Third report to the Counter-Terrorism Committee

Introduction:

Following the adoption of Resolution 1373(2001) by the Security Council on 28 September 2001, the Government of the Republic of Uganda submitted a Report to the Counter-Terrorism Committee (CTC) pursuant to paragraph 6 of the Resolution on 29 April 2002.

The CTC agreed with the explanations in the Report but requested for further information on certain points. A number of issues raised were answered in the supplementary Report that was submitted on 20 October 2003. However, the CTC requested for further clarifications on a number of issues.

The present Report is a response to the questions that were raised by the Committee with regard to both the original Report of 29 April 2002 and the supplementary Report of 20 October 2003.

Sub-paragraphs 1 (a) and (b):

- CTC requested for:
  - Copies of the recently enacted Suppression of Terrorism Act. The correct title of the Act is "The Anti-Terrorism Act, No. 14 of 2002. A photocopy of the full Act is attached.
  - Any legislation amending that Act. The Act has not been amended.
  - Relevant provisions of the Penal Code. The relevant provisions of the Penal Code, Cap. 120 of the Laws of Uganda, 2000 Revised Edition include:-
    - S. 26 on Terrorism
    - S. 56-64 on Unlawful Society
    - S. 84 on Assembling for purposes of smuggling
    - S. 169-170 on offences in relation to uniforms
    - S. 220 on attempting to injure by explosive substances
    - S. 319 smuggling

However, other than s.26, the other provisions of the Penal Code, do not address themselves directly to terrorism and its financing. Copies of the relevant provisions are attached.

- Progress Reports on the signature by the President of the recently enacted Suppression of Terrorism Act and the study mentioned above.

(It should read: The *Anti-Terrorism Act). It was assented to by the President on 25 May 2002 and came into force on 7 June 2002. The study is being considered by the National Security Council and its views and position are awaited.

- Particulars of, and progress report on, the process of 'mainstreaming' the participation of financial institutions in the fight against terrorism.

Since August 2000, the Uganda Anti-Money Laundering Committee (UAMLC) composed of representatives of the Bank of Uganda; the Ministry of Finance, Planning and Economic Development; the Capital Markets Authority; the Ministry of Justice; the Directorate of Public Prosecutions; the Uganda Revenue Authority; the Uganda Bankers Association; the Uganda Institute of Bankers and the Uganda Police has been spearheading the anti-money laundering crusade in Uganda. The Committee has been working on the establishment of the legal and institutional framework for the combating of money laundering and the financing of terrorism in Uganda. It holds regular meetings.

The Bank of Uganda Anti-Money Laundering Guidelines which were issued to financial institutions in December 2002 are still in force. Parallel guidelines were issued to forex bureaux and they came into force on 1 September 2003.

On 21 January 2003, the Ministry of Finance, Planning & Economic Development of Uganda and the US State Department signed a Memorandum of Understanding where the latter would support the Intermittent Enforcement Team to establish and implement an anti-money laundering regime in Uganda. The US Treasury Department would provide assistance to Uganda in the development of legal foundations, policies and organisation in the areas of anti-money laundering, terrorist financing, organised crime and corruption and the capacity building of law enforcement and financial entities to help them prevent, detect, investigate and prosecute complex domestic and international financial crime. During the last quarter of 2003, the US Treasury Enforcement Team conducted comprehensive training sessions in Financial Investigative Techniques for investigators, prosecutors, the Uganda Revenue Authority, the Capital Markets Authority and the Ugandan financial sector in general.

Uganda government officials from different but relevant sectors have participated and continue to participate in a number of training programmes including the Mutual Evaluation Training Workshop in Bagamoyo, Tanzania, January 2003; Financial Sector Assessment Programme organised by the World Bank in Tanzania in 2002 and the Advanced Mutual Evaluator's Course in Anti-Money Laundering in Lusaka, Zambia, 26-29 January 2004.

A Financial System Stability Assessment on Uganda was undertaken by a joint IMF/World Bank Financial Sector Assessment Programme Mission in 2002. The Anti-Money Laundering and the Combating of the Financing of Terrorism Assessment was also undertaken to establish whether the Ugandan laws and regulations comply with the global standards for combating organised crime.

