Supplementary information provided by the Government of Barbados in response to the request of 15 November 2002 made by the Counter-Terrorism Committee (CTC)

Introduction

In keeping with its obligations with regard to the mandate contained in paragraph 6 of Security Council resolution 1373 (2001), the Government of Barbados submitted a comprehensive report on 24 December 2001. A supplementary report providing further clarification and additional information on a number of issues contained in the first report was submitted on 28 June 2002, as requested by the Counter-Terrorism Committee in its letter of 1 April 2002. The present submission constitutes the third response of the Government of Barbados to CTC and is confined to answering the specific questions raised by the Committee in its letter of 15 November 2002.

Request made by the Committee

1.2 Subparagraph 2 (a) of the resolution, inter alia, requires all States to suppress recruitment of members of terrorist groups. The first report from Barbados states that the Foreign Incursions and Mercenaries Act serves to prohibit the recruitment of mercenaries in Barbados. Could Barbados please explain whether recruitment of all persons, not only mercenaries, to terrorist groups is covered by this law and whether all terrorist activities come within the ambit of sections 5 to 7 of that Act. If not, how does Barbados intend to meet the requirement of subparagraph 2 (a)?

Response by the Government of Barbados

The Foreign Incursion and Mercenaries Act (Cap. 174) deals only with mercenaries and activities connected to mercenaries. Accordingly, an amendment will be made to the Anti-Terrorism Act in the very near future to meet the requirements of subparagraph 2 (a) fully.

Request made by the Committee

1.3 For effective implementation of subparagraphs 2 (d) and (e) of the resolution, a State must criminalize the use of its territory for the purpose of financing, planning and facilitating of terrorist acts against other States or their citizens even though no related terrorist acts have actually been committed or attempted. The CTC analysis suggests that current legal provisions do not meet this requirement entirely. If this analysis is correct, please comment on how Barbados intends to deal with this requirement.

Response by the Government of Barbados

The Barbados Government confirms that section 4 of the Anti-Terrorism Act, 2002-2006 covers entirely the requirements of subparagraphs 2 (d) and (e) that a State must criminalize the use of its territory for the purpose of financing, planning and facilitating of terrorists acts against other States or their citizens even though no related terrorist acts have actually been committed.

Request made by the Committee

1.4 Paragraph 3 of the resolution calls upon all States to become parties as soon as possible to the relevant international conventions and protocols relating to terrorism. CTC would be grateful to receive a report on the progress made by Barbados in becoming a party to those conventions and protocols to which it is not yet a party.

Response by the Government of Barbados

Since the submission of its supplementary report on 28 June 2002, the Government of Barbados has taken the following action with regard to the suppression of terrorism by becoming a party to the following:
