Part I—Preliminary

1 Short title

This Act may be cited as the Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012.

2 Commencement

This Act shall come into operation on a day to be fixed by Proclamation.

2A Objects of Act

The principal objects of this Act are:

- (a) to promote and improve gender equality (including equal remuneration between women and men) in employment and in the workplace; and
- (b) to support employers to remove barriers to the full and equal participation of women in the workforce, in recognition of the disadvantaged position of women in relation to employment matters; and
- (c) to promote, amongst employers, the elimination of discrimination on the basis of gender in relation to employment matters (including in relation to family and caring responsibilities); and
- (d) to foster workplace consultation between employers and employees on issues concerning gender equality in employment and in the workplace; and

Section 2B

(e) to improve the productivity and competitiveness of Australian business through the advancement of gender equality in employment and in the workplace.

2B Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Act:

- This Act requires various employers (relevant employers) to lodge reports each year containing information relating to various gender equality indicators (for example, equal remuneration between women and men).
- Those reports are available to the public, subject to some exceptions for information that is personal information, information relating to remuneration and information of a kind specified by the Minister.
- There is a Workplace Gender Equality Agency. Its functions include advising and assisting employers in promoting and improving gender equality in the workplace and undertaking research and programs for the purpose of promoting and improving gender equality in the workplace.
- There is a Director of Workplace Gender Equality, who manages the Agency.
- The Agency may review a relevant employer's compliance with this Act by seeking further information from the employer.
- If a relevant employer fails to comply with this Act, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means (for example, on the Agency's website or in a newspaper).

Part IVA—Reviewing compliance with this Act and consequences of non-compliance

18 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Part:

- The Minister will set minimum standards in relation to gender equality indicators, relevant employers and reporting periods.
- The Agency may review a relevant employer's compliance with this Act by seeking further information from the employer. The Agency may do this on a random basis.
- If a relevant employer fails to comply with this Act, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means (for example, on the Agency's website or in a newspaper).
- Examples of a failure to comply with this Act are a failure by a relevant employer to lodge a public report on time or to give the Agency information under section 19A.
- If the Agency proposes to name a relevant employer, the Agency must give the employer notice in writing of the proposal and the reasons for the proposal.
- Relevant employers failing to comply with this Act may not be eligible to compete for contracts under the Commonwealth procurement framework and may not be eligible for Commonwealth grants or other financial assistance.

19 Minister will set minimum standards in relation to gender equality indicators

- (1) Before 1 April 2014, the Minister will, by legislative instrument, set minimum standards in relation to specified gender equality indicators, specified relevant employers and specified reporting periods.
 - Note 1: See also section 33A of this Act.
 - Note 2: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.
 - Note 3: An instrument under subsection (1) may make different provision with respect to different relevant employers and different reporting periods: see subsection 33(3A) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.
- (2) An instrument under subsection (1) has no effect in relation to a reporting period unless it is made before the first day of that reporting period.

19A Agency may review compliance with Act

- (1) The Agency may, by written notice, require a relevant employer to give the Agency information:
 - (a) that relates to the employer's compliance with this Act or to the employer's performance against the minimum standards; and
 - (b) that is specified in the notice.
- (2) The notice must specify the period within which, and the manner in which, the information must be given.
- (3) A period specified in a notice under subsection (1) must be at least 14 days after the notice is given.

Note: Sections 137.1 and 137.2 of the Criminal Code create offences for providing false or misleading information or documents.

19B Relevant employer fails to comply with Act if employer gives false or misleading information

For the purposes of section 19D, a relevant employer is taken to fail to comply with this Act if:

Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012

- (a) the employer lodges a public report under section 13A and any information included in the report is false or misleading; or
- (b) the employer gives the Agency information under section 19A and the information is false or misleading.

Note:

If the employer does not have a reasonable excuse for the failure, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means: see section 19D.

19C Relevant employer fails to comply with Act if employer fails to improve against minimum standard

If:

- (a) a relevant employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of a reporting period (the base period); and
- (b) in a case where a minimum standard (the base standard) applies in relation to the employer and the base period—at the end of the base period, the employer fails to meet that standard; and
- (c) the employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of the second reporting period (the comparison period) after the base period; and
- (d) at the end of the comparison period, the employer's performance against the base standard has failed to improve from the employer's performance against that standard at the end of the base period;

then the failure referred to in paragraph (d) is taken, for the purposes of section 19D, to be a failure to comply with this Act.

Note:

If the employer does not have a reasonable excuse for the failure referred to in paragraph (d) of this section, the Agency may name the employer in a report given to the Minister or by electronic or other means: see section 19D.

19D Consequences of non-compliance with Act

(1) This section applies if a relevant employer, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with this Act.

Note: Examples of a failure to comply with this Act are:

Section 19D

- (a) a relevant employer fails to lodge a public report on time (see sections 13A, 13B and 17); and
- (b) a relevant employer fails to inform employees, shareholders or members of the employer that a public report has been lodged (see section 16); and
- (c) a relevant employer fails to inform employees and relevant employee organisations as required by sections 16A and 16B;
- (d) a relevant employer fails to give the Agency information under section 19A.

Naming employer in Agency report

- (2) The Agency may name the employer as having failed to comply with this Act, and set out details of the non-compliance, in a report under:
 - (a) subsection 12(2); or
 - (b) section 46 of the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013.

Naming employer in other ways

(3) The Agency may, by electronic or other means, name the employer as having failed to comply with this Act and set out details of the non-compliance.

Note: For example, the Agency may do this on the Agency's website or in a newspaper.

Prior notice to employer

- (4) If the Agency proposes to:
 - (a) name an employer in a report under:
 - (i) subsection 12(2); or
 - (ii) section 46 of the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013; or
 - (b) name an employer under subsection (3) of this section; the Agency must:
 - (c) give the employer notice in writing of the proposal and the reasons for the proposal; and

- (d) invite the employer to make written representations to the Agency about the proposal within the period of 28 days beginning on the day the notice is given; and
- (e) have regard to any written representations made by the employer within that period.

(5) If:

- (a) a relevant employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of a reporting period; and
- (b) the report is lodged within the time allowed by section 13B or 17;

then, during the period of 28 days beginning on the day the report is lodged, the Agency must not give the employer a notice under subsection (4) of this section in relation to the lodgement of that report.

19E Agency to offer relevant employers advice and assistance if employers fail to meet minimum standards

If:

- (a) a relevant employer lodges a public report under section 13A in respect of a reporting period; and
- (b) in a case where a minimum standard applies in relation to the employer and that reporting period—the Agency becomes aware that, at the end of that reporting period, the employer fails to meet that standard;

the Agency must offer to provide the employer with advice and assistance in relation to improving the employer's performance against that standard.
