

As of 25 September, nearly 24,000 people have returned from the Dominican Republic since June 2015. Nearly 3,000 people were officially deported by the Dominican authorities. Informal settlements in Anse-à-Pitres, South-East Department are where the majority of returnees/deportees are currently staying. 2,833 people, 582 households are settled in 6 spontaneous camps, Tête à l'eau, Fond Jeannette, Parc Cadeau 1 & 2, Savane Galata and Maletchpe. The situation of returnees/deported people in Anse-à-Pitres remains precarious with needs for health, education, shelter and food.

Proposed response

- Prioritize relocation initiatives, help people to depart to communes of origin in Haiti.
- Specific activities (hygiene, food) to support structures already active in the area.
- Continuity of the mobile clinic for monitoring of specific cases.
- Durable solutions for relocated people and host communities. Reinforce the support in the regions of destination of relocated people.