The Bank of Uganda is spearheading the reform and modernization of Uganda's Payment System. Between 2003 and 2004 improvements were made in electronic clearing, payments system oversight, payment technology, standards and the legal and regulatory framework.

Efforts have been made to strengthen the Anti-Narcotics and Anti-Fraud Departments and the Anti-Terrorism Units within the Uganda Police Force. The Ministry of Ethics and Integrity, Immigration Department of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and the Customs Department of the Uganda Revenue Authority have also been strengthened.

Though it may be inadequate in certain respects, the Anti-Terrorism Act is in place. It may be necessary to amend it to meet the new challenges. A more detailed Anti-Money Laundering Bill, which is intended to address among others, the role of financial institutions has been submitted to Cabinet and thereafter it will be tabled before parliament.

- Status of the policy document on money-laundering that was circulated at the end of 2001. What matters does it deal with and how best it is enforced?

A detailed explanation was given in the Supplementary Report of 20 October 2003. The policy document is not law and as such there are no penalties when it is not adhered to. However, these shortcomings will be addressed in the Anti-Money Laundering Bill mentioned above.

Among other things, the draft Anti-Money Laundering Bill proposes to bring into existence a Financial Intelligence Authority to co-ordinate policy and efforts to counter money-laundering activities. The Anti-Money Laundering Law will bring into existence the Financial Intelligence Authority Board, which will oversee the national strategy pertaining to Uganda's anti-money laundering activities/initiatives.

Sub-paragraphs 1 (c) and (d):

- What legislative provisions and procedures exist for monitoring suspicious financial transactions? Are financial institutions, other intermediaries (e.g. lawyers) and other natural or legal persons required to report suspicious transactions to the relevant authorities? What penalties apply to those who omit to report?

According to s. 40(1) of the Bank of Uganda Act, Cap. 51, every financial institution shall furnish the Bank of Uganda with all information that may be required by the Bank of Uganda for the proper discharge of its functions. S. 51 provides for offences and penalties for contravention of the provisions of the Act, making incorrect statements in documents submitted and making false replies to questions asked by Bank of Uganda for purposes of the Act.

According to s. 3 of the Financial Institutions Act, Cap. 54, a person shall not transact banking business, credit institution business or building societies business without a valid licence. Under s.4(2) the application for a licence shall include the name and address of the proposed financial institution; the directors; shareholders; nationality of the directors; nationality of the shareholders and qualifications, experience, nationality and other relevant particulars of the proposed management and staff among others.

S. 5 of the Act provides for factors to be considered before granting a licence. They include: the financial condition and history of the applicant, nature of business of the applicant and the competence and integrity of the proposed management. According to s. 6(5) of the Act, the Central Bank may grant a licence upon such conditions as are necessary.

Under s. 20, a financial institution shall keep accounts and records which show a clear and correct state of its affairs and explain its transactions and financial position to enable the Central Bank to determine whether the financial institution has complied with the Act. Under s. 26 financial institutions are required to furnish the Central Bank with all information and data of its operations in Uganda periodically. The Central Bank may periodically or at any time of its discretion inspect the books of accounts of the financial institutions. (see s. 27 thereof).

The Central Bank may take possession of a financial institution which is conducting business in a manner that is inconsistent with the Act or refuses to submit itself to the inspectors from the Central Bank. (See s. 30 of the Act).

The Anti-Money Laundering Bill is expected to make other useful provisions. It will require financial institutions, business and professions to implement certain internal administrative systems in order to keep detailed records of their customers. The financial institutions, businesses and professions will be required to report certain transactions above a specified amount as well as transactions that are suspicious. The said institutions will be required to train their employees to recognise and deal with suspicious transactions.

The Uganda Anti-Money Laundering Committee has established a sub-committee to oversee training and capacity building requirements. The training is intended for law enforcement agents, prosecutors, investigators, the banking fraternity and judicial officers.

The Accountants Act, Cap. 266 provides for requisition, control, disciplining, and maintenance of professional standards by professional accountants. This would require them not to get involved in or condone illegal financial transactions in the course of their business. The Advocates Act, Cap. 298 also provides for disciplinary control over advocates and their clerks for similar reasons.

