organizations mentioned in paragraphs 256 and 257 of the additional report are allowed to visit all places of deprivation of liberty and have the right to speak freely with detainees. Articles 12 and 13

28. With regard to paragraphs 117, 213, 214 and 281 of the State party's additional report, please provide comprehensive data for the past five years, broken down by type of offence and investigating authority, on: (a) the number of complaints received by prosecutors or other competent authorities, or the number of investigation reports filed, involving such offences as attempts to commit acts of torture or ill-treatment, or the commission of such acts, and complicity or participation in such acts by law enforcement officials or with the consent or acquiescence of those officials; (b) the number of these complaints that have led to a criminal or disciplinary investigation; (c) the number that have been dismissed;⁵² (d) the number that have led to prosecutions; (e) the number that have led to convictions; and (f) the criminal and disciplinary sanctions that have been imposed, specifying the length of prison sentences. Please also indicate: for each year, the number of investigations into cases of torture and ill-treatment that led to ex officio prosecutions, including in places of detention where allegations of torture have been especially numerous, such as the police headquarters in Al-Gorjani and Kasserine, the detention centre in Bouchoucha and the Mornaguia and Borj al-Rumi prisons; please indicate also the number of cases of torture or ill-treatment reported by physicians after clinical examinations of detainees and the follow-up to their reports.

29. Please indicate what progress has been made with structural and legislative reforms to the competence of various internal security forces, including the intelligence services, and safeguards to ensure their neutrality.⁵³ Please say also what measures are planned to combat impunity in light of information to the effect that 70 per cent of approximately 500 complaints of violence perpetrated by public officials between 2011 and 2015 have been dismissed.

30. In view of reports that prosecutors and judges sometimes appoint the alleged perpetrators of acts of torture and ill-treatment, or their supervisors in the judicial police, to investigate complaints,⁵⁴ please indicate how the independence of the police, the inspection agencies of the Ministry of Justice and the National Security and National Guard Inspectorates is guaranteed during investigations, so that there are no reporting lines or institutional ties connecting the persons suspected of torture and the inspectors or investigators.⁵⁵ Please say how the relationship is established between the disciplinary agencies and the prosecution service in cases where it must be determined whether public officials have committed acts of torture or ill-treatment. Please say whether the public prosecutor is always informed of the opening and closing of disciplinary investigations concerning cases of torture or ill-treatment, or whether he or she is informed only when the inspection agencies consider that the facts warrant a criminal investigation. Please also clarify whether all officials who are suspected of committing acts of torture and ill-treatment are systematically suspended or reassigned during the investigation.

31. With regard to paragraphs 276 and 277 of the State party's additional report, please comment on allegations that when a person first appears before a judge, the latter sometimes takes no action even though he or she observes visible signs of torture on the victim's body.⁵⁶ In this respect, please indicate what measures have been put in place by the Inspectorate-General of the Ministry of Justice to monitor and sanction such deviant behaviour as well as the excessive delays in the handling of complaints of torture, noted by the State party itself in paragraph 117 of the additional report. Please also indicate what percentage of the cases listed in paragraph 117 of the additional report involved proceedings initiated ex officio by judges who observed signs of torture on an accused person, in particular after the period in police custody.

32. Please say whether the State party is contemplating the adoption of a prosecution strategy covering the complete chain of command that led to serious human rights violations during the revolution and the long lead-up to it, especially under the Government of Ben Ali.⁵⁷ With regard to the trials before military courts in Tunis, Le Kef and Sfax where former representatives of the State are being prosecuted for crimes committed during the uprising between December 2010 and January 2011, please comment on reports that victims are absent from proceedings⁵⁸ and that investigations, prosecutions and trials are being conducted in an apparently arbitrary manner.⁵⁹ Please say whether the State party has considered the possibility of ordinary civil courts retrying or reviewing cases concerning gross human rights violations that were previously tried before military courts, in accordance with the recommendation of the Special Rapporteur on the promotion of truth, justice, reparation and guarantees of non-recurrence.⁶⁰

33. With regard to paragraphs 234-241 and 285 of the State party's additional report, please indicate what specific measures are being considered to address the deficiencies mentioned in paragraph 241 as regards the investigation of complaints, in particular:

(a) To ensure the confidentiality and independence of the mechanism for filing complaints of torture and ill-treatment, particularly when the victims are deprived of their liberty;

(b) To protect complainants and witnesses from possible retaliation, taking into account the Committee's previous recommendations and reports of retaliation against complainants.⁶¹ Please also indicate the number of protective measures taken for victims of torture in relation to the number of requests for protection over the past five years;
