Response of the Government of Sri Lanka to the Communication received from the Counter Terrorism Committee (CTC) dated 29 Nov. 2004

1. Implementation measures.

1.1 Money Laundering Act and the Financial Transactions Reporting Act

These two items of legislation are currently being finalized by the Central Bank of Sri Lanka in consultation with relevant line agencies. While the two drafts have reached an advanced stage of finalization, wide-ranging discussions are being held with key stake holders, such as the Banking and law enforcement sectors and the legal profession, with a view to improving the draft.

The US Treasury and the Central Bank co-hosted two seminars in June 2004 and February 2005. The Seminar/Workshop hosted by the US Treasury's Office of Technical Assistance (OTA) were designed to cater to Sri Lankan officials responsible for enforcing Money Laundering Laws and Countering Terrorist Financing. The participation in this Workshop included senior officials of the Central Bank, Ministries of Justice, Finance and Foreign Affairs, the Attorney General's Department, Police and Customs Departments, Officers of Securities and Exchange Commission, the Commission to investigate allegations of Bribery or Corruption and officers of the Legal Draftsman's Department, as well as representatives from licensed Commercial banks and licensed Specialized banks.

The Workshop covered a range of issues such as best practices covering receipt and analysis of reports, including data processing, Financial Intelligence Unit procedures for referral of cases to investigating agencies, Money Laundering Investigations and assets forfeiture. Particular attention was paid to all aspects of "know your customer principle" and need for "due diligence" in respect of transactions of banking and non-banking institutions. The regulatory aspects and the duties of investigation units of anti money laundering enforcement agencies were also discussed in detail.

The recommendations which were made at the conclusion of this workshop are being examined with a view to improving the draft Money Laundering and Financial Transactions Reporting Laws.

A Seminar on the draft legislation sponsored by the Bar Association of Sri Lanka was also held in September 2004, to engage the legal profession in an in-depth discussion on key issues relating to the draft legislation. These inter-actions are expected to have a positive impact on the final draft to be presented to Parliament.

Act to give effect to the International Convention for the Suppression of Financing of Terrorism

The draft Act giving effect to the International Convention for Suppression of Financing of Terrorism has been finalized and awaiting the final approval of the Attorney General, with regard to its consistency with the Constitution. Upon receipt of such approval the final draft will be submitted to the Cabinet of Ministers seeking approval for presentation to Parliament.

Immigration Law

There has been no further progress on the new Immigration Law since the last Report.

1.2. The question of a comprehensive law to give effect the UN Convention against Transnational Organized Crimes and Its Protocols is being pursued with the Ministry of Justice & Judicial Reforms which is in charge of this subject.

1.3. The Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act No.25 of 2002 is structured with a view, inter-alia, to giving effect to the Commonwealth Scheme for Mutual Legal Assistance in criminal matters, which on the basis of commonality of legislation in Commonwealth countries, dispenses with the requirement of a treaty for purposes of rendering mutual legal assistance. The Act also provides for Agreements to be entered into with non Commonwealth countries, for the purpose of rendering mutual legal assistance in criminal matters. However, Sri Lanka will, on case by case basis, consider requests for mutual legal assistance made by non-Commonwealth countries, even without such a treaty on an ad-hoc basis, where the requesting State and Sri Lanka are State Parties to a multilateral treaty which requires the rendering of such mutual assistance.

1.4. Progress report on Negotiations

Mutual Legal Assistance Agreements have been signed with Thailand and Pakistan while the Agreements negotiated with Hong Kong SAR and the Russian Federation are awaiting signature.

Several other negotiations including with the United Arab Emirates (UAE) are envisaged during the current year.

International Conventions on Terrorism

While Sri Lanka is a Party to ten out of the twelve Conventions in the field of the Suppression of Terrorism, it is still not a Party to the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material Convention and the Protocol to the Convention on Suppression of Unlawful Acts against the Safety of Fixed Platforms. This matter is still under examination.

2. Assistance and Guidance

The Central Bank of Sri Lanka is pursuing with the World Bank for assistance in respect of the proposed Financial Intelligence Unit. The assistance package would cover, inter-alia training of officers, financial assistance particularly in the purchase of appropriate software.

Moreover, the US Treasury officials have also assured the Central Bank that they would be conducting training programmes in the future on the proposed legislation, primarily to enhance knowledge on implementation.