The Money-Laundering Bill will provide a list of accountable persons. The list is likely to include advocates, notaries, accountants and other independent legal professionals and accountants; casinos; real estates agents; dealers in precious metals and gems; trust and company service providers; registrars of companies and land; Non-Governmental Organisations; churches and charitable organizations among others.

- What laws and practical controls and surveillance measures exist to ensure that funds and other economic resources collected for religious, charitable or cultural purposes are not diverted to other purposes, particularly to the financing of terrorism?

S. 5(3) of the Non-Governmental Organisations Statute No. 5 of 1989 provides for the establishment of the National Board for Non-Governmental Organisations, which is composed of representatives from the Ministries of Internal Affairs; Justice and Constitutional Affairs; Finance, Planning and Economic Development; Foreign Affairs; Local Government and the External and Internal Security Organisations among others.

No Non-Governmental Organisation can operate in Uganda before it is registered with the Board. The representation from the different Ministries and Institutions mentioned above is meant to ensure that the NGOs satisfy certain criteria including their origin and financing before they can be registered.

According to s.6 of the Statute, the functions of the Board include considering applications for registration of NGOs, guiding and monitoring them in carrying out their services and advising the Minister responsible for internal affairs on the general policy relating to their operations.

Under s. 9 of the Statute, the Board can revoke the certificate of registration of an NGO if the NGO does not operate in accordance with its constitution; contravenes any of the conditions or directions inserted in the certificate or in the opinion of the Board, it is the public interest to do so.

The Non-Governmental Organisations Registration (Amendment) Bill has been tabled before Parliament. It will provide for the monitoring of the activities and operations of NGOs by the Board. The Anti-Money Laundering Bill will list NGOs, churches and charitable organizations as accountable persons.

The NGO Regulations, S.I. No. 9 of 1990 provide for practical controls and surveillance measures to ensure that funds and other economic resources collected for religious, charitable or cultural purposes are not diverted particularly to the financing of terrorism. Every Organisation has to present a written work plan for approval by the Ministry responsible for planning and economic development. It should also provide two sureties acceptable to the Board, recommendations from Local Councils I, II and III and the Resident District Commissioner and a letter from a diplomatic mission of Uganda in the country of origin of the NGO or from a duly authorized government office in that country.

Regulation 12 clearly spells out special obligations of the NGOs especially those that may be prejudicial to the security of Uganda. They must have close and regular contact with the district authorities in all their activities.

Foreigners in the NGOs should produce a certificate of no criminal record. Annual returns of the NGO must include estimates and information on incomes and expenditure as specified under Regulation 15.

- Indicate the laws and procedures available to regulate alternative remittance systems, including systems of, or similar to, the kind known as hawala.

Under s. 4(2)(j) of the Bank of Uganda Act, Cap. 51, Bank of Uganda supervises, regulates, controls and disciplines all financial institutions. It ensures high standards of conduct and management throughout the banking system. (See s. 37(b). The Anti-Money Laundering Bill will provide for the regulation of cross boarder movements of currency or negotiable bearer instruments which do not pass through the normal banking procedures or Uganda's financial system.

- Whether Uganda has any generally applicable procedures for the freezing and provisional seizure of funds and assets relating to terrorism and its financing. Please outline any such procedures. Please distinguish between seizures occurring in the course of the investigations and confiscations ordered upon sentencing.

See explanation given in the Supplementary Report of 20 October 2003. More specific provisions are expected in the Anti-Money Laundering Bill. The Bill will provide for the seizure, freezing and forfeiture of assets in relation to money laundering.

Sub-paragraph 2 (a):

- Measures, both legislative and practical, preventing entities and individuals from recruiting, collecting funds or soliciting other forms of support for terrorist activities to be carried out inside or outside Uganda including, in particular:
  - the carrying out, within or from Uganda, of recruiting, collecting of funds and soliciting of other forms of support from other countries;
  - deceptive activities such as recruitment based on a representation to the recruit that the purpose of the recruitment is one (e.g. teaching) different from the true purpose and collection of funds through front organizations.
- How does Uganda control the establishment, and operations, in its territory, of paramilitary groups that have the potential to engage in terrorist activities?
- What measures does Uganda have in place to prevent terrorists obtaining weapons within or outside its territory, in particular small arms or light weapons? What is the legislation concerning the acquisition and possession, and import and export, of weapons?

The Uganda government has a mechanism in place to investigate such paramilitary groups that are likely to be potential terrorists, through establishing their intentions and motivating factors including those who encourage and support such groups financially and by other means.

The control measures in place include the following:

- The Uganda government initiated a police led public awareness campaign to involve the people in their security especially Community Policing. These programs are aimed at denying the terrorists grounds for recruitment. Other organs like Internal Security Organization (ISO), Joint Anti Terrorism Task Force (JAT) and Special Branch (SB) have a duty to detect and predict any paramilitary group in the country that has the potential to engage in terrorist activities.

- Establishing and maintaining friendly diplomatic relations with the neighbouring countries so as to deny such groups the chance of establishing bases on the neighbouring countries' territory and vice versa.
- The National Security Council Act, Cap. 301 provides for the establishment of the National Security Council in accordance with Art. 219 of the Constitution of the Republic of Uganda to advise the President on all matters relating to national security. S. 4(3) thereof provides for the Joint Intelligence Committee which is the technical committee appointed by the President and composed of the various security experts from security agencies. S. 6 provides for the District Security and Intelligence Committees while s. 8 provides for Sub-County Intelligence Committees.
- The Explosives Act, Cap. 298 restricts the manufacture, storage or possession of unauthorised explosives. No person shall import explosives without a permit. (see s. 9). The Firearms Act, Cap. 299 provides for the regulation and control of the manufacture, import, export, sale, repair, storage and possession of firearms and ammunition. They require registration and a certificate.
- The Anti-Terrorism Act of 2002 established a legal framework within which the counter terrorism effort is regulated. Under this law anyone engaged in the aiding, financing, harbouring and planning of terrorist activities commits an offence that carries a maximum penalty of death.
- According to the Amnesty Act, Cap. 294 of 2000, Laws of Uganda, all Ugandans involved in acts of a warlike nature in various parts of the country are granted amnesty. Pursuant to the provisions of the said Act, the Government of Uganda has made and continues to make peace with the various rebel groups. When such groups surrender, they hand over their weapons and ammunition to the government.
- With regard to armed criminals, sustained joint security operations by special task forces have been established with remarkable success in the recovery of illicit arms.
- The Government initiated a disarmament exercise in the Karamoja region which has yielded positive results. The exercise continues.
- The Government has mandated the destruction of obsolete and un-serviceable stockpiles and surpluses, seized or captured and voluntarily surrendered stocks of small arms and explosive ammunitions.
- The Government of Uganda has established an inter-ministerial body known as the Uganda National Focal Point on small arms and light weapons to facilitate coordination of action and policy to promote the implementation of the international, regional and sub-regional agreements and protocols on small arms which include:

- The Convention on the Prohibition of the Use, Stockpiling, Production and Transfer of Anti-Personnel Mines and on their Destruction, Ottawa, 8 September 1997. Uganda signed the Convention on 3 December 1997 and ratified it on 25 February 1999.
  - The United Nations Protocol Against the Illicit Manufacturing of and Trafficking in Firearms, their Parts and Components and Ammunitions.
  - The Bamako Declaration on an African Position on the Illicit Proliferation, Circulation and Trafficking in Small Arms and Light Weapons, signed on 1 December 2000.
  - The Nairobi Declaration on the Problem of the Proliferation of Illicit Small Arms and Light Weapons in the Great Lakes Region and Horn of Africa, signed on 15 May 2000.
  - The Nairobi Protocol for the Prevention, Control and Reduction of Small Arms and Light Weapons in the Great Lakes Region and the Horn of Africa, signed on 21 April 2004.
- The Government of Uganda has adopted a National Action Plan that will guide national action towards the prevention, combating and eradication of the problem of the proliferation of illicit small arms and light weapons. Under the plan, Government will among other things strengthen the capacity and training of law enforcement agencies to deal with the problem, review policy and legislation on firearms and explosives, improve stock piles management and conduct weapons collection and destruction programmes. The Plan also addresses strategies to reduce the demand for arms through development initiatives.
  - The Government of Uganda is seeking to strengthen the law and its enforcement. The Firearms Act and the Explores Act, are being reviewed with a view of repealing them and enacting a new law altogether. The new law will incorporate the requirements of the international instruments on small arms and light weapons.

