

* According to the Government, of the 27,000 Rakhine Buddhists and people from ethnic minority groups who were displaced after 25 August, over 24,000 have returned.

Population displacement to Cox's Bazar displayed in this map is based on information from the UN-led Inter Sector Coordination Group in Bangladesh.

With people still on the move and ongoing access restrictions, the UN is not currently able to verify numbers of people who remain internally displaced inside northern Rakhine. Arrows are indicative of some of the movements that have been taking place.