Sub-paragraph 2 (b):

- Please describe the mechanism for inter-agency coordination between the authorities responsible for narcotics, financial tracking and security, with particular regard to border controls necessary to prevent the movement of terrorist groups.
  - There are joint security deployments at all borders (Exit and Entry Points) of the country. The borders are manned 24hrs a day by Police, immigration, Customs and other security agencies. These agencies are coordinated under Joint Security Committees headed by the Police.
  - The Anti Narcotics Department of Police is responsible for the countering of drug trafficking in the country. This department has officers at all Exit and Entry Points coordinating with other security agencies namely Internal Security Organization (ISO), Criminal Investigations Department (CID), Special Branch (SB), Military Intelligence (MI) and External Security Organization (ESO). The Intelligence services gather intelligence on the likely potential drug traffickers and then forward it to the Anti Narcotics Department for action. On the other hand the Criminal Investigation Department is responsible for prosecution of all culprits involved in drug trafficking.

- On financial tracking and security, it is the responsibility of the Anti Fraud Section (investigative department under the police) to work closely with customs personnel to track and identify persons involved in money laundering and illegal transfer of money across borders. However, the Anti Fraud Section also coordinates with the Bank of Uganda and other intelligence organs in the process of gathering and processing intelligence on money laundering and illegal money transfers. The Joint Anti Terrorism Task Force (JAT) coordinates all the above agencies in cases of suspected terrorist activity.
- Please describe the mechanism available in Uganda to provide early warning of anticipated terrorist activity to other States.
- Uganda has bilateral and other protocol arrangements at regional, sub-regional and international levels where information on terrorism threats is always shared.
  - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs liaises with all foreign missions accredited to Uganda in case there is information of terrorist threats in the country.
  - Uganda has a well-developed public awareness and sensitization campaign system whereby all citizens, must report any suspected terrorists in the shortest time possible.
  - The Joint Anti-Terrorism Task Force carries out periodic terrorist threat assessments by terrorist groups in the region.
  - Uganda has always encouraged the sharing of intelligence information between its intelligence/security services and those of its' neighbours and other friendly countries.

Sub-paragraph 2 (c):

- What provisions exist to exclude from Uganda asylum seekers, and others, who are persons of the kind mentioned in sub-paragraph 2 (c) of the Resolution?
  - Uganda is party to the United Nations Convention relating to the Status of Refugees, of 18 July 1951, the Protocol relating to Refugees of 31 January 1967 and the Convention Governing the Specific Aspects of Refugees in Africa of 10 September 1969. Its therefore bound by their provisions.

- Under Art. 189 of the 1995 Constitution of Uganda, refugee matters are a function of the Central Government. Matters relating to asylum seekers are handled by the Directorate of Refugees, Office of the Prime Minister.
- An Inter-Ministerial Committee known as the Refugee Eligibility Committee has been established. The Committee comprises of Internal Security Organisation (ISO); External Security Organisation (ESO); Ministries of Foreign Affairs; Local Government; Justice and Constitutional Affairs; Internal Affairs; Office of the Prime Minister and the United Nations High Commission for Refugees. The committee determines who qualifies to be granted a refugee status.

Sub-paragraph 2 (d):

- Please describe the legal and other measures available in Uganda to prevent the use of its territory for terrorist acts outside Uganda.

Legal Measures

- S. 51 of the Uganda Citizenship and Immigration Control Act, No. 3 of 1999 confers powers and duties on Immigration Officers including interrogation of persons who are about to enter or leave Uganda and prohibited immigrants. The Immigration Officer can also require a person who is in charge of a ship, aircraft, or train arriving from or leaving for any place outside Uganda to furnish a list of the persons on Board.
- S. 58 provides for the maintenance of a register in which the particulars of every person to whom an entry permit, a certificate of permanent residence or pass is granted. The National Citizenship and Immigration Board may for purposes of discharging its functions under this Act, at least once a year call and inspect the registers maintained under this Act.
- S. 61 provides for deportation of prohibited immigrants or persons whose presence in Uganda is unlawful. The procedure for deportation is clearly spelt out.
- S. 68 and s. 69 provide for the registration and control of aliens.
- The Anti-Terrorism Act 2002 defines terrorism and terrorists.

Other Measures

- A system of tight border security is in place to deter the entrance of wanted terrorists into the country. Uganda is currently developing a stop list of all wanted terrorists on all exit and entry points in order to enhance border security.

- The country is in the process of issuing National Identity Cards for its nationals so that terrorists who sneak into the country may easily be identified.

Sub-paragraph 2 (e):

- What is the competence of the courts of Uganda to deal with criminal acts of each of the following kinds:
  - an act committed outside Uganda by a person who is a citizen of, or habitually resident in, Uganda (whether that person is currently present in Uganda or not);

It would require extradition arrangements under the Extradition Act. See the explanation under sub-paragraph 3 (c) below.

- an act committed outside Uganda by a foreign national who is currently in Uganda ?

It would require extradition arrangements under the Extradition Act. See the explanation under sub-paragraph 3 (c) below.

Sub-paragraph 2 (f):

- Please provide a list of the bilateral and multilateral treaties on mutual assistance in criminal matters to which Uganda is party.

The bilateral arrangements have been concluded under the Extradition Act. See explanation under 3(c) below.

- The Anti-Money-Laundering Bill will require the courts or competent authorities in Uganda to cooperate with court and other competent authorities of other states in taking appropriate measures to provide assistance in matters concerning money laundering and other organised crimes including the exchange of information, joint investigations and court proceedings such as provisional measures, confiscation and extradition in accordance with the bill and any other international conventions, treaties, agreements or arrangements to which Uganda is a party.

- What is the legal timeframe within which a request for judicial assistance in criminal investigations or criminal proceedings (especially those relating to the financing or other support of terrorist acts) must be met and how long, on average, does it actually take in practice to implement such a request in Uganda?

There is no time limit. However, s.13 of the Extradition Act provides that where a person has been committed by court to prison, he/she has to be removed from Uganda within two months or else he/she may be discharged.

Sub-paragraph 2 (g):

- Please describe the mechanism for inter-agency co-ordination between the authorities responsible for narcotics control, financial tracking and security, in particular in regard to border control. (See answer to 2(b) above.
- The CTC would welcome progress reports on the creation of the planned East African security zone and on the introduction of a National Identity Card.
  - East African Community partner states have already embarked on regional cooperation between security services and police departments of member states through Inter-State Security Committee (ISSC), the East African police and defence chiefs cooperation.
  - Issuance of national identity cards to all citizens of Uganda of or above the age of 18 is provided for under s. 29 of the Uganda Citizenship and Immigration Control Act, No. 3 of 1999. S. 38 of the said Act provides for offences and penalties for failure to apply for a national identity card. Uganda is in final stages of issuing National Identity Cards for improvement of data collection, analysis and banking of data of all its citizens.

Sub-paragraph 3 (a), (b) and (c):

- Is there an institutional mechanism for implementing sub-paragraphs 3 (a), (b) and (c) of the Resolution?
  - Uganda has promoted international cooperative relationships including information sharing with countries concerned through existing channels among security agencies and through the Interpol framework. (See explanation under sub-paragraph 2(b) above). Uganda has continued to actively participate in regional and international fora on the combating of money laundering and the financing of terrorism. Uganda has been an active member of the East and Southern Africa African Anti-Money Laundering Group (ESAAMLG) and hosted the 6th Meeting of the Task Force of Senior Officials of the ESAAMLG and the 3rd Council Meeting of the ESAAMLG Ministers in Kampala 25-28 August 2003.
  - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has liaison arrangements through the Embassies with most of the leading countries engaged in the fight against terrorism and continues to exchange information with them on a regular basis.
  - Uganda has also strengthened its immigration and customs departments and all the Entry Points are manned by trained personnel.

Sub-paragraph 3 (c):

- What is the legal basis for extradition in Uganda? In particular:
  - Is it governed, in any respect, by legislation? If so, please outline the legislation. The Extradition Act, Cap. 117.
  - Is it contingent, in any respect, on the existence of bilateral treaties? If so, please provide a list of the countries with which Uganda has concluded relevant bilateral treaties.

According to s. 3(1) of the Extradition Act, Cap. 114 of 1964 Laws of Uganda (now s.4(1) of Cap. 117 of the Revised Laws of Uganda 2000), Uganda adopted the treaties entered into with other countries by the United Kingdom before Uganda became independent. Therefore a country to which part I of the Fugitive Offenders Act 1881 of the United Kingdom applied before the commencement of the Extradition Act in 1964 is a country to which Part I of the Uganda Extradition Act applies.

Under the Extradition Act (Arrangements) (Enforcement) Instrument S.I 103 of 22 July 1966, the Minister responsible for the operation of the Extradition Act listed the following countries to which Part I of the Act applies:-

Italy, Hungary, Haiti, France, Spain, Ecuador, Luxembourg, Switzerland, El Salvador, Uruguay, Guatemala, Colombia, Argentina, Monaco, Bolivia, Liberia, Rumania, Chile, Netherlands, San Marino, Yugoslavia, Belgium, Peru, Cuba, Panama, Paraguay, Greece, Finland, Czechoslovakia, U.S.A, Poland, Iraq, Germany and Israel.

According to the Extradition (Republic of India) Order, S.I. 129 of 16 July 1969, the provisions of Part I of the Extradition Act shall apply in the case of the Republic of India with effect from 3rd May 1969.

According to the Extradition (Reciprocal Backing of Warrants) Order, S.I. 235 of 1964 as amended by the Extradition (Reciprocal Backing of Warrants) (Amendment) Order, S.I No. 60 of 16 June 1967, the provisions of Part II of the Extradition Act shall apply to the Republic of Kenya and the United Republic of Tanzania.

An Extradition Treaty between the Republic of Sudan and the Republic of Uganda was signed on 19 March 1964 and was ratified by the Republic of Sudan in 1966 and the Republic of Uganda on 7 October 1988.

In addition to the above extradition arrangements efforts are being made to conclude a bilateral extradition arrangement with the Republic of Rwanda. A new bilateral treaty between the United States of America and the Republic of Uganda is being discussed.

Sub-paragraph 3 (d):

- The CTC would welcome a report, in relation to the relevant international conventions and protocols relating to terrorism, on the progress made by Uganda in:
- Becoming a party to the instruments to which it is not yet a party.

In the earlier Reports, Uganda provided a list of the instruments to which it is party. Efforts being made to ratify or accede to others.

- Enacting legislation, and making other necessary arrangements, to implement the instruments to which it has become a party.

Ratification or accession means that Uganda is bound by the provisions of the instruments. Uganda can only amend legislation which is in conflict with the provisions of the instruments it has ratified or acceded to. No conflict with the ratified international instruments has been observed.

Sub-paragraph 3 (e):

- Have the offences set forth in the relevant international conventions and protocols been included as extraditable offences in the bilateral treaties to which Uganda is party?

Uganda ratified or acceded to a number of international instruments relating to terrorism in October 2003 and yet the Extradition Act was enacted in 1964. Similarly, most of the bilateral extradition arrangements were entered into before October 2003. However, under the Extradition Act it is mainly people who commit political offences who may not be extradited.

Sub-paragraph 3 (f):

Please elaborate on the efforts made "to distinguish "terrorists" from "freedom fighters" and the manner in which that distinction will assist in the work of the Refugee Eligibility Committee.

A terrorist and terrorism are clearly defined under S.7(2) of the Anti-Terrorism Act. See also explanation under sub-paragraph 2(c) above.

Sub-paragraph 3 (g):

- The report states that claims of political motivation are not recognized as grounds for denial of requests for extradition of alleged terrorists. Is that a matter simply of practice or is it provided for by legislation?

This appears to have been a misstatement of the relevant law since the Extradition Act prohibits extradition for political offences.

- The CTC would welcome a progress report on the actions taken by Uganda in addressing the concerns expressed in paragraph 4 of the Resolution.
  - As indicated in the previous reports, Uganda is party to most of the relevant international instruments on terrorism.
  - Uganda is a member of the African Union (AU) and is committed to the implementation of the AU Plan of Action in prevention and combating terrorism which is enshrined in the following;
    - (a) The OAU Convention on the Prevention and Combating of Terrorism in Algiers, 14 July 1999. (Referred to as "The Algiers Convention").
    - (b) Plan of Action of AU High Level Inter-Governmental Meeting on the Prevention and Combating of Terrorism in Algiers, 2002.
